Stouffer, Thorsten Sellin, Paul Felix Lazarsfeld, 1937      Contemporary Marriage Kingsley Davis, 1986-08-20 This fascinating symposium is based on an assumption that no longer seems to need justification that the institution of marriage is today experiencing profound changes But the nature of those changes their causes and consequences is very much in need of explication The experts contributing to this volume bring a wide range of perspectives sociological anthropological economic historical psychological and legal to the problem of marriage in modern society Together these essays help illuminate a form of relationship that is both vulnerable and resilient biological and social a reflection of and an influence on other social institutions Contemporary Marriage begins with an important assessment of the revolution in marital behavior since World War II tracing trends in marriage age cohabitation divorce and fertility The focus here is primarily on the United States and on industrial societies in general Later chapters provide intriguing case studies of particular countries There is a recurrent interest in the impact on marriage of modernization itself but a number of essays probe influences other than industrial development such as strong cultural and historical patterns or legislation and state control Beliefs and expectations about marriage are explored and human sexuality and gender roles are also considered as factors in the nature of marriage Contemporary Marriage offers a rich spectrum of approaches to a problem of central importance The volume will reward an equally broad spectrum of readers interested in the meaning and future of marriage in our society      The Developmental Science of Adolescence Richard M. Cummings,1999-04 America is a mobile nation and frequent relocation is a way of life for many corporate families This qualitative review of literature relating to the sociological impact of relocation on the corporate family appears to show that relocation has short term and long term implications for the family system Relocation is not an isolated event but a process of adjustment over time involving emotional stages similar to the stages of grief and loss Each family member may experience the relocation differently and progress through the stages at a different rate This creates a period of disorganization and disorientation for the family similar to a prolonged jet lag which I call Relo Lag This period of adjustment for the family system is the most frequently cited short term effect and can last up to two years Frequent relocations may also precipitate a long term effect by causing the family system to become too tightly closed The family may not seek outside help when needed or accept it when offered Individual family members may experience difficulty with long term close friendships and relationships outside the family In addition children appear to be particularly vulnerable when relocating during the individuation stages years 3 5 and adolescence years 13 16 Not all families experience relocation negatively and some families cope well with relocation Relocation can improve career and financial opportunities for some corporate families but there may be emotional costs that need to be considered before making a decision to relocate Relo Lag is a Trademark of Barbara W Cummings all rights reserved      Criminology, a Cultural Interpretation Donald Reed Taft,1950
