Representing Musical Structure:

The Cognition of Basic Musical Structures David Temperley, 2004-08-20 In this book David Temperley addresses a fundamental question about music cognition how do we extract basic kinds of musical information such as meter phrase structure counterpoint pitch spelling harmony and key from music as we hear it Taking a computational approach Temperley develops models for generating these aspects of musical structure The models he proposes are based on preference rules which are criteria for evaluating a possible structural analysis of a piece of music A preference rule system evaluates many possible interpretations and chooses the one that best satisfies the rules After an introductory chapter Temperley presents preference rule systems for generating six basic kinds of musical structure meter phrase structure contrapuntal structure harmony and key as well as pitch spelling the labeling of pitch events with spellings such as A flat or G sharp He suggests that preference rule systems not only show how musical structures are inferred but also shed light on other aspects of music He substantiates this claim with discussions of musical ambiguity retrospective revision expectation and music outside the Western canon rock and traditional African music He proposes a framework for the description of musical styles based on preference rule systems and explores the relevance of preference rule systems to higher level aspects of music such as musical schemata narrative and drama and musical tension

Musical Agency and the Social Listener Cora S. Palfy,2021-10-21 Music as a narrative drama is an intriguing idea which has captured explicit music theoretical attention since the nineteenth century Investigations into narrative characters or personae has evolved into a sub field musical agency In this book Palfy contends that music has the potential to engage us in social processes and that those processes can be experienced as a social interaction with a musical agent She explores the overlap between the psychological processes in which we participate in order to understand and engage with people and those we engage in when we listen to music Thinking of musical agency as a form of social process is quite different from existing theoretical frameworks for agency It implies that we come to musical analysis by way of intuition that our ideas are already partially formed based on our experience of the piece and what it makes us feel or how it makes us sense it as any other when we choose to analyze and interpret it Palfy s focus on social processes is a very effective way to pinpoint when and why it is that our attention is captured and engaged by musical agents
