Nova Scotia rug pattern factory a determined research team found amazing pen and ink rug art created by an artist who is said to have studied in the same New York art class with noted folk artist Norman Rockwell Under a leaking sewage pipe in that same factory they unearthed amazing hand cut Mystery stencils that are now rewriting the arts heritage Their discovery heralds the oldest known commercial designs recovered in Canada and possibly in North America and a unique pattern printing system hitherto unknown The searchers found and rescued from imminent oblivion some 550 pieces of original pen and ink art created by the 1892 factory founder John Garrett and his son Frank In acquiring remnants of the oldest known rug pattern factory in the world 1892 they also unearthed three unique hand carved full size rug pattern blocks and a mass of records of early pattern designs from across North America An intriguing bonus was the salvaging of some 300 hand cut stencils created by a talented unknown artist Measuring only 3x5 in size each contained two rug pattern designs Designated the MYSTERY PATTERNS preliminary research indicates they are the oldest Canadian rug designs ever discovered and possibly the oldest in the world

Practical Problem Projects Frederic Winthrop Rawcliffe, 1927

"Women and the Material Culture of Needlework and Textiles, 1750-1950" Maureen Daly Goggin, 2017-07-05 Rejecting traditional notions of what constitutes art this book brings together essays on a variety of fiber arts to recoup women's artistic practices by redefining what counts as art Although scholars over the last twenty years have turned their attention to fiber arts redefining the conditions practices and products as art there is still much work to be done to deconstruct the stubborn patriarchal art craft binary With essays on a range of fiber art practices including embroidery knitting crocheting machine stitching rug making weaving and quilting this collection contributes to the ongoing scholarly redefinition of women's relationship to creative activity Focusing on women as producers of cultural products and creators of social value the contributors treat women as active subjects and problematize their material practices and artifacts in the complex world of textiles Each essay also examines the ways in which needlework both performs gender and in turn constructs gender Moreover in concentrating on and theorizing material practices of textiles these essays reorient the study of fiber arts towards a focus on process the making of the object including the conditions under which it was made by whom and for what purpose as a way to rethink the fiber arts as social praxis
