Nussbaum,2001-08-27 Emotions shape the landscape of our mental and social lives Like geological upheavals in a landscape they mark our lives as uneven uncertain and prone to reversal Are they simply as some have claimed animal energies or impulses with no connection to our thoughts Or are they rather suffused with intelligence and discernment and thus a source of deep awareness and understanding In this compelling book Martha C Nussbaum presents a powerful argument for treating emotions not as alien forces but as highly discriminating responses to what is of value and importance She explores and illuminates the structure of a wide range of emotions in particular compassion and love showing that there can be no adequate ethical theory without an adequate theory of the emotions This involves understanding their cultural sources their history in infancy and childhood and their sometimes unpredictable and disorderly operations in our daily lives Remembrance of Things Fast Susan Ferraro,1990 The

London in Cinema Charlotte Brunsdon, 2019-07-25 Charlotte Brunsdon's illuminating study explores the variety of cinematic Londons that appear in films made since 1945 Brunsdon traces the familiar ways that film makers establish that a film is set in London by use of recognisable landmarks and the city's shorthand iconography of red buses and black taxis as well as the ways in which these icons are avoided She looks at London weather fog and rain and everyday locations like the pub and the housing estate while also examining the recurring patterns of representation associated with films set in the East and West Ends of London from Spring in Park Lane 1948 to Mona Lisa 1986 and from Night and the City 1950 to From Hell 2001 Brunsdon provides a detailed analysis of a selection of films exploring their contribution to the cinematic geography of London and showing the ways in which feature films have responded to and created changing views of the city She traces London's transformation from imperial capital to global city through the different ways in which the local is imagined in films ranging from Ealing comedies to Pressure 1974 as well as through the shifting imagery of the River Thames and the Docks She addresses the role of cinematic genres such as horror and film noir in the constitution of the cinematic city as well as the recurrence of figures such as the cockney the gangster and the housewife Challenging the view that London is not a particularly cinematic city Brunsdon demonstrates that many London set films offer their own meditation on the complex relationships between the cinema and the city
