Making Heritage Together Aris Anagnostopoulos, Evangelos Kyriakidis, Eleni Stefanou, 2022-02-27 Making Heritage Together presents a case study of public archaeology by focusing on the collaborative creation of knowledge about the past with a rural community in central Crete. It is based on a long term archaeological ethnography project that engaged this village community in collectively researching, preserving and managing their cultural heritage. This volume presents the theoretical and local contexts for the project, explains the methodology and the project outcomes and reviews in detail some of the public archaeology actions with the community as examples of collaborative research based heritage management. What the authors emphasize in this book is the value of local context in designing and implementing public archaeology projects and the necessity of establishing methods to understand, collaborate and interact with culturally specific groups and publics. They argue for the implementation of archaeological ethnographic research as a method of creating instances and spaces for collaborative knowledge production. The volume contributes to a greater understanding of how rural communities can be successfully engaged in the management of their own heritage. It will be relevant to archaeologists and other heritage professionals who aim to maximise the inclusivity and impact of small projects with minimal resources and achieve sustainable processes of collaboration with local stakeholders.

The Weaver's Studio: Doubleweave Jennifer Moore, 2013-02-15 Doubleweave is the art of weaving two layers of cloth at the same time, one above the other on the loom, creating beautiful cloth that is reversible yet unique on each side. Using pick up techniques and clever color mixing, patterns emerge that are different but complementary on each side. The Weaver's Studio Doubleweave begins with a brief history of doubleweave and how it has evolved into the contemporary weaving pieces seen today. Next, you will learn all the basics of doubleweave techniques as well as tips and tricks of setting up the warp and a variety of doubleweave specialty techniques, all shown through detailed process photography and a wealth of swatches demonstrating different effects. Specialty techniques are shown for 4 shaft and 8 shaft looms. The weaving effects covered include lace, tubular weave, pick up, color mixing and more. And since doubleweave showcases color and pattern in unique ways, you will learn how to use these to great effect in your cloth designs. Throughout the book, you will find a wealth of inspiration with many examples of finished cloth and projects from wall hangings and table runners to scarves and pillows.

The Joy of Weaving as an Art Form Veronica Warwick, 2022-11-11 Talents are given to us by our Lord. These talents are not necessarily just for ourselves. What can you give to others? Spinners can give their talent of spun yarns to weavers. Weavers are able to give many gifts to others. What are you wearing? What is on your bed? Do you need a basket to carry things in? Does your floor need a rug for comfort? What about your walls? For example, a tapestry for beauty may be woven or just worn for warmth if you live in a cold environment. All of the above are woven by machinery.
