James, 2003 The importance of Paul Tillich for understanding not only Christian faith but all religious systems is still being realized Tillich is widely recognized as the theologian of the modern age or as many would have it the postmodern age For a new age of preoccupation with interreligious encounters wherein tolerance may be the watchword but the quest for truth and faith maintains Robison James reintroduces Tillich as an effective pedagogue for dealing with such encounters and for discovering in the clamor of so many noisy insistent religious systems a voice of truth James has reread Tillich with the specific purpose of discovering how we may deal with the many kinds of interreligious encounters that have been growing in frequency and importance Such encounters James points out range from reading about another religion to visiting the other's observances to dialogue with its members to simply puzzling over how my faith or nonfaith relates to this or that religion Tillich's lifelong existential encounter with religious systems and his perceptive appraisal of those systems James concludes can lead us to the best attitude for our own quest for a way of faith and life among so many ways clamoring for our attention Tillich's theology James suggests may best be understood as a synthesis of dialectics and paradox Further James contends the attitude most characteristic of Tillich's thought reciprocal inclusivism is to be recommended as the best attitude for our own quest for the word of truth among so many noisy voices Ways of Meeting and the Theology of Religions David Cheetham, 2016-02-24 Exploring the different points of view and tones of voice adopted in theology for the meeting of religions this book presents a contemporary philosophical and theological engagement with key issues of how different faiths might meet of comparative philosophy of religion of the use of aesthetics of inter religious ethics and issues relating to the self Providing a critical evaluation of contemporary liberal post liberal and conservative voices and an engagement with

Jamaica in the 21st Century Livingstone Thompson, 2016-11-16 When we forget we run the risk of reinventing the wheel Jamaica in the 21st Century Revisiting the 1st Decade is a challenge and a reminder lest we forget what ground has been covered in Jamaica's social political and religious life particularly at the onset of the 21st century Trawling through public discourse and debates in Jamaica the book distills and surfaces the main issues that captured the attention of the public gambling homosexuality and human sexuality education crime violence the church and politics to name a few Many of the issues that preoccupy us at this time are issues that have been addressed before It might be of use to familiarise ourselves with the earlier discussion This book then is a sort of archaeological and socio historical enterprise designed to aid memory and if possible to help us see the progress we have made and avoid reinvention of the wheel

African Traditional Religion Encounters Christianity John Chitakure, 2017-11-07 Right from the beginning of humankind God has never deprived a people of his grace and revelation In fact God uses people's environment and culture to communicate his will There is no single religion that can claim to have the exclusive possession of God's revelation for God is too immense to be confined within one faith Hence it was erroneous blasphemous and misleading for some of the early Christian missionaries to Africa to claim that they had brought God to Africa a mentality that implied the non existence of God in Africa before their arrival Of course God was already in Africa but the missionaries either failed to discern his presence or just disregarded the traces of his existence This book explores the religious beliefs practices and values of the indigenous people of Africa at the time of the early missionaries arrival with particular reference to the Shona people of Zimbabwe It also evaluates the extent of the missionaries' successes and challenges in converting Africans to Christianity It finally surveys how African Christians have remained attached to the indigenous religious beliefs that used to provide answers to their existential questions

Christian Encounters with Iran Sasan Tavassoli, 2011-04-30 The interface between the current Shi'ite landscape and Christian thinking is of the greatest significance for the shifting political and religious dynamics of the Middle East Sasan Tavassoli here examines Iranian Shi'ite thinkers encounters with Christian thought since the Islamic revolution of 1979 and provides insight into the cultural and intellectual climate surrounding Christian Muslim dialogue in contemporary Iran The literature on Christianity in Iran reveals a wide range of approaches and attitudes and Tavassoli demonstrates that traditional polemics are giving way to a more descriptive and subjective understanding of Christian thought. He also studies Muslim-Christian dialogue and research conducted and supported by governmental as well as non-governmental organizations and offers a close examination with interviews of the work of three prominent liberal religious intellectuals: Abdol Karim Soroush, Mostafa Malekian, and Mojtaba Shabestari. Placing contemporary Shi'ite thought in the broad historical context of pre and post-revolution Iran, Tavassoli relates concrete religious, cultural, and socio-political realities to the themes and orientations in the latest phase of the Shi'ite-Islam-Christianity encounter and offers fresh insight into the dynamism of contemporary Islam and the religious complexities of the Muslim world.

Postcolonial Theology of Religions Jenny Daggars, 2013-07-18. This original and ambitious book considers the terms of engagement between Christian theology and other religious traditions, beginning with criticism of Christian theology of religions as entangled with European colonial modernity. Jenny Daggars covers recent efforts to disentangle Eurocentrism from the meeting of the religions and investigates new constructive possibilities arising in the postcolonial context. In dialogue with Asian and feminist theologies, she reflects on ways forward for relations between the religions and offers a particularist model for theology of religions standing within a classical Trinitarian framework.

