Reasons For Moving Darker And The Sargentville Notebook Poems:

Poems, 1992      Reasons for Moving, Darker & The Sargentville Not Mark Strand, 1992-01-28 These three titles were originally published separately Reasons for moving and Darker Atheneum and The Sargentville notebook Burning Desk T p verso      The Poem I Turn To Jason Shinder, Lili Taylor, Michael O'Keefe, 2008 This anthology of classic and modern poetry features works selected and read by celebrated American movie actors and directors      Collected Poems of Mark Strand Mark Strand, 2016-03-01 Longlisted for the 2014 National Book Award Gathered here is a half century's magnificent work by the former poet laureate of the United States and Pulitzer Prize winner whose haunting and exemplary style has influenced an entire generation of American poets Beginning with the limited edition volume Sleeping with One Eye Open published in 1964 Mark Strand was hailed as a poet of piercing originality and elegance and in the ensuing decades he has not swerved from his vision of how a poem should be shaped and what it should deliver As he entered the middle period of his career with volumes such as The Continuous Life 1990 Strand was already well known for his ability to capture the subtle music of consciousness and for creating painterly physical landscapes that could answer to the inner self And here the dark infinitive to feel Which would endure and have the earth be still And the star strewn night pour down the mountains Into the hissing fields and silent towns In his later work from Blizzard of One 1998 which won the Pulitzer Prize through the sly provocative riddles of his recent Almost Invisible 2012 Strand has delighted in reminding us that there is no poet quite like him for a dose of dark wit that turns out to be deep wisdom and self deprecation He has given voice to our collective imagination with a grandeur and comic honesty worthy of his great Knopf forebear Wallace Stevens With this volume we celebrate his canonical work      Dark Harbor Mark Strand, 1994-06-28 Pulitzer Prize winner Mark Strand gives us a poem in forty five sections that despite its wide range and shifting mood and tone is all of a piece Here Strand speaks candidly to the reader conversing offering urban wit and surrealist digressions that draw on our innermost sensations and the outermost reaches of our reality Is what exists a souvenir of the time Of the great nought and deep night without stars The time before the universe began When we look at each other and see nothing Is that not a confirmation that we are less Than meets the eye and embody some of The night of our origins A timeless pursuit of timeless questions Dark Harbor centers on uncertainty and the known family and isolation the possible and the real The poems in this book are easily recognizable as the world of one of our most interesting and influential poets      Reading Mark Strand J. Nicosia, 2016-04-30 Combining phenomenological ideals with rigorous close reading and antithetical criticism this study assesses the career evolution of the Pulitzer Prize winning former U S poet laureate while providing a methodology for analyzing other poetic careers      Almost Invisible Mark Strand, 2013-09-03 From Pulitzer Prize winner Mark Strand comes an exquisitely witty and poignant series of prose poems Sometimes appearing as pure prose sometimes as impure poetry but always with Strand's clarity and simplicity of style they are like riddles their answers vanishing just as they appear within reach Fable domestic satire meditation joke and fantasy all come together in what is arguably the liveliest most entertaining book that Strand has yet written The Anatomy of Influence Harold Bloom,2011-01-01 In this his most comprehensive and accessible study of influence Bloom leads readers through the labyrinthine paths which link the writers and critics who have informed and inspired him for so many years Self-Portrait with Dogwood Christopher Merrill,2017-01-16 In the course of researching dogwood trees beloved poet and essayist Christopher Merrill realized that a number of formative moments in his life had some connection to the tree named according to one writer because its fruit was not fit for a dog As he approached his sixtieth birthday Merrill began to compose a self portrait alongside this tree whose lifespan is comparable to a human s and that from an early age he s regarded as a talisman Dogwoods have never been far from Merrill s view at significant moments throughout his life helping to shape his understanding of place in the great chain of being entwined in his experience is the conviction that our relationship to the natural world is central to our walk in the sun The feeling of a connection to nature has become more acute as his life has taken him to distant corners of the earth often to war zones where he has witnessed not only humankind s propensity for violence and evil but also the enduring power of connections that can be forged across languages borders and politics Dogwoods teach us persistence humility and wonder Self Portrait with Dogwood is no ordinary memoir but rather the work of a traveler who has crisscrossed the country and the globe in search of ways to make sense of his time here Merrill provides new ways of thinking about personal history the environment politics faith and the power of the written word In his descriptions of places far and near many outside of the average American s purview a besieged city in Bosnia a hidden path in a Taiwanese park Tolstoy s country house in Russia a castle in Slovakia a blossoming dogwood at daybreak in Seattle the reader s understanding of the world will flourish as well Hopper Mark Strand,2009-03-25 Recent U S poet laureate Mark Strand examines the work of frequently misunderstood American painter Edward Hopper whose enigmatic paintings of gas stations storefronts cafeterias and hotel rooms number among the most powerful of our time Featured in a series of upcoming museum lectures Illustrations throughout On the Ground O'neil Van Horn,2023-12-05 A bold theoretical and pragmatic book that looks to soil as a symbol for constructive possibilities for hope and planetary political action in the Anthropocene Climate change is here Its ravaging effects will upend our interconnected ecosystems and yet those effects will play out disproportionately among the planet s nearly 8 billion human inhabitants On the Ground explores how one might account for the many paradoxical tensions posed by the Anthropocene tensions between planetarity and particularity connectivity and contextuality entanglement and exclusion Using the philosophical and theological idea of ground Van Horn argues that ground when read as earth ground as soil offers a symbol for conceiving of the effects of climate change as collective and yet located as communal and yet differential In so doing he offers critical interventions on theorizations of hope and political action amid the crises of climate change Drawing on soil science theopoetics feminist ethics poststructuralism process philosophy and more On the Ground asks In the face of global climate catastrophe how might one theorize this calamitous experience as shared and yet particular as interconnected and yet contextual Might there be a way to conceptualize our interconnected experiences without erasing critical constitutive differences particularly of social and ecological location How might these conceptual interventions catalyze pluralistic anti racist planetary politics amid the Anthropocene In short the book addresses these queries What philosophical and theological concepts can soil create How might soil inspire and help re imagine forms of planetary politics in the midst of climate change On the Ground thus roots us in a robust theoretical symbol in the hopes of producing and proliferating intersectional responses to climate change

