Animation in China Sean Macdonald, 2015-11-06 By the turn of the 21st century animation production has grown to thousands of hours a year in the People's Republic of China PRC Despite this and unlike American blockbuster productions and the diverse genres of Japanese anime much animation from the PRC remains relatively unknown This book is an historical and theoretical study of animation in the PRC Although the Wan Brothers produced the first feature length animated film in 1941 the industry as we know it today truly began in the 1950s at the Shanghai Animation Film Studio SAFS which remained the sole animation studio until the 1980s Considering animation in China as a convergence of the institutions of education fine arts literature popular culture and film the book takes comparative approaches that link SAFS animation to contemporary cultural production including American and Japanese animation Pop Art and mass media theory Through readings of classic films such as Princess Iron Fan Upheaval in Heaven Princess Peacock and Nezha Conquers the Dragon King this study represents a revisionist history of animation in the PRC as a form of postmodernism with Chinese characteristics As a theoretical exploration of animation in the People's Republic of China this book will appeal greatly to students and scholars of animation film studies Chinese studies cultural studies political and cultural theory

Creativity and Its Discontents Laikwan Pang, 2012 Laikwan Pang offers a complex critical analysis of creativity creative industries and the impact of Western copyright laws on creativity in China A History of Contemporary Chinese Art Yan Zhou, 2020-07-14 Chinese art has experienced its most profound metamorphosis since the early 1950s transforming from humble realism to socialist realism from revolutionary art to critical realism then avant garde movement and globalized Chinese art With a hybrid mix of Chinese philosophy imported but revised Marxist ideology and western humanities Chinese artists have created an alternative approach after a great ideological and aesthetic transition in the 1980s toward its own contemporaneity though interacting and intertwining with the art of rest of the world This book will investigate from the perspective of an activist critic and historian who grew up prior to and participated in the great transition and then researched and taught the subject the evolution of Chinese art in modern and contemporary times The volume will be a comprehensive and insightful history of the one of the most sophisticated and unparalleled artistic and cultural phenomena in the modern world

The Book of Politics Michael Dutton, 2024-07-05 In The Book of Politics Michael Dutton offers an affective theorization of the political and a political theorization of affect Drawing on Western and Chinese social theory and practice Dutton rethinks Carl Schmitt's insistence that the political can be thought of only within the antagonistic pairing of friend and enemy Dutton shows how the power of the friend enemy binary must be understood by conceptualizing the political as the channeling harnessing and transforming of affective energy flows in relation to that binary Given this affective nature of politics Dutton contends that to rethink the political means moving away from a political science toward an art of the political Such an art highlights fluidity and pulls away from Eurocentric political theory requiring a conceptualization of the political as global He juxtaposes ancient Chinese cosmology medicine and Maoism against the monuments of early capitalist modernity such as the Crystal Palace and the Eiffel Tower to highlight the differences in political investments and intensities From the Chinese revolution to the global rise of right wing movements Dutton rethinks politics in the contemporary world

Art in Turmoil: The Chinese Cultural Revolution, 1966-76 Richard King, 2010-07-01 This book decodes the rhetoric of China's turbulent decade a time of both brutal iconoclasm and radical experimentation in the arts to offer new insights into works that have transcended their times

Contemporary Chinese Art: Primary Documents Wu Hung, 2010 Invaluable resource for anyone who wants to understand contemporary Chinese art one of the most fascinating art scenes of the late 20th and early 21st centuries

New Export China Alex Burchmore, 2023-06-20 Why do so many contemporary Chinese artists use porcelain in their work In New Export China Alex Burchmore presents a deep dive into a unique genre of ceramic art to describe a framework for a broader art practice Focusing on the work of four artists from the 1990s through the 2010s Liu Jianhua Ai Weiwei Ah Xian and Sin ying Ho Burchmore reveals how the materiality of ceramics has been used to highlight China's role in global trade and to explore the function of this medium as a vessel for the transmission of Chinese art culture and ideas From its historical pedigree and transcultural relevance to its material allure and anthropomorphic resonance porcelain offers artists a unique way to move between the global and the intimate the mass produced and the handmade and the foreign and the domestic By dissecting both the legacy of porcelain export and current networks of exchange Burchmore ultimately demonstrates why this ceramic practice is crucial to understanding the development of Chinese contemporary art

A History of Chinese Art in the 20th and 21st Century Lü Peng, 2025-02-03 This book situates the development of 20th and 21st century Chinese art in such fundamental contexts as Chinese politics and social change and is ideally suited for readers to understand the particularities of Chinese art that are distinct from Western art history. Such an approach is appropriate to the understanding of the development of modern Chinese art which differs from both the Western approach to art history and the approach to traditional Chinese art which is limited to the combining of ink and brush heritage and ideological traditions. Based on the scale and influence of historical works considering the specificity of the term involving fine art in China and the scope of influence of the phenomenon of fine art in the cultural field, this book's study of the phenomena of painting, sculpture, photography, video, and mixed media art follows two linear time lines of historical relevance: 1949-1978 and 1978 to the present. Special attention is paid to the development of modern and contemporary art after 1978. The main readers of this book are undergraduate students in art schools, graduate and doctoral students in art history, students in other humanities disciplines, experts and professors in the study of 20th century Chinese art and cultural history. This should be an important readership for this book.

Rethinking Chinese Popular Culture Carlos Rojas, Eileen Chow, 2008-12-08 Through analyses of a wide range of Chinese literary and visual texts from the beginning of the twentieth century through the contemporary period, the thirteen essays in this volume challenge the view that canonical and popular culture are self-evident and diametrically opposed categories and instead argue that the two cultural sensibilities are inextricably bound up with one another. An international line-up of contributors presents detailed analyses of literary works and other cultural products that have previously been neglected by scholars while also examining more familiar authors and works from provocative new angles. The essays include investigations into the cultural industries and contexts that produce the canonical and popular, the position of contemporary popular works at the interstices of nostalgia and amnesia, and also the ways in which cultural texts are inflected with gendered and erotic sensibilities while at the same time also functioning as objects of desire in its own right. As the only volume of its kind to cover the entire span of the 20th century and also to consider the interplay of popular and canonical literature in modern China with comparable rigor, Rethinking Chinese Popular Culture is an important resource for students and scholars of Chinese literature and culture.
