Landscapes of Encounter Liam Gearon, 2002 Brian Moore 1921-1999 is one of the few novelists whose literary portrayal of Catholicism effectively spans the period prior to and following the Second Vatican Council Many critics have discussed how Moore's life is reflected in his works while others have dismissed his fictions as simple narratives in the mould of classical realism In this timely book Gearon contends that Moore's fictions are far more complex as he was one of the great observers of Catholicism in all its modern and historical controversy

The Mystery to a Solution John T. Irwin, 1994 When Poe invented the analytic detective genre in the 1840s with the three Dupin stories his underlying project was to examine the very nature of self consciousness But the tradition of detective fiction these stories inspired would draw on only the most superficial aspects of his work One hundred years after Poe however Borges would reinterpret the genre with three detective stories of his own and revive Poe's original ambitious intention to analyze the analytic power In The Mystery to a Solution John Irwin brilliantly examines the deeper significance of the genre Poe created and the meaning of Borges's efforts to double its origin Using a methodology that combines history literary history and practical and speculative criticism Irwin pursues the issues underlying the detective genre into areas as various as the history of mathematics classical mythology the double mirror structure of self consciousness handedness the anthropology of Evans and Frazer the structure of chess automata the mind body problem the etymology of labyrinth and scores of other topics Irwin honors the aesthetic impact of the genre he discusses by mirroring in his study the dynamics of a detective story the uncovering of mysteries the accumulation of evidence the tracing of clues and the final solution that ties it all together

The Shadow of an Agony Oswald Chambers, 2015-10-30 Open any social media site or turn on the TV and you come face to face with suffering wars cultural upheaval the daily hurts and tragedies of life Suffering can be overwhelming so how do we meet it with Christian character and conduct Oswald Chambers was no stranger to suffering nor were the World War I soldiers who were the original audience of these talks In his direct and searching style Chambers shows us how we can stand with Jesus Christ in our suffering because He first suffered for us It is the shadow of agony that leads us to the mystery of redemption The Agony Column of the "Times" 1800-1870 Alice Clay,1881 LAWG Letter ,1974 Books for Young People ,1977 The International Fiction Review ,1979 Topic ,1970 The Agony of Murder John Davis,1859 Literary Garland ,1839

No Time to Dream Rita Molyneux,2011-10-17 NO TIME TO DREAM is in many ways reminiscent of HOW GREEN WAS MY VALLEY The background of both books largely centred on the mining valley of the Rhondda in Wales during the depression of the early twentieth century The author Rita Molyneux herself lived in this mining valley and witnessed at first hand the harshness of daily life during that period and vividly recounts them in her book Indeed her own father suffered a broken back in a colliery accident The Rhondda as Gwyn Thomas once described it poured out enough coal to have coked the world at one stroke The valley was majestically ransacked and the coal owners became very rich men Cruelly little of this money stuck to the fingers of the people who mined the coal Yet these people laughed sang worshipped and propagated at record levels and were far more precious than the coal they hauled out of the ground In NO TIME TO DREAM the author richly evokes those times in technicolour and brings to life those characters who fill the pages The story also tells of emigration of some of these characters to Australia where they faced with bravery the vicissitudes of the new environment In real life Rita and her husband Arthur paralleled the story of this novel emigrating to Australia in 1964 initially to Canberra and then to Sydney It was this experience that allowed Rita to complete the second half of her book NO TIME TO DREAM is a rich evocation of the human spirit and a unique description of love kindness and courage surrounded and deepened by the dangers of the times Read it Literature of Developing Nations for Students Elizabeth Bellalouna,Michael L. LaBlanc,Ira Mark Milne,2000 Contains alphabetically arranged entries that examine over fifty works of literature from developing nations each with an introduction to the work and its author a plot summary descriptions of important characters analysis of important themes a critical overview and other information AGONY & ECSTASY Reflections Inspired by Our Lives Jane Stahl,2013-11-19 Agony Ecstasy is collection of poetry and prose curated and edited by Jane E Stahl Sandra Williams The book and the illustrations in it are a product of Studio B Artists Studio B is a community run art gallery located at 39A East Philadelphia Avenue in Boyertown PA This volume was created to accompany an exhibition by the same name The agony of murder, written [in verse] by a prisoner under sentence of death, ed. by J. Davis Agony,1859 Little Golden's Daughter; or, The Dream of a Life Time Alex. McVeigh Mrs. Miller,2022-06-13 In Little Golden s Daughter or The Dream of a Life Time Mrs Alex McVeigh Miller delights readers with an engaging and somewhat whimsical period melodrama The narrative traverses the life of the eponymous Golden a young girl whose adventures unfold in a quaint village setting emblematic of the pastoral communities in 19th century literature Miller s literary style is marked by a playful tone which provides a buoyant counterbalance to the conventional gravitas of the melodramatic genre The work is a vibrant pastiche rich in character driven dialogue and carefully poised between serious social commentary and the willing suspension of disbelief that makes for a delightful read The book sits comfortably within the popular domestic fiction of its time offering an insight into the mores and attitudes of the period Alex McVeigh Miller s own career as a prolific writer of dime novels adds a layer of depth to Little Golden s Daughter The author having crafted many such fanciful and sentimental narratives was adept at exploring themes relevant to the experiences of her largely female audience It is possible that Miller s own observations and interactions within her community may have provided inspiration for her village vignettes and her compassionate portrayal of Golden s youthful na vet For enthusiasts of historical fiction and readers yearning for a nostalgic journey through melodramatic literature Little Golden s Daughter is an entrancing choice This book will charm those who appreciate the interplay of simplicity and absurdity characteristic of many 19th century novels It s also an amusing reflection for contemporary readers on the dramatic excesses and the unassuming innocence once abundant in popular literature Miller s narrative is a window into a bygone era offering not just a story but a vintage literary escapade     Agony Point; Or, The Groans of 'gentility.' James Pycroft, 1862
