Taste of the Nation Camille Bégin, 2016-06-15 During the Depression the Federal Writers Project FWP dispatched scribes to sample the fare at group eating events like church dinners political barbecues and clambakes Its America Eats project sought nothing less than to sample and report upon the tremendous range of foods eaten across the United States Camille Bégin shapes a cultural and sensory history of New Deal era eating from the FWP archives From ravioli the diminutive derbies of pastries the crowns stuffed with a well seasoned paste to barbeque seasoning that integrated salt black pepper dried red chili powder garlic oregano cumin seed and cayenne pepper while tomatoes green chili peppers onions and olive oil made up the sauce Bégin describes in mouth watering detail how Americans tasted their food They did so in ways that varied and varied widely depending on race ethnicity class and region Begin explores how likes and dislikes cravings and disgust operated within local sensory economies that she culls from the FWP s vivid descriptions visual cues culinary expectations recipes and accounts of restaurant meals She illustrates how nostalgia prescriptive gender ideals and racial stereotypes shaped how the FWP was able to frame regional food cultures as American

The Taste of Nostalgia Amy Cox Hall,2024-11-26 An exploration of gender race and food in Peru in the 1950s and 1960s and today From the late 1940s to the mid 1960s Peru s rapid industrialization and anti communist authoritarianism coincided with the rise of mass produced cookbooks the first televised cooking shows glossy lifestyle magazines and imported domestic appliances and foodstuffs Amy Cox Hall s The Taste of Nostalgia uses taste as a thematic and analytic thread to examine the ways that women race and the kitchen were foundational to Peruvian longings for modernity both during the Cold War and today Drawing on interviews personal stories media images and archival and ethnographic research Cox Hall considers how elite European descended women and the urban home were central to Peru s modernizing project and finds that all women who labored within the deeply racialized and gendered world of food helped set the stage for a Peruvian food nationalism that is now global in the twenty first century Cox Hall skillfully connects how the sometimes unsavory tastes of the past are served again in today s profitable and pervasive gastronostalgia that helps sell Peru and its cuisine both at home and abroad

Culinary Tourism
Lucy M. Long, 2004-01-01 Culinary Tourism is the first book to consider food as both a destination and a means for tourism The book's contributors examine the many intersections of food culture and tourism in public and commercial contexts in private and domestic settings and around the world The contributors argue that the sensory experience of eating provides people with a unique means of communication Editor Lucy explains how and why interest in foreign food is expanding tastes and leading to commercial profit in America but the book also show how tourism combines personal experiences with cultural and social attitudes toward food and the circumstances for adventurous eating     The Cultural Politics of Food, Taste, and Identity Steffan Igor Ayora-Diaz,2021-04-08 The Cultural Politics of Food Taste and Identity examines the social cultural and political processes that shape the experience of taste The book positions flavor as involving all the senses and describes the multiple ways in which taste becomes tied to local translocal glocal and cosmopolitan politics of identity Global case studies are included from Japan China India Belize Chile Guatemala the United States France Italy Poland and Spain Chapters examine local responses to industrialized food and the heritage industry and look at how professional culinary practice has become foundational for local identities The book also discusses the unfolding construction of local taste in the context of sociocultural developments and addresses how cultural political divides are created between meat consumption and vegetarianism innovation and tradition heritage and social class popular food and authenticity and street and restaurant food In addition contributors discuss how different food products such as kimchi quinoa and Soylent have entered the international market of industrial and heritage foods connecting different places and shaping taste and political identities

Stuck with Tourism Matilde Córdoba Azcárate,2020-10-20 Tourism has become one of the most powerful forces organizing the predatory geographies of late capitalism It creates entangled futures of exploitation and dependence extracting resources and labor and eclipsing other ways of doing living and imagining life And yet tourism also creates jobs encourages infrastructure development and in many places inspires the only possibility of hope and well being Stuck with Tourism explores the ambivalent nature of tourism by drawing on ethnographic evidence from the Mexican Yucatán Peninsula a region voraciously transformed by tourism development over the past forty years Contrasting labor and lived experiences at the beach resorts of Cancún protected natural enclaves along the Gulf coast historical buildings of the colonial past and maquilas for souvenir production in the Maya heartland this book explores the moral political ecological and everyday dilemmas that emerge when as Yucatán's inhabitants put it people get stuck in tourism's grip