Christ's Church & World Religions Textbook Sophia Institute for Teachers, Encountering Religious Pluralism in School and Society Thorsten Knauth,

Religions and Dialogue Wolfram Weis, Katajun Amirpur, Anna Körs, Dörthe Vieregge, 2014. Responding to plurality is a demanding task. Nonetheless, it is one of the challenges that European countries are facing today. Over the past decades, the social and religious make-up of Central Europe has changed, and this has led to resentment and fears of mass immigration, social disintegration, and the emergence of parallel societies. However, we also find empirical proof that prejudice is lowest where there is direct contact. Therefore, there appears to be an increasing need for more dialogue in order to make the stranger less strange, the unknown known, the other no longer entirely other. This is equally true in academic research. There is a definite need yet research on questions of interreligious dialogue remains in its infancy throughout the various disciplines engaged in it. The project Religion and Dialogue in Modern Societies (ReDi) that started at the Academy of World Religions at the Hamburg University in 2011 seeks to contribute to remedying this deficit. Like the ReDi Project, this book looks at dialogue from different perspectives. It includes both theoretical and empirical approaches as well as a variety of theological viewpoints on a theology of plurality and dialogue from the perspective of different religions.

A Trinitarian Theology of Religions Gerald R. McDermott, Harold A. Netland, 2014-04-17. Named by the International Bulletin of Missionary Studies as an Outstanding Book of 2014 for Mission Studies. Over the last four decades, evangelical scholars have shown growing interest in Christian debates over other religions, seeking answers to essential questions: How are we to think about and relate to other religions? Be open to the Spirit and at the same time remain evangelical and orthodox. Gerald R. McDermott and Harold A. Netland offer critiques of a variety of theologians and religious studies scholars including evangelicals but also challenge evangelicals to move beyond parochial positions This volume is both a manifesto and a research program critically evaluating the last forty years of Christian treatments of religious others and proposing a comprehensive direction for the future It addresses issues relating to the religions in both systematic theology and missiology taking up long debated questions such as contextualization salvation revelation the relationship between culture and religion conversion social action and ecumenism It concludes with responses from four leading thinkers of African Asian and European backgrounds Veli Matti Kärkkäinen, Vinod Ramachandra Lamin Sanneh and Christine Schirrmacher      Globalisation Volume 2 Allan Boesak, Len

Hansen, 2010-09-01 In the course of three years the Globalisation Project has gathered experts from a variety of disciplines to reflect together on globalisation its origins its manifestations and consequences particularly for the Christian religion and for Christian churches today This second volume on this theme in the Beyers Naudé Series also represents a selection of papers that were presented at consultations of the Joint Project in this case during those held at Stellenbosch and Emden Germany in 2009      Religious Encounters in Transcultural Society David William Kim, 2017-11-30 This volume focuses on the various phenomena of religious encounters in a transcultural society where religion or religious traditions play a significant role in a multi cultural concept Religious Encounters in Transcultural Society is divided into three parts Islamic encounters with regional religions East Asian religious encounters and alternative religious encounters This book evokes the fact that religious encounters exist in every transcultural society even though they often remain hidden behind socio cultural issues The situation can be changed but one culture cannot harmoniously and always contain two or multi beliefs The issue of religious encounters mostly arises in the transnational process of religious globalization      Questions of Context John G.

Flett, Henning Wrogemann, 2020-07-21 Wrestling with questions of context is essential for how we understand mission theology and the embodiment of the Christian faith Showcasing many German missiological works available in English for the first time this longitudinal study tackles the history and dynamics of contextualization and sheds new light on the state of missiology today      Encounters for Change Dagmar Grefe, 2011-11-14 Weaving together insights from social psychology theology and experiences of interfaith religious leaders Dagmar Grefe develops practical strategies that support interreligious contact at a grassroots level She shows that by working together religious communities can more effectively address global and local problems that all people face poverty environmental destruction and armed conflict Grefe describes interreligious cooperation at work in local communities She develops tools that equip religious leaders with the interreligious competence needed for spiritual care and counseling with individual persons in crisis Cooperation is not only effective in the care for communities and persons in crisis it also heals distant and strained interreligious relationships In the process of working together perceptions of each other can transform      Transforming Post-Catholic Ireland Gladys Ganiel, 2016-02-25 Transforming Post Catholic Ireland is the first major book to explore the dynamic religious landscape of contemporary

Ireland north and south and to analyse the island's religious transition. It confirms that the Catholic Church's long-standing monopoly has well and truly disintegrated, replaced by a mixed post-Catholic religious market featuring new and growing expressions of Protestantism as well as other religions. It describes how people of faith are developing extra-institutional expressions of religion, keeping their faith alive outside or in addition to the institutional Catholic Church. Drawing on island-wide surveys of clergy and laypeople as well as more than 100 interviews, Gladys Ganiel describes how people of faith are engaging with key issues such as increased diversity, reconciliation to overcome the island's sectarian past, and ecumenism. Ganiel argues that extra-institutional religion is especially well-suited to address these and other issues due to its freedom and flexibility when compared to traditional religious institutions. She explains how those who practice extra-institutional religion have experienced personal transformation and analyses the extent that they have contributed to wider religious, social, and political change. On an island where religion has caused much pain from clerical sexual abuse scandals to sectarian violence to a frosty reception for some immigrants, those who practice their faith outside traditional religious institutions may hold the key to transforming post-Catholic Ireland into a more reconciled society.
