Rural Change In The Third World Pakistan And The Aga Khan Rural Support Program:

Rural Change in the Third World Mahmood Hasan Khan, Shoiab Sultan Khan, 1992-03-19 This study examines a particularly successful rural development program the partnership of the Aga Khan Rural Support Program AKRSP and the small farmers of northern Pakistan The Aga Khan Rural Support Program was established in 1982 to act as a catalyst for the development of rural people living in the high mountain valleys of the Himalayas Karakorum and Hindu Kush The experiment is based upon the premise that rural people can improve their economic and social status through organization at the village level This experiment in regional development affecting the lives of nearly 500 000 people has been outstandingly successful and should provide a model with generalizable lessons for policymakers practitioners and researchers in economic development The World Bank has concluded that the Aga Khan Rural Support Program continues to be remarkably successful and provides a hopeful prospect that rural development can be made to work The authors demonstrate that the organizational model found in the AKRSP is sustainable provided prospective beneficiaries participate fully and that the AKRSP experiment can be used successfully in other rural underdeveloped areas that the rural poor can be organized to promote their own economic and social development

Social Capital and Collective Action in Pakistani Rural Development Shaheen Rafi Khan, Shahrukh Rafi Khan, 2021-05-14 This book distinguishes conceptually between indigenous and constructed social capital and the associated spontaneous and induced collective action for rural development and natural resource preservation While some of the case studies in this book show that induced collective action can lead to cost effective community centric and empirically grounded rural development initiatives other case studies show that spontaneous collective action based on indigenous social capital can result in resource preservation positive development outcomes and resistance to the excesses engendered by conventional development The authors also explore a hybrid form whereby spontaneous collective action is given a more effective and sustainable shape by an outside organization with experience of induced collective action Exploring alternative community centric paths to development especially those attuned with sustainability imperatives is part of a global search for solutions While the volume draws on the Pakistani case the problem with conventional development approaches and the need for complementary alternatives is not unique to only this country and the volume has broader relevance to students and researchers across the fields of social policy and development

Economic Successes in South Asia Shahrukh Rafi Khan, 2022-03-07 This book analyses economic successes in South Asia and the reasons why they emerge by offering an in depth analysis of a few case studies against the backdrop of overall policy context and economic performance of these countries Offering a brief comparative review of South Asia in a global context the book shows that the region remains an economically and socially lagging region The author argues that within South Asia most countries demonstrate examples of economic or social success This book explores such successes that provide lessons for other South Asian countries and beyond Case studies include the textile industry and microcredit in Bangladesh information technology in India forestry management in Nepal surgical and sports goods in Pakistan and human development in Sri Lanka At the macro level the book discusses India's catch up growth first given the country's global importance and because of the prominence of the debate on its catch up growth to development economics A novel addition to the literature with its focus on successful initiatives with broad policy implications this book will be of interest to researchers in the field of development economics development studies and South Asian Studies in particular South Asian policy

Creating Sustainable Community Programs Mark R. Daniels, 2001-02-28 Public opinion polls consistently reveal the lack of confidence disillusionment and mistrust that citizens feel toward government Daniels and his contributors believe that the relationship between citizens and their governments can be changed by facilitating greater citizen collaboration with government particularly through local sustainable programs As the case studies show often sustainable community programs are created through grassroots movements that are initiated and managed by citizens themselves bringing them in contact with their local elected and appointed officials Unlike traditional programs that are administered by local officials on behalf of their citizens once sustainable community programs are created citizens administer their own programs in collaboration with local officials The case studies look at a variety of sustainable programs primarily in the United States that help to deal with issues such as recycling transportation microcredit site redevelopment pollution health care and hunger Creating Sustainable Community Programs is the first book on sustainable programs that is intended for an audience of public administration scholars researchers and students as well as practitioners who are searching for ways to change the relationship between citizens and their governments

Indigenous Environmental Knowledge and its Transformations Alan Bicker, Roy Ellen, Peter Parkes, 2003-12-16 The first concerted critical examination of the uses and abuses of indigenous knowledge The contributors focus on a series of interrelated issues in their interrogation of indigenous knowledge and its specific applications within the localised contexts of particular Asian societies and regional cultures In particular they explore the problems of translation and mistranslation in the local global transference of traditional practices and representations of resources

High Mountain Pastoralism in Northern Pakistan Eckart Ehlers, Hermann Kreutzmann, 2000 The strength of the book lies in this differentiated analysis which is based on extensive empirical research Several chapters challenge conventional modernization theories and the authors intimate connection to their data makes for an unusually stimulating and pleasurable read

