Aesthetics and the sciences of art* Jacques Havet, 2019-06-04 No detailed description available for Anthropological and historical sciences Aesthetics and the sciences of art To the Distant Observer Noël Burch, 1979-01-01 The Aesthetic Relation Gérard Genette, 1999 One of the best known continental theorists writing today Gérard Genette here explores our aesthetic relation to works of art Through an analysis of the views of thinkers ranging from David Hume and Immanuel Kant to Monroe C Beardsley Arthur Danto and Nelson Goodman Genette seeks to identify the place of the aesthetic in a theory of artistic appreciation His discussion is rich in detailed examples drawn from all of the arts The Aesthetic Relation is a companion volume to The Work of Art Immanence and Transcendence published by Cornell in 1997 Taken together the two books offer a comprehensive theory of art which addresses the work of art as at once object and action Genette maintains that our aesthetic relation to all types of objects presupposes that special attention is paid to their outward aspect rather than to their usefulness when appraising them. Such appraisals while wholly subjective and temporary are expressed as objective and universal judgments about the items in question. Further he asserts that our aesthetic relation to works of art in particular is based on an awareness of an aesthetic intention that defines an object as a work of art as well as on an awareness of a work's position in its historical and generic field.

The World of André Le Nôtre Thierry Mariage, 1999 But as Thierry Mariage makes clear in this detailed and lucid book the garden style that Le Nôtre brought to perfection need not be seen in opposition to the later English one rather he claims they represent two points along a continuum that exists between the natural and cultural worlds.

Memory & Oblivion A.W. Reinink, Jeroen Stumpel, 2012-12-06 Memory is a subject that recently has attracted many scholars and readers not only in the general historical sciences but also in the special field of art history. However in this book in which more than 130 papers given at the XXIXth International Congress of the History of Art Amsterdam 1996 have been compiled Memory is also juxtaposed to its counterpart Oblivion thus generating extra excitement in the exchange of ideas. The papers are presented in eleven sections each of which is devoted to a different aspect of memory and oblivion ranging from purely material aspects of preservation to social phenomena with regard to art collecting from the memory of the art historian to workshop practices from art in antiquity to the newest media from Buddhist iconography to the Berlin Wall. The book addresses readers in the field of history, history of art and psychology.

Situated within the most significant recent debates in text image studies Louvel's work presents a sophisticated new typology of text image relations that enable readers to think at once more precisely and more inventively about texts, images and the intersections between the two.

L'histoire de l'art et ses traductions Adriana Sotropa, Myriam Metayer, 2019 Le présent recueil explore l'influence du presque et de l'autrement de la traduction sur les développements de l'histoire de l'art du XVIe siècle son institutionnalisation au XIXe siècle jusqu'à ses pratiques actuelles. Les rapports franco-allemands dans la continuité des transferts culturels et la question de la diffusion de la langue anglaise dans le sillage de l'histoire globale de l'art dominent l'actualité de la recherche dès lors qu'il s'agit de conjuguer histoire de l'art et traduction. Pourtant ce champ d'étude reste encore très largement à explorer et pourrait reconfigurer une certaine appréhension de l'histoire de l'art. En effet par son caractère pluriel la traduction offre toute latitude pour analyser des contextes, des situations et des acteurs que l'historiographie ne met pas toujours en évidence. Comment arrivent dans une autre langue, une autre culture ou un autre temps les idées et les discours originaux d'un historien de l'art? Quels cartes, quelles relectures, quels sens nouveaux les supparent-ils de leurs traductions? Les essais réunis ici abordent ces questions en mettant en évidence l'irréductible imbrication des langues, des pratiques d'écritures, des moyens de diffusion et des acteurs de la traduction.

Privilege and Property Ronan Deazley, Martin Kretschmer, Lionel Bently, 2010 What can and can't be copied is a matter of law but also of aesthetics culture and economics The act of copying and the creation and transaction of rights relating to it evokes fundamental notions of communication and censorship of authorship and ownership of privilege and property This volume conceives a new history of copyright law that has its roots in a wide range of norms and practices The essays reach back to the very material world of craftsmanship and mechanical inventions of Renaissance Italy where in 1469 the German master printer Johannes of Speyer obtained a five year exclusive privilege to print in Venice and its dominions Along the intellectual journey that follows we encounter John Milton who in his 1644 Areopagitica speech For the Liberty of Unlicensed Printing accuses the English parliament of having been deceived by the fraud of some old patentees and monopolizers in the trade of bookselling i.e. the London Stationers Company Later revisionary essays investigate the regulation of the printing press in the North American colonies as a provincial and somewhat crude version of European precedents and how in the revolutionary France of 1789 the subtle balance that the royal decrees had established between the interests of the author the bookseller and the public was shattered by the abolition of the privilege system Contributions also address the specific evolution of rights associated with the visual and performing arts These essays provide essential reading for anybody interested in copyright intellectual history and current public policy choices in intellectual property The volume is a companion to the digital archive Primary Sources on Copyright 1450-1900 funded by the UK Arts and Humanities Research Council AHRC www.copyrighthistory.org