The Oxford Book of American Poetry David Lehman, John Brehm, 2006-04-03 Here is the eagerly awaited new edition of The Oxford Book of American Poetry brought completely up to date and dramatically expanded by poet David Lehman It is a rich capacious volume featuring the work of more than 200 poets almost three times as many as the 1976 edition With a succinct and often witty head note introducing each author it is certain to become the definitive anthology of American poetry for our time Lehman has gathered together all the works one would expect to find in a landmark collection of American poetry from Whitman's Crossing Brooklyn Ferry to Stevens's The Idea of Order at Key West and from Eliot's The Waste Land to Ashbery's Self Portrait in a Convex Mirror But equally important the editor has significantly expanded the range of the anthology The book includes not only writers born since the previous edition but also many fine poets overlooked in earlier editions or little known in the past but highly deserving of attention The anthology confers legitimacy on the Objectivist poets the so called Proletariat poets of the 1930s famous poets who fell into neglect or were the victims of critical backlash Edna St Vincent Millay poets whose true worth has only become clear with the passing of time Weldon Kees Among poets missing from Richard Ellmann's 1976 volume but published here are W H Auden Charles Bukowski Donald Justice Carolyn Kizer Kenneth Koch Stanley Kunitz Emma Lazarus Mina Loy Howard Moss Lorine Niedecker George Oppen James Schuyler Elinor Wylie and Louis Zukosky Many more women are represented outstanding poets such as Josephine Jacobsen Josephine Miles May Swenson Numerous African American poets receive their due and unexpected figures such as the musicians Bob Dylan Patti Smith and Robert Johnson have a place in this important work This stunning collection redefines the great canon of American poetry from its origins in the 17th century right up to the present It is a must have anthology for anyone interested in American literature and a book that is sure to be consulted debated and treasured for years to come

International Who's Who in Poetry 2005 Europa Publications, 2004-08-02 The 13th edition of the International Who's Who in Poetry is a unique and comprehensive guide to the leading lights and freshest talent in poetry today Containing biographies of more than 4 000 contemporary poets world wide this essential reference work provides truly international coverage In addition to the well known poets talented up and coming writers are also profiled Contents Each entry provides full career history and publication details An international appendices section lists prizes and past prize winners organizations magazines and publishers A summary of poetic forms and rhyme schemes The career profile section is supplemented by lists of Poets

