China's Peasant Agriculture and Rural Society Jan Douwe van der Ploeg, Jingzhong Ye, 2016-05-20 China's agriculture and rural society has undergone rapid changes in recent years Many poorer farmers and younger people have moved to cities and yet China has an immense challenge to feed a growing and more affluent population This book provides a bottom up view of China's agriculture showing how the many millions of Chinese peasants make a living It presents a vivid description of the mechanisms used by rural households to defend and sustain their livelihoods increase their agricultural production and improve the quality of their lives The authors examine the newly emerging trajectories of entrepreneurial and capitalist farming and assess whether such alternatives will be able to meet the enormous social economic and environmental challenges that China faces The book also explores the paradigm that has underpinned the organisation and development of China's agriculture from ancient times to the present day This shows the importance of balancing in the Chinese model as compared to the one sided imposition of continual modernization in the western model It is argued that such balancing is at the core of the current Sannong policy referring to the three ruralities of food sovereignty wellbeing for peasant households and an attractive countryside

The Global Food System William D. Schanbacher, 2014-07-23 This detailed analysis of the global food system looks at the way food is produced distributed and consumed in an effort to create a more equitable and healthful system worldwide With large scale famine afflicting regions around the globe and overconsumption and unhealthy eating habits destroying others many are beginning to wonder if access to food is less of a class based social problem and more of an ethical issue affecting the lives and livelihoods of people all over the world This thoughtful text provides a thorough examination of the factors contributing to this global concern exploring the complexities of international food supply and demand as well as the efforts to bring about a more just global food system Through this groundbreaking volume author and educator Will Schanbacher sheds light on flaws in the current structure and suggests ways to achieve a more balanced approach He considers the economics politics and activism behind and involved in the production distribution and consumption of the global food system In an effort to illuminate many problems associated with hunger inequality and injustice in the food system the book also offers many potential strategies and solutions for making a more healthy sustainable and equitable world Chapters contain both theoretical models and concrete practices for food security and offer strategies for creating an equitable system

Agrarian Questions Henry Bernstein, Tom Brass, 2016-01-20 This collection celebrates T J Byres seminal contributions to the political economy of the agrarian question Uniting the various themes is the demonstration of the continuing relevance of a critical historical and comparative materialist analysis of agrarian question

