Personal account of an experimental educational reform programme of secondary education and vocational training undertaken in Botswana in 1962 describes a series of innovations such as the establishment of training brigades for primary school leavers unaccommodated by the small secondary school system and asserts that secondary education should be a focal point of economic development and that educational policies should be coordinated with programmes for the creation of relevant employment opportunities Illustrations The History of Education Under Apartheid, 1948-1994 Peter Kallaway, 2002 Studies in the Economic History of Southern Africa Z.A. Development Macleans A. Geo-JaJa,Suzanne Majhanovich,2016-11-04 With its comprehensive coverage and quality this provocative book is concerned with the future of developing countries in Africa Asia and Latin America By providing in depth analysis of the economic social and educational challenges of emerging states it offers an alternative roadmap to development The authors in this collection substantiate the notion that emerging states often do not participate in policy choices related to their development when faced with universalization of curriculum and internationalization of education The authors make explicit the direct and indirect effects of globalization on educational systems social equity and the path of development In demonstrating the impact of neoliberalism or market based reforms on the developing world the authors show that education without human rights is vulnerable to negative forces of globalization and internationalization The message of the book is quite pessimistic about possibilities to widen the economic space or increase freedom unless development cooperation is made possible by Helping People Help Themselves as suggested by David Ellerman The authors note that in the past the issue of emerging states as an appendage to the world economy was a fundamental question related to colonialism but now has become a question of imperialism which needs to be examined when considering the current patterns of development Education in Exile Sean Morrow,Brown Maaba,Loyiso Pulumani,2004 Charting the debates and difficulties surrounding the formation of the unique and self reliant Solomon Mahlangu Freedom College SOMAFSCO this study examines the curricula philosophies and experiences at this controversial institute Describing student life campus organizations and political activities the detailed research also follows the often traumatized state of the exiled pupils

Pitt, 2018-10-16 Originally published in 1988 this book was a plea for new approaches to environmental education In the years prior to publication there had been a reappraisal of education and a growing awareness of the problems of environment and development However the movements had rarely met The objective of this book was to present some of the ideas and the action that was taking place at the time It was put forward for discussion because a major intergovernmental meeting took place in 1987 ten years on from the famous Tbilisi meeting the world's first intergovernmental conference on environmental education With environmental education still very much on the world's agenda today this title can be used as a resource to show where it all began Educational Documentation and Information, 1978