Laureate Oxford University professors of poetry poet winners of the Nobel Prize for Literature winners of the Pulitzer Prize for American Poetry and of the King s Queen s Gold medal and other poetry prizes      Faith and Doubt Patrice Vecchione,2007-04-03 A collection of poems from around the world that explores the many facets of faith and doubt      New Selected Poems Mark Strand,2007 More than twenty five years after the appearance of his first Selected Poems we at last have a magnificent new gathering of Mark Strand s work one that spans and celebrates his entire remarkable career to date From Sleeping with One Eye Open 1964 through the wonderful middle work that includes The Continuous Life 1990 and crowned by the Pulitzer Prize winning Blizzard of One 1998 and his most recent collection Man and Camel 2006 this book makes a crucial selection of Strand s always beautiful and by turns humorous and melancholy poems Over the decades Strand s identity as a poet has remained firm he is existential playful mysterious a poet of simple words and sentences that somehow add up to powerful universal experiences With his incantatory language and radiant commanding imagery he creates mythic scenes and vistas that however otherworldly are ultimately of this earth their underlying subject the pain and pleasure of being mortal Here is an essential compilation from one of the most beloved and honored American poets at work today without which no modern poetry collection is complete      Encyclopedia of American Poetry: The Twentieth Century Eric L. Haralson,2014-01-21 The Encyclopedia of American Poetry: The Twentieth Century contains over 400 entries that treat a broad range of individual poets and poems along with many articles devoted to topics schools or periods of American verse in the century Entries fall into three main categories poet entries which provide biographical and cultural contexts for the author s career entries on individual works which offer closer explication of the most resonant poems in the 20th century canon and topical entries which offer analyses of a given period of literary production school thematically constructed category or other verse tradition that historically has been in dialogue with the poetry of the United States      Against the Romance of Community Miranda Joseph,2002 An unexpected and valuable critique of community that points out its complicity with capitalism Community is almost always invoked as an unequivocal good an indicator of a high quality of life caring selflessness belonging Into this common portrayal Against the Romance of Community introduces an uncommon note of caution a penetrating sorely needed sense of what precisely we are doing when we call upon this ideal Miranda Joseph explores sites where the ideal of community relentlessly recurs from debates over art and culture in the popular media to the discourses and practices of nonprofit and nongovernmental organizations to contemporary narratives of economic transformation or globalization She shows how community legitimates the social hierarchies of gender race nation and sexuality that capitalism implicitly requires Joseph argues that social formations including community are constituted through the performativity of production This strategy makes it possible to understand connections between identities and communities that would otherwise seem disconnected gay consumers in the United States and Mexican maquiladora workers Christian right family values and Asian crony capitalism Exposing the complicity of social practices identities and communities with capitalism this truly constructive critique opens the possibility of genuine alliances across such differences

Man and Camel Mark Strand, 2006 A new collection of poetry celebrates the transience oddities and lasting beauty of life and its mysteries      Looking for Poetry , 2002-02-26 Carlos Drummond de Andrade one of the most revered Brazilian poets of the twentieth century was born in 1902 in a small mining town he died in Rio de Janeiro in 1987 His poems are for the most part bittersweet evocations of a small town childhood or more emblematically remorseful accounts of a lost world or simply discreet and sometimes ironic views of the way things are Songs from the Quechua are translated from Spanish version of the folk poetry of the Quechua Indians of South America collected and transcribed in the nineteenth century by priests and more recently by anthropologists They convey a degree of tenderness that is unusual in any poetry Rafael Alberti was born in 1902 in Spain and was in exile in Argentina during the Spanish Civil War He died in 1999 These fifty poems provide an ample introduction to one of the twentieth century's great poets From publisher's description      Fables of the Self Rosanna Warren, 2008 Fables of the Self traces ideas of imagined selfhood through the lyric poetry of classical Greece and Rome the modernist poetry of France and modern and contemporary English and American lyrics Rosanna Warren's work emerges from the tradition of British and American poet critics such as William Empson Donald Davie and Randall Jarrell Her readings of Sappho Virgil Baudelaire Melville Rimbaud Mark Strand and Louise Glück among others combine Helen Vendler's passionate attention to detail and something of Harold Bloom's panoramic view Warren opposes both the literalizing autobiographical approach to self in so called confessional poetry and the other extreme of avant garde erasures of self Framing her critical studies between a memoir of childhood and a concluding journal entry Warren has composed an occult autobiography showing the imagination as a transfiguring and potentially moral force