The Status of Youth in Agrifood Systems Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, The world s agrifood systems stand at a crossroads With 1.3 billion youth globally the future of food livelihoods and economic resilience depends on their participation in agrifood systems At the same time agrifood systems need youth to drive productivity innovation and sustainability in a crucial and rapidly evolving sector FAO s The Status of Youth in Agrifood Systems report is a call to action It presents the most comprehensive evidence based analysis of youth in agrifood systems to date highlighting both the opportunities and structural barriers that shape their engagement It explores how transforming agrifood systems can enhance decent job opportunities and food security for youth and how empowered youth can drive this transformation It concludes highlighting policy recommendations and areas of investments to foster more equitable and sustainable agrifood systems where rural youth are both beneficiaries and leaders of change A - Airports British Library,2012-05-21 No detailed description available for A Airports 2007 Rural Transformations and Development - China in Context Norman Long,Jingzhong Ye,Yihuan Wang,2010-01-01 Rural Transformations and Development China in Context is a thoughtful book in both senses penetrating and packed with ideas True to its title it takes the reader through the main socio economic and political changes of Chinese rural society The book brings together a selected group of authoritative international experts on agricultural development with particular reference to China It is a good read for everyone and an eminently recommendable text for professionals and students interested in issues of China s rural change Peter Ho University of Groningen The Netherlands This is an insightful and excellent theoretical and empirical collection about China s contemporary agrarian transformation critically studied not in isolation from either the urban sector or the broader world but in relation to these It is a must read for academics and development policy practitioners who are interested in agrarian and development issues in China in particular and the world more generally Saturnino M Borrás Jr Saint Mary s University Canada Bringing together contributions by some of the leading Western scholars working on paths of rural transformation with studies by their counterparts in China this book examines the value of contemporary development theories for understanding the specificities of China s trajectory of change It is a first class contribution both to Modern China studies and to the renaissance of international research on agrarian change that is now going on It deserves a wide readership John Harriss Simon Fraser University at Vancouver Canada Interesting comparative perspectives are coupled to extensive on the ground research in this exploration of the vast changes underway in China s villages This book by 19 specialists pushes forward our knowledge of the circumstances and challenges faced by an eighth of humankind Jonathan Unger Australian National University This unique book explores the varied perspectives on contemporary processes of rural transformation and policy intervention in China The expert contributors combine a critical review of current theoretical viewpoints and global debates with a series of case studies that document the specificities of China s pathways to change Central issues focus on the dynamics of state peasant encounters the diversification of labour and livelihoods out migration and the blurring of rural and urban scenarios the significance of issues of value and capital and their gender implications land ownership and sustainable resource management struggles between administrative cadres and local actors and the dilemmas of participatory development Rural Transformations and Development China in Context will prove a fascinating and stimulating read for academics and researchers in the areas of Asian studies development and agriculture and public policy 2005 Forging the Nation SiuSue Mark,2023 On February 1 2021 Myanmar was thrown into a state of crisis by a military coup abruptly ending a decade of civilian rule The junta imprisoned the political opposition and deployed lethal force to quell dissent thinking that most people would meekly acquiesce However they underestimated the tenacity of the nascent democracy that had taken root in the last decade Instead a civil disobedience movement quickly emerged with people going on strike across the country to prevent the junta from exerting control which was soon followed by armed struggle among urban youth Forging the Nation Land Struggles in Myanmar's Transition Period examines how democratic institutions were fought over and built from 2011 to 2020 through the lens of land politics This book explains how the differences in outcomes in the contest over land are situated in the specific historic and political contexts of Myanmar's states and regions despite them being subject to the same national dynamics As Myanmar is an agriculture based economy involving two thirds of the population land remains a coveted asset in the era of the global land rush referring to the intensification of capital's pursuit of land since the food price surges in 2008 2009 Thus land is also the ideal lens through which to understand the dynamics of a country that underwent a three part transition towards democracy towards peace with a national ceasefire and towards open markets after the lifting of sanctions by the West Against a fraught democratization process that unfolded from 2011 to 2020 Forging the Nation looks at how state and societal actors in Myanmar's multiethnic society recovering from over seven decades of civil war negotiated land politics to shape democratic land institutions By exploring the interaction of the democratic transition ethnic politics and global capital pressures on land across national regional and local scales this book provides an overarching frame that pulls together these three facets that are usually treated separately in the literature Finally by emphasizing the co constituent relationship between democratization and land politics this book makes a unique contribution to understanding the role of land in political economic transitions

Bibliographic Guide to Business and Economics New York Public Library. Research Libraries, 1991 Rethinking the Great Transition Peter L. Larson, 2022 This case study of two rural parishes in County Durham England provides an alternate view on the economic development involved in the transition from medieval to modern partly explaining England's rise to global economic dominance in the seventeenth century Coal mining did not come to these parishes until the nineteenth century these are an example of agrarian expansion Low population favourable seigniorial administration and a commercialised society saw the emergence of large farms on the bishopric of Durham soon after the Black Death these secure copyhold and leasehold tenures were among the earliest known in England Individualism developed within a strong parish and village community that encouraged growth while enforcing conformity tenants had freedom to farm as they wished within limits Along with low rents this allowed for a swift expansion of agricultural production in the sixteenth century as population rose and then as the coal trade expanded rapidly The prosperity of these men is reflected in their lands livestock and consumer goods Yet not all shared in this prosperity as the poor and landless increased in number simply by population growth Through reformation and rebellion these and other parishes prospered without experiencing severe disruption or destruction In north eastern England agrarian development was an evolution and not a revolution This study shows England s economic development as a single narrative woven together from a collection of regional experiences at different times and at different speeds