Great Muslim Leaders Melanie C. Brooks, Miriam D. Ezzani, 2023-03-01 Great Muslim Leaders presents Islamic informed alternatives to Eurocentric Christian understandings of education and educational leadership It does so by interrupting and displacing the West's centuries long dismissive stance and monolithic gaze on Islam by showcasing outstanding diverse Muslim leaders across space and time Each chapter focuses on a single leader and includes a biographical sketch a discussion of their context and activities as a leader key lessons readers can learn from their leadership and recommendations that are relevant for teachers and educational leaders This collection of Muslim leaders chosen by

Muslim scholars brings to education discourse the breadth of Islamic intellectual history giving the book a global appeal and facilitating a sharing of innovative and classic ideas across cultures faith traditions and national boundaries Great Muslim Leaders introduces to readers Muslim intellectuals spiritual leaders philosophers poets artists activists scientists celebrities politicians educators film makers historical figures theorists and academics whose lives have positively shaped their community society and the world Their lived experiences are underpinned by deep spirituality and faith revealing the significance and import religious belief has on moral and ethical action The book concludes with seven lessons that cut across the chapters that encapsulate the immense value Islamic spirituality and faith bring to education and leadership

ENDORSEMENTS In recent years many books have been written on Islam and Muslims However Great Muslim Leaders Lessons for Education is a must read In this unique well written and engaging study Melanie Brooks and Miriam Ezzani demonstrate how faith and spirituality have informed the lives and accomplishments of major Muslim leaders in a broad section of professions John L Esposito Georgetown University Scholars of leadership ignore spiritual and religious exemplars at their peril By seeking such exemplars from Islam in such an organic manner this volume models the central lessons it conveys promoting pluralism thoughtfully questioning critically reflecting and most vitally helping us recognize and embrace the sacred trust of leadership Martin Scanlan Boston College Great Muslim Leaders Lessons for Education is timely inspirational and packed with lessons for educators and learners alike At a time when Islamic education is moving toward renewal this book will provide much needed insight real life lessons and direction This is a must read for anyone seeking to be enriched by the lives of great Muslim leaders be they learners educators or leaders Mohamad Abdalla AM University of South Australia So many popular leadership books tell the same story of a great white American man who overcame obstacles to build an empire It is refreshing to read this book featuring educational leaders whose Muslim faith is central to their practice and whose work is bigger than themselves The biographies of these diverse leaders from across the world offer lessons in humility and hope as well as practical tips for other leaders who seek to apply their faith whether Muslim or not to a more connected way of being and of leading Joanne M Marshall Iowa State University Pamirian Crossroads and Beyond Hermann Kreutzmann, 2024-08-05 In Pamirian Crossroads and Beyond Hermann Kreutzmann offers insights in his fieldwork based research in High Asia during four decades A human geographical perspective is pursued in which case studies about colonial and post colonial boundary making exchange relations of mountain communities across international borders the transformation of agricultural and pastoral practices and the effects of modernisation strategies in neighbouring countries are centred in the Hindukush Wakhan Quadrangle Pamirian Crossroads Karakoram Mountains and Himalaya Empirical evidence is augmented by in depth archival research thus allowing a perspective from the 19th to the 21st century By shifting the focus to mountain peripheries and emphasising spaces in between urban centres of power in Afghanistan Pakistan China and the Central Asian Republics different arenas of confrontation and effective changes emerge Iran and the Surrounding World Nikki R. Keddie, Rudi Matthee, 2011-10-01 These essays examine Iran's place in the world its relations and cultural interactions with its immediate neighbors and with empires and superpowers from the beginning of the Safavid period in 1501 to the present day The book provides important historical background on recent political and social developments in Iran and on its contemporary foreign relations The topics explored include Iranian influence abroad on political organization religion literature art and diplomacy as well as Iran's absorption of foreign influences in these areas A special focus is the prevailing political culture of Iran throughout its early modern and contemporary periods The authors combine approaches from history political science anthropology international relations and cultural studies Some essays address Iran's interactions with various Arab and Turkic ethnicities in the region stretching from India to Egypt Others examine its relations with the West during the Qajar and Pahlavi eras women's issues culture inside Iran during the Islamic Republic and the Shi'ite theocracy of Iran as compared with other Muslim states

Ismaili Literature Farhad

Daftary, 2005-03-23 Ismaili Studies represents one of the most recent fields of Islamic Studies Much new research has taken place in this field as a result of the recovery of a large number of Ismaili texts Ismaili Literature contains a complete listing of the sources and secondary studies including theses written by Ismailis or about them in all major Islamic and European languages It also contains chapters surveying Ismaili history and developments in modern Ismaili Studies

