COMMON GAMES

301

PLAYERS: 2+

GAME GOAL: Get to zero first.

Set up the scoreboard with each player starting at 301 (use 501 or 701 for a longer game). Determine a starting player.

Each round every player throws three darts. Subtract the sum of the dart throws from your total, then pass the darts to the next player.

You must hit the exact number of points in order to win - i.e. if you have 18 points left, you could hit the single 18, double 9, or triple 6 to win. If you go over, you bust and lose all points for that turn. If you bust on throw 1 or 2, you forfeit the rest of your throws.

First player to zero wins!

Extra rules - you can add "doubling in" and/or "doubling out" which means you must hit a double spot in order to start the game (doubling in) or end the game (doubling out). The double bullseye counts as a double.

Global Economy Lee E. Preston, Duane Windsor, 2013-11-11 This study has been long in the making and the world has changed dramatically while we have been at work We initially anticipated a substantial section on the Soviet dominated Council for Mutual Economic Assistance CMEA or COMECON which offered an interesting contrast to the kind of international business regime typically found among market oriented countries and industries As we moved toward publication the CMEA vanished and so we mention it only in passing The USSR subsequently disintegrated into a Commonwealth of Independent States CIS On the other hand we began with the assumption that the historic rule of capture no longer played a significant role in international economic relations The seizure of Kuwait s territory and wealth by the government of Iraq suggests that this assumption was heavily influenced by wishful thinking Even though this seizure has been reversed by military action the experience remains a challenge to generally held beliefs about the strength of order versus chaos in contemporary international affairs Some readers of this volume have suggested that it gives insufficient attention to the fact that many of the important business and economic regimes of the postwar period are currently under significant pressure perhaps even in danger of collapse We acknowledge that there are many evidences of strain in for example the free trade and money exchange regimes and in many areas of environmental protection Rules of the Game for Life/College/High School
