Of Prisoners, Pets and People:

Pets and People Christine Overall, 2017-02-01 Animal ethics is generating growing interest both within academia and outside it. This book focuses on ethical issues connected to animals who play an extremely important role in human lives: companion animals, pets, with a special emphasis on dogs and cats, the animals most often chosen as pets. Companion animals are both vulnerable to and dependent upon us. What responsibilities do we owe to them, especially since we have the power and authority to make literal life and death decisions about them? What kinds of relationships should we have with our companion animals? And what might we learn from cats and dogs about the nature and limits of our own morality? The contributors write from a variety of philosophical perspectives including utilitarianism, care ethics, feminist ethics, phenomenology, and the genealogy of ideas. The eighteen chapters are divided into two sections to provide a general background to ethical debate about companion animals, followed by a focus on a number of crucial aspects of human relationships to companion animals. The first section discusses the nature of our relationships to companion animals, the foundations of our moral responsibilities to companion animals, what our relationships with companion animals teach us, and whether animals themselves can act ethically. The second part explores some specific ethical issues related to crucial aspects of companion animals' lives: breeding, reproduction, sterilization, cloning, adoption, feeding, training, working, sexual interactions, longevity, dying, and euthanasia.

Prison Dog Programs Mary Renck Jalongo, 2019-09-03 This edited volume brings together a diverse group of contributors to create a review of research and an agenda for the future of dog care and training in correctional facilities. Bolstered by research that documents the potential benefits of HAI, many correctional facilities have implemented prison dog programs that involve inmates in the care and training of canines, not only as family dogs but also as service dogs for people with psychological and/or physical disabilities. Providing an evidence-based treatment of the topic, this book also draws upon the vast practical experience of individuals who have successfully begun, maintained, improved, and evaluated various types of dog programs with inmates. It includes first-person perspectives from all of the stakeholders in a prison dog program: the corrections staff, the recipients of the dogs, the inmate trainers, and the community volunteers and sponsors. Human-animal interaction (HAI) is a burgeoning field of research that spans different disciplines: corrections, psychology, education, social work, animal welfare, and veterinary medicine, to name a few. Written for an array of professionals interested in prison dog programs, the book will hold special interest for researchers in criminal justice and corrections, forensic psychology, and to those with a commitment to promoting the ideals of rehabilitation, desistance, thinking, restorative justice, and re-entry tools for inmates.

All Dogs Have Rights Livy, 2014-07-31 This book may be the first book ever to claim to be written by a dog. It is questionable that a dog with only six years of experience on the planet could learn to love God and at the same time express such strong commitment to making everyone aware that all dogs have rights. Livy shares in detail her life experiences, including her love life as well as her many questions about life and God. Actually, her questions parallel the logical questions a child would have along with the frustration of not being able to get answers to questions which would appear important to a child but not so important to an adult This book brings out an awareness of what a dog goes through in a life that many people just take for granted Livy the author brings up the fact that dogs are thinking living beings created by God Livy learns to cope with many facets of life by trusting in God and prayer So ask yourself how many dogs with only six years of experience could have such faith in God at such an early age Livy is remarkable throughout the book as she points out situations around her that make little or no sense to her For example she has a real issue with why dogs chase squirrels and cats Livy describes her experiences from adoption to her life with her new parents Her owner whom she affectionately calls Mom leaves the TV on gospel stations whenever Livy is left home alone Livy learns about God and seeks answers about how Gods love applies to her life Livy is on a mission to make people aware of what goes through a dogs mind as events happen She wants people to know that dogs have rights
