Official Records of the Human Rights Committee United Nations. Human Rights Committee,1991 The Finnish Yearbook of International Law 1998 Kari Takamaa,Martti Koskenniemi,2000-08-01 Despite its Finnish initiative and pedigrees The Finnish Yearbook of International Law does not restrict itself to purely Finnish topics On the contrary it reflects the many connections in law between the national and the international The Finnish Yearbook of International Law annually publishes articles of high quality dealing with all aspects of international law including international law aspects of European law with close attention to developments that affect Finland Its offerings include longer articles of a theoretical nature exploring new avenues and approaches shorter polemics commentaries on current international law developments book reviews and documentation of relevance to Finland s foreign relations not easily available elsewhere The Finnish Yearbook offers a fertile ground for the expression of and reflection on the connections between Finnish law and international law as a whole and insight into the richness of this interaction Economic, Social and Cultural Rights Asbjørn Eide,Catarina Krause,Allan Rosas,2001-06-01 The first edition of this text was a textbook on internationally recognized economic social and cultural rights While focusing on this category of rights it also analyzed their relationships to other human rights civil and political in particular This revised edition updates the information The International Criminal Tribunal for Rwanda 2000-2001 André Klip,2003 The Finnish Yearbook of International Law ,1998 Cassese's International Criminal Law Antonio Cassese,2013-01-31 The third edition of International Criminal Law expounds the general principles governing international crimes as well as the fundamentals of both substantive and procedural international criminal law bringing the political and human contexts to the fore Development-induced Displacement C. J. De Wet,2006 Some ten million people worldwide are displaced or resettled every year due to development projects such as the construction of dams irrigation schemes urban development transport conservation or mining projects The results have usually been very negative for most of those people who have to move as well as for other people in the area such as host populations People are often left socially and institutionally disrupted and economically worse off with the environment also suffering as a result of the introduction of infrastructure and increased crowding in the areas to which people had to move The contributors to this volume argue that there is a complexity and a tension inherent in trying to reconcile enforced displacement of people with the subsequent creation of a socio economically viable and sustainable environment Only when these are squarely confronted will it be possible to adequately deal with the problems and to improve resettlement policies Remedies in International Human Rights Law Dinah Shelton,2000 This is the first comprehensive treatment of the topic of remedies for human rights violations and reviews the jurisprudence of international tribunals on these violations It also provides a theoretical framework and a practical guide for lawyers judges and academics interested in human rights law
