Remembered With Pride The Recollections Of An Australian Golddigger:

Remembered with Pride Mark John Hammond, 1988 The Uses of Literacy in Colonial Australia Martyn Lyons, 2025-10-14 What did Australians read This book answers this question in terms of books rather than newspapers and considers the long nineteenth century interpreted as running from 1788 to 1901 In the wake of this primary question several others arise how did Australians acquire the books they read and how did readers in the outback overcome the handicaps of distance and remoteness Did they read for pleasure instruction self edification or spiritual sustenance More importantly how did Australian readers respond to the books they read The evidence is drawn from autobiographical sources in which individual readers related their personal reading experiences and responses At the same time the book pursues a second and related question What did Australians write Reference is made here not to the kind of writing we know as literature but to the non literary writing which cultural historians call ordinary writings These are the writings of everyday life represented in this book by diaries journals hand written newspapers and correspondence The focus is wide enough to include the everyday cultural practices of people of low social status and little education The writing practices of the partially literate including writing delegated to a third party have their place here In this double investigation the book draws on evidence from a cohort of 101 nineteenth century readers and writers They are a heterogeneous group of autobiographers coming from Melbourne and Sydney to rural Queensland and Western Australia They come from the city and the bush from coastal towns and the interior from sheep stations gold diggings and city offices They show us the perennial importance of Shakespeare and the Bible the popularity of the English canon the prestige of poetry and the importance of religious reading Books held the Empire together but as they travelled their meanings changed according to the local cultural environment This book registers such nuances in the Australian context The writing of this group is represented by some prolific diarists and correspondents In the late nineteenth century the eastern colonies became world leaders in sending letters The postal environment which made this possible is also examined Hill End Alan Mayne, 2016-10-18 The history of the Australian gold rushes is full of exaggeration the First This the Richest That the Largest Something Else Hill End unravels the myths surrounding the gold rushes in order to reveal the hidden histories of the Wiradjuri people of the graziers and convicts who occupied the Wiradjuri lands of the multicultural gold boom community and of the subsistence community that endured for generations after the boom had passed Hill End is perched high on the New South Wales Central Tablelands some 300 kilometres north west of Sydney The Hill End Historic Site which was proclaimed in 1967 is one of first cultural heritage sites to be reserved in Australia This is a book that digs past Hill End s gold rush facade into the lives of the people who lived through its history Australian Autobiographical Narratives: 1850-1900 Kay Walsh, Joy W. Hooton, 1993 Australian Autobiographical Narratives Volume 2 and its partner Volume 1 provide researchers with detailed annotations of published Australian autobiographical writing Both volumes are a rich resource of the European settlement of Australia Theis selection concentrates on the post gold rush period providing portraits of 533 individuals from amateur explorers to politicians from pioneer settlers to sportsmen Like Volume 1 it offers an intimate and absorbing insight into nineteenth century Australia

Spinning Tops & Gumdrops Edwin Barnard, 2018-03-01 Spinning Tops and Gumdrops takes us back to childhood in colonial Australia The delight of children at play is universal but the pleasure these children experience as depicted through the book's photographs is through their imagination skill and daring rather than through possessions Children play quoits and jacks hide and seek cricket with a kerosene tin for a wicket dress ups and charades They climb trees run races and build rafts to sail on the local waterhole The photographs show children happily absorbed in the play of their own making Being a child in colonial Australia was also tough It was a time when school yard disagreements were sorted out with fists and the loss of a little claret A time when children could view public hangings and premature death was frequent especially taking the very young and vulnerable though dysentery whooping cough or diphtheria The lasting impression left by the contemporary accounts photographs etchings and paintings of colonial children in Spinning Tops and Gumdrops is their possession of qualities of resilience self sufficiency and acceptance of their lot Perhaps it was through lack of choice or of knowing no other Nevertheless these were qualities that put them in good stead for the challenges many faced in their adulthood Interestingly these are qualities on which contemporary society still places a high value but which today seem a little more elusive Australian National Bibliography, 1988 Labour History, 1987 Australian Books in Print

Excerpt from Rough and Smooth Or Ho For an Australian Gold Field Perhaps I never told you why we left a comfortable home to travel to that distant region The reasons were simply these your father from having read a great deal about Australia had long looked with a wishful eye towards that great colony as a future home the fine climate increasing prosperity and great natural advantages of which were to be desired for his children All obstacles seemed removed to our trying this fancied elysium in the summer of 1852 by the ill health of your father requiring a sea voyage and by the cutting of our strongest tie to Canada in the death of my widowed mother 80 we went I was urged to remain at home while papa went first and tried it but as my home was where he was I would not consent and we were not separated Our party consisted of papa and myself my sister who was then a little girl my brother a young lad who would not be left behind both orphans G our only child three years of age her nurse Ellen and two young gentlemen who were going out to this new country under your father s care About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works Tom's Nugget James Frederick Hodgetts,1899
