The Last of an Age Sooyong Kim, 2017-12-01 In The Last of an Age Sooyong Kim explores the relationship between social change and the development of an Ottoman literary canon in the course of the sixteenth century by examining the work and reception of a popular poet Zati 1471-1546 Kim argues that a newly emergent group of bureaucratic literati through the production of authoritative biographical dictionaries ultimately relegated Zati to a lesser literary age driven by a self-fashioning that privileged broad linguistic ability above all else with poetry serving as the main vehicle for demonstrating that This study is interdisciplinary in approach taking insights from literary studies cultural history and social theory It adds to the scholarship on the rise of early modern Ottoman canons in the fields of visual arts and music and complements recent work on court patronage Framed by ongoing critiques of canon formation among specialists of early modern Europe and late imperial China the study offers a comparative perspective on those issues

Verification in an Age of Insecurity Philip D. O'Neill (Jr.), 2010 Verification in an Age of Insecurity takes the reader into some of the most urgent arms control issues facing the world community including the nuclear activities of rogue states and threats from sophisticated non state actors In the book national security expert Philip D O'Neill Jr identifies and addresses issues from the resuscitated disarmament agenda from the comprehensive test ban to fissile material and biological weapons O'Neill examines the need for shifts in verification standards and policy suitable for our volatile era and beyond it. He surveys recent history to show how established verification procedures fail to produce the certainty necessary to meet today's threats. Verification in an Age of Insecurity goes beyond a discussion of rogue states like North Korea to offer suggestions on how best to bring compliance policy up to date with modern threats.

Jesus in an Age of Neoliberalism

James G. Crossley, 2014-10-20 Jesus in an Age of Neoliberalism analyses the ideology underpinning contemporary scholarly and popular quests for the historical Jesus. Focusing on cultural and political issues, the book examines postmodernism, multiculturalism, and the liberal masking of power. The study ranges across diverse topics: the dubious periodisation of the quest for the historical Jesus; biblioblogging Jesus the Great Man and western individualism; image-conscious Jesus scholarship; the Jewishness of Jesus and the multicultural Other; evangelical and mythical Jesuses and the contradictions between personal beliefs and dominant ideological trends in the construction of historical Jesuses. Jesus in an Age of Neoliberalism offers readers a radical revisioning of contemporary biblical studies.

Intelligence for an Age of Terror

Gregory F. Treverton, 2009-03-23 During the Cold War, U.S. intelligence was concerned primarily with states; non-state actors like terrorists were secondary. Now the priorities are reversed and the challenge is enormous. States had an address and they were hierarchical and bureaucratic. They thus came with some story. Terrorists do not. States were over there but terrorists are there and here. They thus put pressure on intelligence at home, not just abroad. The strength of this book is that it underscores the extent of the change and ranges broadly across data collection and analysis, foreign and domestic, as well as presenting the issues of value that arise as new targets require collecting more information at home.

Redefining Music Studies in an Age of Change Edward W.

Sarath, David E. Myers, Patricia Shehan Campbell, 2016-09-13 Redefining Music Studies in an Age of Change Creativity

Diversity Integration takes prevailing discourse about change in music studies to new vistas as higher education institutions are at a critical moment of determining just what professional musicians and teachers need to survive and thrive in public life. The authors examine how music studies might be redefined through the lenses of creativity diversity and integration which are the three pillars of the recent report of The College Music Society taskforce calling for reform. Focus is on new conceptions for existent areas such as studio lessons and ensembles academic history and theory theory and culture courses and music education coursework but also on an exploration of music and human learning and an understanding of how organizational change happens. Examination of progressive programs will celebrate strides in the direction of the task force vision as well as extend a critical eye distinguishing between premature proclamations of mission accomplished and genuine transformation. The overarching theme is that a foundational systemic overhaul has the capacity to entirely revitalize the European classical tradition. Practical steps applicable to wide ranging institutions are considered from small liberal arts colleges to conservatory programs large research universities and regional state universities.

Reclaiming Patriotism in an Age of Extremes Steven B. Smith, 2021-02-23 A rediscovery of patriotism as a virtue in line with the core values of democracy in an extremist age. The concept of patriotism has fallen on hard times. What was once a value that united Americans has become so politicized by both the left and the right that it threatens to rip apart the social fabric. On the right patriotism has become synonymous with nationalism and an us versus them worldview while on the left it is seen as an impediment to acknowledging important ethnic religious or racial identities and a threat to cosmopolitan globalism. Steven B. Smith reclaims patriotism from these extremist positions and advocates for a patriotism that is broad enough to balance loyalty to country against other loyalties. Describing how it is a matter of both the head and the heart, Smith shows how patriotism can bring the country together around the highest ideals of equality and is a central and ennobling disposition that democratic societies cannot afford to do without.

Cosmic Chastity in an Age of Technocratic Lust JEREMIAH. BARKER, 2024-10-31 John Paul II and Benedict XVI. Jeremiah Barker argues share the theological ethical and spiritual core of Pope Francis' social teaching. Reappropriating R. R. Reno's redemption of Francis' cogent argument, Barker draws out the underlying rationale of Francis' message which he argues is identical to the two previous popes. Inspired by Francis' call and teaching, Barker's compelling argument is an opportunity to reconsider the legacies of John Paul II and Benedict XVI in the light of contemporary Catholic debates and challenges. A unique and refreshing analysis, Barker's argument is relevant for any Catholic seeking to make sense of these popes' messages.
