Identity in Early Modern Rome Jill Burke, 2017-07-05 From the late fifteenth to the late seventeenth century Rome was one of the most vibrant and productive centres for the visual arts in the West Artists from all over Europe came to the city to see its classical remains and its celebrated contemporary art works as well as for the opportunity to work for its many wealthy patrons They contributed to the eclecticism of the Roman artistic scene and to the diffusion of Roman artistic styles in Europe and beyond Art and Identity in Early Modern Rome is the first book length study to consider identity creation and artistic development in Rome during this period Drawing together an international cast of key scholars in the field of Renaissance studies the book adroitly demonstrates how the exceptional quality of Roman court and urban culture with its elected monarchy its large foreign population and unique sense of civic identity interacted with developments in the visual arts With its distinctive chronological span and uniquely interdisciplinary approach Art and Identity in Early Modern Rome puts forward an alternative history of the visual arts in early modern Rome one that questions traditional periodisation and stylistic categorisation

Nature in the Middle Ages and the Early Modern Times Albrecht Classen, 2024-07-01 The study of pre modern anthropology requires the close examination of the relationship between nature and human society which has been both precarious and threatening as well as productive soothing inviting and pleasurable Much depends on the specific circumstances as the works by philosophers theologians poets artists and medical practitioners have regularly demonstrated It would not be good enough as previous scholarship has commonly done to examine simply what the various writers or artists had to say about nature While modern scientists consider just the hard core data of the objective world cultural historians and literary scholars endeavor to comprehend the deeper meaning of the concept of nature presented by countless writers and artists Only when we have a good grasp of the interactions between people and their natural environment are we in a position to identify and interpret mental structures social and economic relationships medical and scientific concepts of human health and the messages about all existence as depicted in major art works In light of the current conditions threatening to bring upon us a global crisis it matters centrally to take into consideration pre modern discourses on nature and its enormous powers to understand the topoi and tropes determining the concepts through which we perceive nature Nature thus proves to be a force far beyond all human comprehensibility being both material and spiritual depending on our critical approaches

Campbell,Stephanie R. Miller,Elizabeth Carroll Consavari,2016-03-23 Emphasizing on the one hand the reconstruction of the material culture of specific residences and on the other the way in which particular domestic objects reflect shape and mediate family values and relationships within the home this volume offers a distinct contribution to research on the early modern Italian domestic interior Though the essays mainly take an art historical approach the book is interdisciplinary in that it considers the social implications of domestic objects for family members of different genders age and rank as well as for visitors to the home By adopting a broad chronological framework that encompasses both Renaissance and Baroque Italy and by expanding the regional scope beyond Florence and Venice to include domestic interiors from less studied centers such as Urbino Ferrara and Bologna this collection offers genuinely new perspectives on the home in early modern Italy
