Lyric Generations G. Gabrielle Starr, 2015-11-01 Eighteenth century British literary history was long characterized by two central and seemingly discrete movements the emergence of the novel and the development of Romantic lyric poetry In fact recent scholarship reveals that these genres are inextricably bound constructions of interiority developed in novels changed ideas about what literature could mean and do encouraging the new focus on private experience and self perception developed in lyric poetry In Lyric Generations Gabrielle Starr rejects the genealogy of lyric poetry in which Romantic poets are thought to have built solely and directly upon the works of Chaucer Spenser Shakespeare and Milton She argues instead that novelists such as Richardson Haywood Behn and others while drawing upon earlier lyric conventions ushered in a new language of self expression and community which profoundly affected the aesthetic goals of lyric poets Examining the works of Cowper Smith Wordsworth Coleridge and Keats in light of their competitive dialogue with the novel Starr advances a literary history that considers formal characteristics as products of historical change In a world increasingly defined by prose poets adapted the new forms characters and moral themes of the novel in order to reinvigorate poetic practice Lyric

Tactics Ingrid Nelson, 2017-01-13 In Lyric Tactics Ingrid Nelson argues that the lyric poetry of later medieval England is a distinct genre defined not by its poetic features rhyme meter and stanza forms but by its modes of writing and performance which are ad hoc improvisatory and situational Secular Lyric John Michael, 2018-04-17 Secular Lyric interrogates the distinctively individual ways that Poe Whitman and Dickinson transformed classical romantic and early modern forms of lyric expression to address the developing conditions of Western modernity especially the heterogeneity of believers and beliefs in an increasingly secular society Analyzing historically and formally how these poets inscribed the pressures of the modern crowd in the text of their poems John Michael shows how the masses appear in these poets work as potential readers to be courted and resisted often at the same time Unlike their more conventional contemporaries Poe Whitman and Dickinson resist advising sermonizing or consoling their audiences They resist most familiar senses of meaning as well For them the processes of signification in print rather than the communication of truths become central to poetry which in turn becomes a characteristic of modern verse in the Western world Poe Whitman and Dickinson in idiosyncratic but related ways each disrupt conventional expectations while foregrounding language s material density thereby revealing both the potential and the limitations of art in the modern age Handbook of the Arts in Qualitative Research , 2022 The Lyric Theory
