Schmalzbauer, Kathleen A. Mahoney, 2018 The Resilience of Religion in American Higher Education documents a surprising openness to religion in collegiate communities Schmalzbauer and Mahoney develop this claim in three areas academic scholarship church related higher education and student life They highlight growing interest in the study of religion across the disciplines as well as a willingness to acknowledge the intellectual relevance of religious commitments The Resilience of Religion in American Higher Education also reveals how church related colleges are taking their founding traditions more seriously even as they embrace religious pluralism Finally the volume chronicles the diversification of student religious life revealing the longevity of campus spirituality Religion on Campus ,1963 Transforming Campus Life Vachel W. Miller,Merle M. Ryan,2001 How can campus life become more hospitable to the human spirit This book invites everyone concerned with the quality and meaning of campus life to engage in new conversations about the spiritual and religious dimensions of diversity leadership student development and learning This book challenges conventions in higher education that neglect religious identity and spiritual exploration while perpetuating disconnection competition and separation from our natural and social environments It offers innovative approaches for positive change while addressing the complex legal organizational and cultural issues involved in this conversation Grounded in original research and professional practice this collection includes reflections from college presidents campus leaders student affairs staff members and faculty

Fostering Religious Literacy Across Campus Miriam Rosalyn Diamond,2011-02 In June of 2008 teams from diverse campuses across the country came together to explore and create programs aimed at enhancing the religious literacy of their students The Society for Values in Higher Education sponsored this Institute for Religion on Campus and Community with funding from the Jesse Ball DuPont foundation This publication is a description of the diverse curricular and co curricular projects developed at these institutions Religious Activism on Campuses in Togo and Benin Frédérick Madore,2025-03-31 The interplay between religion and student activism at the universities of Abomey Calavi Benin and Lom Togo has often been overlooked although faith based organisations and student unions have coexisted since the 1970s Based on interviews with different generations of activists this book uncovers the neglected history of Christian and Muslim student associations on these campuses originally strongholds of leftist and secular ideologies It analyses the emergence of these groups under a Marxist Leninist regime in Benin and a one party dictatorship in Togo and explores the implications of growing religiosity for these public universities as secular institutions The history of these associations reveals the campus as a microcosm reflecting wider national socio political life while also highlighting the importance of translocal factors in shaping the internal dynamics of these groups Amidst the massification of university enrolments and rising graduate unemployment faith based associations have come to provide more than religious guidance Increasingly they offer a social curriculum providing a space for socialisation and a set of skills norms and moral values that complement the secular academic curriculum Equipped for the Work of Ministry Catholic Church,1996 Inspired by and based on Pope John Paul II s apostolic exhortation I Will Give You Shepherds Pastores Dabo Vobis Religious Minority Students in Higher Education Yoruba T.
