Foundation Subjects and Religious Education in the Primary School Peter D. Pumfrey, Gajendra K. Verma, 2018-12-07 First published in 1993 This volume brings together writings of specialists in the key components of both the whole and the basic curriculum It sets out to describe and discuss cultural diversity and the whole curriculum from a variety of perspectives and to consider how the concerns of ethnic groups may be addressed within the framework of the national curriculum To this end specialists in areas of the curriculum consider some of the challenges and describe promising practices in the secondary school. Much remains undecided concerning the structure, content, pedagogy, and assessment of many components of the primary school curriculum. Despite these considerations, the multicultural nature of the population and of schools will develop. These developments and their educational implications must be considered if the educational system is to respond adequately. Although the rules of the curricular game are still being negotiated in relation to a number of aspects of the curriculum, the editors have deliberately ventured into this controversial field. They do so because of the increasing importance of ethnic diversity of the school population and of the country.

The Palgrave Handbook of Race and Ethnic Inequalities in Education Peter A.J. Stevens, A. Gary Dworkin, 2019-07-05. This authoritative state-of-the-art reference work builds on its first edition to provide a cutting-edge systematic review of the relationship between race, ethnicity, and educational inequality. Studying 25 different national contexts drawn from every inhabited continent on earth and building upon material from the earlier edition, the work analyses educational policies, practices, and research on minority students, immigrants, and refugees. The editors and contributors explore principal research traditions from countries as diverse as Argentina, China, Norway, and South Africa, examining the factors promoting social cohesion as well as considerations regarding the use of international test score data. Seamlessly integrating findings of national reviews, the editors and contributors analyse how national contexts of race, ethnic relations shape the character and content of educational inequalities and deftly map out new directions for future research in the area. Global in its perspective and definitive in content, this one-stop volume will be an indispensable reference resource for a wide range of academics, students, and researchers in the fields of education, sociology, race, and ethnicity studies, and social policy. Law and Religious Diversity in Education Kyriaki Topidi, 2020-08-05. Religion is a prominent legal force despite the premise constructed and promoted by Western constitutionalism that it must be separated from the State in democracies. Education constitutes an area of human life that leaves ample scope for the expression of religious identity and shapes the citizens of the future. It is also the place of origin of a considerable number of normative conflicts involving religious identity that arise today in multicultural settings. The book deals with the interplay of law and religion in education through the versatility of religious law and legal pluralism, as well as religion's possible adaptation and reconciliation with modernity in order to consider and reflect on normative conflicts. It adopts the angle of the constitutional dimension of religion narrated in a comparative perspective and critically reflects on regulatory attempts by the State and the international community to promote new ways of living together.

International Handbook of the Religious, Moral and Spiritual Dimensions in Education Marian de Souza, Gloria Durka, Kathleen Engebretson, Robert Jackson, Andrew McGrady, 2007-06-04. Traditionally, spirituality has resided and been contained within religious frameworks, but while the links between the two areas are still acknowledged by many in the contemporary world, spirituality is perceived by some as an aspect of human life that is distinct from religion. Consequently many are searching for meaning within and without religious traditions today and seeking answers to ethical and moral questions that have been generated by the knowledge and technological explosion. One outcome is the renewed interest in the religious spiritual and moral dimensions of education throughout the life cycle. This International Handbook presents the research and professional practice of scholars who are daily engaged in the consideration of these dimensions in education. The result is a collection of essays which reflects the discipline in all of its internationality as it is today. Embedded within the chapters is also an agenda for the future where the religious moral and spiritual dimensions in education are proposed as an exciting and challenging way forward for educators at all levels in society. As well it offers a vision for the emergence of a peaceful and just world.

