Religious Architecture in Latium and Etruria, C. 900-500 BC Charlotte Rose Potts, 2015 Religious Architecture in Latium and Etruria c 900 500 BC presents the first comprehensive treatment of cult buildings in western central Italy from the Iron Age to the Archaic Period By analysing the archaeological evidence for the form of early religious buildings and their role in ancient communities it reconstructs a detailed history of early Latial and Etruscan religious architecture that brings together the buildings and the people who used them

The Economy of Roman Religion Andrew Wilson, Nick Ray, Angela Trentacoste, 2023-06-07 This interdisciplinary edited volume presents twelve papers by Roman historians and archaeologists discussing the interconnected relationship between religion and the Roman economy over the period c 500 BC to AD 350 The connection between Roman religion and the economy has largely been ignored in work on the Roman economy but this volume explores the many complex ways in which economic and religious thinking and activities were interwoven from individuals to institutions The broad geographic and chronological scope of the volume engages with a notable variety of evidence epigraphic archaeological historical papyrological and zooarchaeological In addition to providing case studies that draw from the rich archaeological documentary and epigraphic evidence the volume also explores the different and sometimes divergent pictures offered by these sources from discrepancies in the cost of religious buildings to the tensions between piety and ostentatious donation The edited collection thus bridges economic social and religious themes The volume provides a view of a society in which religion had a central role in economic activity on an institutional to individual scale The volume allows an evaluation of impact of that activity from both financial and social viewpoints providing a new perspective on Roman religion a perspective to which a wide range of archaeological and documentary evidence from animal bone to coins and building costs has contributed As a result this volume not only provides new information on the economy of Roman religion it also proposes new ways of looking at existing bodies of evidence

Archiv für Religionsgeschichte, 2007 The Codrus Painter Amalia Avramidou, 2011-01-06 The Codrus Painter was a painter of cups and vases in fifth century B C E Athens with a distinctive style he is named after Codrus a legendary Athenian king depicted on one of his most characteristic vases He was active as an artist during the rule of

Pericles as the Parthenon was built and then as the troubled times of the Peloponnesian War began In contrast to the work of fellow artists of his day the vases of the Codrus Painter appear to have been created almost exclusively for export to markets outside Athens and Greece especially to the Etruscans in central Italy and to points further west Amalia Avramidou offers a thoroughly researched amply illustrated study of the Codrus Painter that also comments on the mythology religion arts athletics and daily life of Greece depicted on his vases She evaluates his style and the defining characteristics of his own hand and of the minor painters associated with him Examining the subject matter figure types and motifs on the vases she compares them with sculptural works produced during the same period Avramidou s iconographic analysis not only encompasses the cultural milieu of the Athenian metropolis but also offers an original and intriguing perspective on the adoption meaning and use of imported Attic vases among the Etruscans

Imperium and Cosmos Paul Rehak, 2009-05-20 Caesar Augustus promoted a modest image of himself as the first among equals princeps a characterization that was as popular with the ancient Romans as it is with many scholars today Paul Rehak argues against this impression of humility and suggests that like the monarchs of the Hellenistic age Augustus sought immortality an eternal glory gained through deliberate planning for his niche in history while flexing his existing power Imperium and Cosmos focuses on Augustus s Mausoleum and Ustrinum site of his cremation the Horologium Solarium a colossal sundial and the Ara Pacis Altar to Augustan Peace all of which transformed the northern Campus Martius into a tribute to his major achievements in life and a vast memorial for his deification after death Rehak closely examines the artistic imagery on these monuments providing numerous illustrations tables and charts In an analysis firmly contextualized by a thorough discussion of the earlier models and motifs that inspired these Augustan monuments Rehak shows how the princeps used these on such an unprecedented scale as to truly elevate himself above the common citizen
