Assessing Quality in Applied and Practice-based Research in Education John Furlong, Alis Oancea, 2007-09-27 This book explores the challenges of assessing quality in applied and practice based research in education It offers various views on quality in applied and practice based research and proposes ways in which quality criteria may reflect more closely the diversity of applied research and its complex entanglements with practice and policy

Improving Children's Learning Joan Dean, 2003-09-02 How can teachers improve what they do in the primary classroom Which teaching methods will help you and your pupils to perform effectively These are the questions that every teacher will be asking him or herself in today's climate of targets and tables Much research over recent years has focused on the role of the teacher and how effective classroom practice is achieved The book discusses many areas of topical importance including teaching methods motivating learners and matching work to children how to structure children's learning classroom control and organisation teaching literacy teaching children with special education needs working with parents It also looks at the increasing role of the teacher as a researcher and how collaborative practices are providing a way for teachers to appraise both their own progress and that of their colleagues This book should be of particular interest to the classroom teacher who is looking for ways to develop his or her teaching but has limited time to explore the research It sets out to translate the findings of research into practical terms which teachers can easily use

Advocacy, Self-Advocacy and Special Needs Philip Garner, Sarah Sandow, 2018-09-03 First published in 1995 This book concerns aspects of decision making by or on behalf of children who have special educational needs This is an area of concern given that little attention had previously been given to the views of children on matters relating to their education The book examines various themes relating to advocacy in relation to classroom practice school organisation and professional development in all phases of education Additionally the role of parents and of support agencies is considered Each theme is developed by an author with expertise in that field and the emphasis of the book is upon the practical considerations of implementing advocacy programmes in schools

Case Studies In Educational Change David S.G Carter, 2012-10-12 This text the second in a two volume set examining the process of educational reform describes case studies on the change process of education as it impacts on the individual at work The authors provide interesting comparisons of similar changes occurring within education in different national settings including Australia New Zealand Israel the USA and the UK The case studies are based on three themes systematic change the transition from policy to practice and curriculum contexts The effects of governmental control over the curriculum and attempts to reform education by legislation are explained and the similarities are seen as marginalisation of professional educators corporatisation of education systems instrumentalisation of curriculum and the inability of those in power to draw from past knowledge on educational change Written to stand alone this book can also be read in conjunction with volume 1 International Perspectives on Educational Reform and Policy Implementation which examines the historical social and economic influences on education policy reform The authors argue that change takes a predictable format and once understood can be directed and managed The books are intended to be of interest to all involved in the planning and implementation of change together pointing the way to effective management of such change processes Consorting And Collaborating In The Education Market Place