Intellectuals in the Modern Islamic World Stephane A. Dudoignon, Komatsu Hisao, Kosugi Yasushi, 2006-09-27 Incorporating a rich series of case studies covering a range of geographical areas this collection of essays examines the history of modern intellectuals in the Islamic world throughout the twentieth century The contributors reassess the typology and history of various scholars providing significant diachronic analysis of the different forms of communication learning and authority While each chapter presents a separate regional case with an historically and geographically different background the volume discloses commonalities similarities and intellectual echoes through its comparative approach Consisting of two parts the volume focuses first on al-Manar the influential journal published between 1898 and 1935 that inspired much imagination and arguments among local intelligentsias all over the Islamic world The second part discusses the formation transmission and transformation of learning and authority from the Middle East to Central and Southeast Asia Constituting a milestone in comparative studies of the modern Islamic world this book highlights the range of and transformation in the role of intellectuals in Islamic societies A Microcredit Alternative in South Asia Shahrukh Rafi Khan, Natasha Ansari, 2018-03-28 Microcredit took the development world by storm as a tool for poverty alleviation in the 1980s After being hailed as a panacea a few decades on it started being forcefully criticised based on its practice This book explores Akhuwat literally brotherhood a rapidly growing Pakistani NGO formed in 2001 which addresses the shortcomings of conventional microfinance Its vision is of a society built on empathy and social solidarity and its mission is that of creating self sufficiency among the entrepreneurial poor This book examines whether Akhuwat fulfils its promises of not pushing loans or encouraging clients to get on a debt treadmill and helping them to avoid high debt burdens by charging no interest and easing repayment terms Conventional microcredit organizations are criticised for losing sight of the original mission of poverty alleviation by engaging in empire building and Akhuwat s goal is to avoid this by embracing an alternative strategy of scaling up Finally this book also analyses Akhuwat s approach as being gender sensitive and embracing all religions castes and ethnicities Based on fieldwork designed to assess if Akhuwat is the microcredit alternative it claims to be this book will be of interest to scholars of poverty and development studies in general and microcredit in particular Isma'ili Modern Jonah Steinberg, 2011-01-17 The Isma ili Muslims a major sect of Shi i Islam form a community that is intriguing in its deterritorialized social organization Informed by the richness of Isma ili history theories of transnationalism and globalization and firsthand ethnographic fieldwork in the Himalayan regions of Tajikistan and Pakistan as well as in Europe Jonah Steinberg investigates Isma ili Muslims and the development of their remarkable and expansive twenty first century global structures Led by a charismatic European based hereditary Imam Prince Karim Aga Khan IV global Isma ili organizations make available an astonishing array of services social economic political and religious to some three to five million subjects stretching from Afghanistan to England from Pakistan to Tanzania Steinberg argues that this intricate and highly integrated network enables a new kind of shared identity and citizenship one that goes well beyond the sense of community maintained by other diasporic populations Of note in this process is the rapid assimilation in the postcolonial period of once isolated societies into the intensively centralized Isma ili structure Also remarkable is the Isma ilis self presentation contrary to common characterizations of Islam in the mass media as a Muslim society that is broadly sympathetic to capitalist systems opposed to fundamentalism and distinctly modern in orientation Steinberg s unique journey into remote mountain regions highlights today s rapidly shifting meanings of citizenship faith and identity and reveals their global scale The State and NGOs Shinichi Shigetomi, 2002 This volume examines the state NGO relationships in fifteen Asian countries Sharing the City John Abbott, 2013-11-05 While the rate of urbanisation in the developing world has increased dramatically over the past 20 years governments capacity to support urban growth has in many cases failed to keep up with this trend Non governmental organisations working in the field have long advocated community management of the urban environment as the best solution to this problem and there is now a growing consensus that the answer does indeed lie with local communities Yet there is still little understanding of what constitutes meaningful and effective community participation or how it may be achieved in such a complex operating environment Sharing the City gives a comprehensive account of urban community participation both in theory and practice It first presents a wide ranging analysis of the issues and develops a participatory framework for urban management Using case studies and existing examples from around the world and drawing on lessons learned from previous experience it then develops the theory into a practical working model Effective participatory urban management calls for a fundamental rethink on the part of all the actors involved from local authorities and development agencies through local and international NGOs to the community based organisations and the communities themselves In redefining their roles and relationships Sharing the City presents a new and radically different yet viable and effective approach to the concept of urban management Abstracts on Rural Development in the Tropics ,1993 Rural Development ,1988 State & NGOs Shinichi Shigetomi,2003-08-01 There is already much literature on the significance of NGOs in the development process However there has been little discussion on why the NGOs take on different forms in different countries This volume examines the state NGO relationships in fifteen countries It is not however a pot pourri of country reports All the contributors use the same analytical framework and focus on the key concept of economic and political space for NGOs Readers will find that the analysis of the various NGO forms is well synthesized in this volume
