Rural Development Strategy Eastern Europe And Central Asia:

Rural Development Strategy Csaba Csáki, Laura Tuck, 2000-01-01 With the larger role that the agricultural sector plays in the Eastern Europe and Central Asian ECA region emphasis must be placed on the sector's sustained growth and prosperity. The Bank strategy for rural development in the ECA region during the early phase of transition emphasized the reform of agricultural policies and assistance in privatizing restructuring and rebuilding agriculture and agro industrial complexes. In retrospect it can be seen that the ECA countries concerned made the right choice when they set their objective to transform their socialized agriculture into a private ownership and market based system. Given the developments of the past decade it is clear however that the initial expectations for the outcomes of such reforms were overly optimistic. The transition process in agriculture is far more complex than originally envisaged by both the countries themselves and the international community including the Bank. Increased social problems and alarming growth of poverty have added a new unexpected dimension to the transition process. As the analysis indicates the region's rural economy is still struggling to adjust to new economic realities and this will require further refinement and adjustment of the Bank's approach as well. This volume based on an overview of recent regional developments summarizes the revised World Bank assistance strategy for rural development in the ECA region.

Rural, Environment, and Social Development Strategies for the Europe and Central Asia Region, 2000-01-01 This report proposes a World Bank strategy for assisting the rural environmental and social development of Eastern Europe and Central Asia. It has been produced for a general audience partly for consultation purposes and is therefore a work in progress. Each of the three areas of development is examined in separate chapters and each summarises the World Bank assistance strategy in that area. The conclusion is that the challenge posed by the objectives of this report are far beyond the World Bank's abilities to achieve on its own.

Access to Education for the Poor in Europe and Central Asia Nancy Vandycke, 2001-01-01 This paper focuses on the long term benefits of education. It also examines the supply of education, the short term incentives to invest in education for the poor and draws on the policy implications. This paper also stresses the need to study further the determinants of school enrollment among the poor.

Mapping the Rural Problem in the Baltic Countryside Ilkka Alanen, 2017-11-30 The agricultural privatization strategy adopted in Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania was based on the premise that family farms are the most effective alternative to socialist large scale agriculture. In addition international organizations particularly the World Bank made recommendations concerning reform speed, synchronization and ownership rights that would facilitate transferring resources from large scale producers to family farmers. This book provides a critical and comparative analysis of the implementation of this policy and in particular the strategy promoted by the World Bank. The preservation of large scale production is the key to Estonia's success while its eradication from Latvia and Lithuania did not produce a family farm system. Work productivity and the extent of plot farming are the indicators of success or failure. Research findings on deindustrialization, the hardships faced by new enterprises, rural tourism increasing poverty and problems in the civil society as presented in this book shed new light on these and other key issues in transition strategy Land Policies and Evolving Farm Structures in Transition Countries Zvi Lerman,Csaba

Status of Implementation of e-Agriculture in Central and Eastern Europe and Central Asia Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2018-07-23 Agriculture is becoming increasingly knowledge intensive farmers have to make more and more complex decisions on the use of their land the selection of the agricultural commodities they plant the choice of markets on which to sell their agricultural products and other key decisions that impact their livelihoods and that of society The development of ICTs is a major driver of economic growth It is also an accelerator for innovation and change FAO has been promoting the use of ICTs in agriculture and has focused on ICT innovation in improving agricultural production and value chains However innovation is an elusive combination of people processes and technologies Many projects put technology alone at the core of proposed solutions intended to address emerging and existing challenges but this is not a sustainable solution in many cases Recently FAO and the International Telecommunication Union have jointly prepared a National e Agriculture Strategy Guide which aims to help countries mainstream ICTs into agriculture and develop or revitalize e agriculture strategies in line with agricultural goals and priorities This paper is intended to assist policy makers and stakeholders of e agriculture in transition economies to map the policy and technological environment in their countries would show case e agriculture initiatives in Central and Eastern Europe and Central Asia and provide with recommendations on formulation of e agriculture strategies      The Current Regulatory Framework Governing Business in Bulgaria Thomas

Rural Development in Eastern Europe and Central Asia ,1998      Forestry in the Middle East and North Africa Idah Pswarayi-Riddihough,2002-01-01 Annotation This book details the World Bank assisted forestry projects implemented in the MENA region over the last ten years It contains a definition of forests in the region and describes their current status

Ukraine--review of Farm Restructuring Experiences Zvi Lerman,Csaba Csáki,2000-01-01 Restructuring has produced a definite favorable impact on labor relations and workers behavior in the reorganized farms Managers of reorganized farm enterprises give a much more positive assessment of the behavioral patterns of their workers than managers of non reorganized farms Agriculture remains the main source of employment and livelihood for the large rural population of many transition countries especially among the former Soviet republics Accordingly the World Bank continuously monitors the progress of land reform and farm restructuring in the region because of the potential impact of these processes on rural development and poverty alleviation in rural areas The present study on Ukraine is the latest addition to a long and growing series of World Bank publications on land reform and farm restructuring in the former socialist countries of Europe and Central Asia The unique feature of all these publications is their reliance on first hand empirical information collected through extensive farm surveys of various rural constituencies Farm surveys have been conducted by the World Bank in many countries of the CIS Russia Ukraine Moldova Armenia Georgia Turkmenistan Belarus and Central and Eastern Europe Poland Romania Bulgaria Hungary Albania Analysis of survey findings enables the World Bank to base its policy dialogue with governments in the region on solid empirical facts making the Bank s recommendation much more credible and relevant The new findings for Ukraine will similarly provide a platform for useful policy discussions with this country s government and supply the many international donors active on the local scene with essential information for the design of their strategic programs      The EU's External Governance of Agriculture and Rural Development Laura Gelhaus,2024-11-13 This book explores how the EU externally governs through agriculture and rural development and how this external governance shapes rural spaces in Georgia Analysing two EU policy instruments Geographical Indications and the LEADER rural development programme the book develops a novel way of studying the consequences of EU external actions on the ground by bringing in sociological rural studies and political geography concepts of rural space In doing so it analyses the often less visible processes at local levels and in rural areas and proposes how to improve analyses of EU external actions more generally This book will be of key interest to scholars and students of EU external policy EU foreign policy agricultural and rural development post Soviet politics and more broadly to EU studies     Social Protection for the Poor and Poorest A.
