The Development of Southeastern Archaeology Jay K.

Johnson, 1993-02-28 Ten scholars whose specialties range from ethnohistory to remote sensing and lithic analysis to bioarchaeology chronicle changes in the way prehistory in the Southeast has been studied since the 19th century Each brings to the task the particular perspective of his or her own subdiscipline in this multifaceted overview of the history of archaeology in a region that has had an important but variable role in the overall development of North American archaeology Some of the specialties discussed in this book were traditionally relegated to appendixes or ignored completely in site reports more than 20 years old Today most are integral parts of such reports but this integration has been hard won Other specialties have been and will continue to be of central concern to archaeologists Each chapter details the way changes in method can be related to changes in theory by reviewing major landmarks in the literature As a consequence the reader can compare the development of each subdiscipline As the first book of this kind to deal specifically with the region it be will valuable to archaeologists everywhere The general reader will find the book of interest because the development of southeastern archaeology reflects trends in the development of social science as a whole Contributors include Jay K Johnson David S Brose Jon L Gibson Maria O Smith Patricia K Galloway Elizabeth J Reitz Kristen J Gremillion Ronald L Bishop Veletta Canouts and W Fredrick Limp
