The Shark Club, Ann Kidd Taylor, 2018-06-05 A quintessential summer read, Marie Claire A warm and wonderfully vivid novel about taking second chances in life and in the sea. One summer day on the beach in Florida, two extraordinary things happen to Maeve Donnelly. First, she is kissed by Daniel, the boy of her dreams. Then, she is bitten by a blacktip shark. Eighteen years later, Maeve has thrown herself into her work as a world-traveling marine biologist, discovering more about the minds of misunderstood sharks. But when Maeve returns home to the legendarily charming and eccentric Hotel of the Muses, where she was raised by her grandmother, she finds more than just the blood-orange sunsets and key lime pies she's missed waiting for her. While Maeve has always been fearless in the water, on land, she is indecisive. A chance meeting on the beach with a plucky, irresistible little girl who is just as fascinated by the ocean as Maeve was growing up leaves her at a crossroads. Should she rekindle her romance with Daniel, the first love she left behind when she dove into her work? Or indulge in a new romance with her colleague Nicholas, who turns up in her hometown to investigate an illegal shark-finning operation? Set against the intoxicating backdrop of palm trees, calypso bands, and perfect ocean views, The Shark Club is a story of the mysterious passions of one woman's life: her first love and new love, the sea, and sharks that inhabit it.

Bear v. Shark Chris Bachelder, 2002-02-19 So it's kind of like a parlor game then. The question is apparently of Ancient Eastern extraction. It seems to be a gut thing. The answer just feels right and then you come up with reasons. Given a relatively level playing field, i.e. water deep enough so that a Shark could maneuver proficiently but shallow enough so that a Bear could stand and operate with its characteristic dexterity, who would win in a fight between a Bear and a Shark. In this brilliant satire of our media saturated culture, the sovereign nation of Las Vegas, the entertainment capital of the world, is host to Bear v Shark II. After a disappointing loss in the first matchup between the land and the sea, the bear is back with a vengeance and out for blood. All of America is obsessed with the upcoming spectacle so tickets are hard to come by. With an essay entitled Bear v Shark: A Reason to Live, young Curtis Norman wins a national writing contest and four tickets to the event. The Normans load up their SUV and embark on a road trip to Vegas. As they head cross country, the family is besieged by a dizzying barrage of voices: television and radio personalities, public service announcements, bear and shark pundits, Freudians, theologians, and self-published authors. In addition to the Bear v Shark fanatics, cultists, and resisters they meet at roadside gas stations and restaurants, overwhelmed by factoids, statistics, and ten-second debates, the Normans, along with the rest of country, can't seem to get their facts straight, much less figure out a way to actually communicate with one another. Sound bites and verbal tics predominate; misheard, misunderstood, and just plain mistaken information is absorbed, mangled, and regurgitated to hilarious effect, and the most inane subjects, from the disappearance of Dutch culture to the Shakespearean bias toward the bear, are vigorously and obsessively debated. These meaningless exchanges of misinformation leave Mr. Norman disenchanted, world-weary, and ambivalent about the impending show, but the family eventually makes it to Vegas for an apocalyptic and surprisingly emotional ending. Written in quick commercial-like segments that mirror the media, it satirizes Chris Bachelder's debut, a fiercely funny, razor-sharp novel about the odd intersection of zealotry and trivia about the barriers to human connection in a society that values entertainment above all else. Through a clever act of novelistic subterfuge, Bachelder makes us laugh at our penchant for absurd and useless information while drawing us into a dazzling spectacle of his own imagination.
