Ornament and Architecture Brown University. Department of Art,1980 Ornament T. L. J. Howard,Michael Snodin,Maurice Howard,1996-01-01 In a wide ranging and richly illustrated book the authors begin by tracing the ways ornament has been used over the last five centuries the rules of decorum and etiquette associated with it and the social moral and spiritual values it has represented They examine how architecture set the agenda for ornament in the Renaissance and how printed images carried a common vocabulary of ornament throughout the Western world They survey the personal side of ornament both in dress and in the domestic interior a private expression of the self and a public statement of social and cultural status They look at ornament in the public domain from the lavish decoration and symbolism of a town pageant to the logos of today s corporate industry and show how the ever evolving role of ornament is to invent and embody the collective spirit of communities at work and at leisure They conclude by discussing how the Western tradition of ornament has responded to and absorbed exotic African and Asian motifs Moresque motifs of the Near East and such familiar designs as the Paisley and Willow patterns Publications of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, 1964-2005 Metropolitan Museum of Art,2012-10-09 The present volume Publications of The Metropolitan Museum of Art 1964 2005 is a successor to a volume published by the Museum in 1965 entitled Publications of The Metropolitan Museum of Art 1870 1964 These two bibliographic volumes endeavor to list all the known books pamphlets and serial publications bearing the Museum s imprint and issued by the institution during the first 135 years of its existence through June 2005 The first volume was compiled by Albert TenEyck Gardner at the time an Associate Curator of American Paintings and Sculpture and the present volume has been compiled from the Annual Reports issued by the Museum during the relevant years Together the two volumes testify to the tremendous contributions made to knowledge by the curators and conservators of the Metropolitan and by the many other experts who have contributed to the Museum s exhibition catalogues Various issues of the Bulletin emphasize the great sweep of the Museum s acquisitions during these years and the exhibition catalogues a number of them Alfred H Barr Jr Award or the George Wittenborn Award testify to the continuity of the institution s dedicated program to enrich people s lives through knowledge of art This title was originally published in 2006 A Printed Icon in Early Modern Italy Lisa Pon,2015-03-23 In 1428 a devastating fire destroyed a schoolhouse in the northern Italian city of Forl leaving only a woodcut of the Madonna and Child that had been tacked to the classroom wall The people of Forl carried that print now known as the Madonna of the Fire into their cathedral where two centuries later a new chapel was built to enshrine it In this book Lisa Pon considers a cascade of moments in the Madonna of the Fire s cultural biography when ink was impressed onto paper at a

now unknown date when that sheet was recognized by Forl's people as miraculous when it was enshrined in various tabernacles and chapels in the cathedral when it or one of its copies was and still is carried in procession In doing so Pon offers an experiment in art historical inquiry that spans more than three centuries of making remaking and renewal

Ornament and Architecture Brown University, Department of Art Staff, 1980-04-01 Knowledge and the Early Modern City Bert De Munck, Antonella Romano, 2019-08-20 Knowledge and the Early Modern City uses case studies from the sixteenth to the eighteenth centuries to examine the relationships between knowledge and the city and how these changed in a period when the nature and conception of both was drastically transformed Both knowledge formation and the European city were increasingly caught up in broader institutional structures and regional and global networks of trade and exchange during the early modern period Moreover new ideas about the relationship between nature and the transcendent as well as technological transformations impacted upon both considerably This book addresses the entanglement between knowledge production and the early modern urban environment while incorporating approaches to the city and knowledge in which both are seen as emerging from hybrid networks in which human and non human elements continually interact and acquire meaning It highlights how new forms of knowledge and new conceptions of the urban co emerged in highly contingent practices shedding a new light on present day ideas about the impact of cities on knowledge production and innovation Providing the ideal starting point for those seeking to understand the role of urban institutions actors and spaces in the production of knowledge and the development of the so called modern knowledge society this is the perfect resource for students and scholars of early modern history and knowledge

Management and Resolution of Conflict and Rivalries in Renaissance Europe Jill Kraye, Marc Laureys, David A. Lines, 2023-08-14 This is the third and final volume of essays issuing from the Leverhulme International Network Renaissance Conflict and Rivalries Cultural Polemics in Europe c 1300 c 1650 The overall aim of the network was to examine the various ways in which conflict and rivalries made a positive contribution to cultural production and change during the Renaissance The present volume which contains papers delivered at the third colloquium draws that examination to a close by considering a range of different strategies deployed in the period to manage conflict and rivalries and to bring them to a positive resolution The papers explore these developments in the context of political diplomatic social institutional religious and art history

Prints and Books William Mills Ivins, 1926 Maiolica in the Making Catherine Hess, 1999 In the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries potters from the Italian village of Castelli d'Abruzzo created wares that constitute a final supremely pictorial phase of the tin glazed earthenware art known as maiolica Here Catherine Hess documents the Gentili Barabei archive a recently acquired collection of 276 documents relating to these celebrated ceramics to show how it illuminates the production of maiolica

Art of the Royal Court Wolfram Koeppe, Anna Maria Giusti, Cristina Acidini Luchinat, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2008 In the royal and princely courts of Europe artworks made of multicolored semiprecious stones were passionately coveted objects Known as pietre dure or hardstones this type of artistic expression includes paintings in stone which were composed of intricately cut separate pieces that were made into magnificent tabetops cabinets and wall decorations Other works included vessels and ornaments carved with virtuosic skill from a single piece of rare and brilliant lapis lazuli chalcedony jasper or similarly prized substance exquisite objects such as boxes clocks and jewelry and portraits of nobles sculpted in variously colored stones Derived from ancient Roman decorative stonework the art of pietre dure was developed in Renaissance Florence where the manufacture of such objects was enthusiastically sponsored by Medici princes Ideally suited for ostentatious display the works sent an unmistakable message of wealth and political might that was understood in centers of power everywhere From Italy the medium spread across Europeto Prague Madrid Naples Paris and later Saint Petersburg Precious and fragile pietre dure objects are rarely brought together in large numbers This richly illustrated catalogue contains more than 150 masterworks from across Europe dating from five centuries including almost every artistic use of semiprecious stone during this time as well as some of the finest examples of the medium Eight essays by European and American experts discuss the individualized development of pietre dure in every European region the latest developments in scholarship the interrelationships between art and dynastic politics and between cultures and a variety of techniques used to produce these luxurious masterworks Metropolitan Museum of Art website Nuremberg, a Renaissance City, 1500-1618 Jeffrey Chipps Smith, 1983
