Between Science and Religion Phillip M. Thompson, 2009-08-15 In exploring the role of Catholic intellectuals in engaging science and technology in the twentieth century this book initially provides a background context for this evolution by examining the Modernism crisis in the first chapter In order to unpack the subsequent evolution Thompson then concentrates in separate chapters on the distinctive contributions of four specific Catholic intellectuals Jacques Maritain 1882D1973 Pierre Teilhard de Chardin 1881D1955 Bernard Lonergan 1904D1984 and Thomas Merton 1915D1968 All of these intellectuals experienced some degree of official restraint in their efforts but through their distinctive intellectual trajectories they contributed to a different engagement of the Church with science and technology In the final chapters the book first reviews the changes within the institutional Church in the twentieth century toward science and technology Finally it then applies some key ideals of the four intellectuals to anneal and extend John Paul II s approach of critical openness to suggest how the Church can now engage science and technology

Hegel's Philosophy of the Historical Religions Bart Labuschagne,Timo Slootweg,2012-04-19 The chapters in this book offer an in depth and profound overview of Hegel s daring many faceted philosophical interpretations of the multifarious and dialectically interrelated historical religions including the Islam and the revealed religion of Christianity Catholicism and Protestantism

Theism Charles Taliaferro,Victoria S. Harrison,Stewart Goetz,2013 There are deep and pervasive disagreements today in universities and colleges and popular culture in general over the credibility and value of belief in God This has given rise to an urgent need for a balanced comprehensive accessible resource book that can inform the public and scholarly debate over theism While scholars with as diverse interests as Daniel Dennett Terry Eagleton Richard Dawkins Jrgen Habermas and Rowan Williams have recently contributed books to this debate theism as a concept remains poorly understood and requires a more thorough and systematic analysis than it has so far received in any single volume The Routledge Companion to Theism addresses this need by investigating theism s history as well as its relationship to inquiry in the sciences social sciences and humanities and to its wider cultural contexts The contents are not confined within the philosophy of religion or even within the more expansive borders of philosophy Rather The Routledge Companion to Theism investigates its subject through the lens of a wide variety of disciplines and explores the ramifications of theism considered as a way of life as well as an intellectual conviction The five parts of the volume indicate its inclusive scope I What is Theism II Theism and Inquiry III Theism and the Socio Political Realm IV Theism and Culture V Theism as a Way of Life The result is a well ordered and thorough collection that should provide a wide spectrum of readers with a better understanding of a subject that's much discussed but frequently misunderstood. As the editors note in their Introduction while stimulating and informing the contemporary debate a key aim of the volume is to open new avenues of inquiry into theism and thereby to encourage further research into this vital topic. Comprised of 54 essays by leading scholars in philosophy, history, theology, religious studies, political science, education and sociology, The Routledge Companion to Theism promises to be the most useful comprehensive resource on an emerging subject of interest for students and scholars.

New Developments in the Theory of the Historical Process, 2022-04-04. The first part of this book contains a selection of Leszek Nowak's 1943-2009 works on non-Marxian historical materialism which are published here in English for the first time. In these papers Nowak constructs a dynamic model of religious community, reconstructs historiographical assumptions of liberalism and considers the methodological status of prognosis of totalitarization of capitalist society. In the second part of the book new contributions to non-Marxian historical materialism are presented. Their authors analyze mechanisms of the oligarchization of liberal democracy, the democratization of real socialism and the development of early modern Ottoman and post-war Chinese societies.