Religious Diversity and Education. Nordic Perspectives Geir Skeie, 2009. In the last ten years or so religious plurality has become higher on the agenda for religious education research in the Nordic countries. This attention to religious plurality partly reflects processes of globalisation that include both physical migration and communication of ideas and is seen across the world making it smaller. It also reflects the preoccupation of governments with social cohesion and as part of this intercultural education. In the curricula of the Nordic countries this is manifested in different ways setting also the agenda for parts of educational research. This book addresses issues related to the increasing religious plurality in the Nordic countries. These issues are a challenge to many religious groups including historically dominant Lutheran national churches both nationally and locally. They have also led to a reorientation in religious education research in the last decade. A rich variety of research perspectives are presented under three headings: Theoretical and methodical perspectives, The world of the students, Teachers and textbooks. Nordic religious education research here proves to be internationally oriented in terms of theoretical perspectives whilst also contributing to the debate through important empirical studies. Examples of issues covered in the book are unintended learning, dialogue, gender, life interpretation, spirituality, identity and values. In different ways all the contributions in this book shed light on the common theme of diversity and are based on a will to include diverse perspectives both on the actors and the material of the classroom as well as on the life world of young people The researchers represent different generations and different theoretical and methodological perspectives Engaging with Linguistic Diversity David Little, Déirdre Kirwan, 2019-06-13 Engaging with Linguistic Diversity describes an innovative and highly successful approach to inclusive plurilingual education at primary level The approach was developed by Scoil Bhr de Cail n Blanchardstown as a way of converting extreme linguistic diversity more than 50 home languages in a school of 320 pupils into educational capital The central feature of the approach is the inclusion of home languages in classroom communication After describing the national context the book traces the development of Scoil Bhr de s approach and explores in detail its impact on classroom discourse pupils plurilingual literacy development and their capacity for autonomous learning The authors illustrate their arguments with a wealth of practical evidence drawn from a variety of sources pupils and teachers voices are especially prominent The concluding chapter considers issues of sustainability and replication and the implications of the approach for teacher education The book refers to a wide range of relevant research findings and theories including translanguaging plurilingual and intercultural education language awareness and language learner autonomy It is essential reading for researchers and policy makers in the field of linguistically inclusive education

Issues in Religion and Education , 2015-02-04 Issues in Religion and Education Whose Religion is a contribution to the dynamic and evolving global debates about the role of religion in public education This volume provides a cross section of the debates over religion its role in public education and the theoretical and political conundrums associated with resolutions The chapters reflect the contested nature of the role of religion in public education around the world and explore some of the issues mentioned from perspectives reflecting the diverse contexts in which the authors are situated The differences among the chapters reflect some of the particular ways in which various jurisdictions have come to see the problem and how they have addressed religious diversity in public education in the context of their own histories and politics Contributors are Lori G Beaman Catherine Byrne Christine L Cusack Adam Dinham Lauren L Forbes St phanie Gravel Bruce Grelle Mathew Guest Anna Halafoff Kim Lam Solange Lefebvre Alison Mawhinney Damon Mayrl Asha Mukherjee Heather Shipley Sonia Sikka Geir Skeie Leo Van Arragon and Pamela Dickey Young Religious Schools in Europe Marcel Maussen, Floris

Vermeulen, Michael Merry, Veit Bader, 2017-10-02 The European Convention on Human Rights guarantees freedom of education including the opportunities to create and operate faith based schools However as European societies become more religiously diverse and less religious at the same time the role of faith based schools is increasingly being contested Serious tensions have emerged between those who ardently support religious schools in their various forms and those who oppose them Given that faith based schools enjoy basic constitutional guarantees in Europe the controversy around them often surrounds issues of public financing degrees of organisational and pedagogical autonomy and educational practices and management This volume is about the controversies surrounding religious schools in a number of Western European countries The introductory chapter briefly analyses the structural pressures that affect the position of religious schools outlining the relevant institutional arrangements in countries such as Denmark Germany France Ireland the Netherlands and Scotland The following chapters provide a detailed analysis of the discussions and controversies surrounding faith based schools in each country Finally the two concluding chapters aim to provide a bigger comparative picture with regard to these debates about religious education in liberal democratic states and culturally pluralist societies This book was originally published as a special issue of Comparative Education
