Off The Record The Life And Times Of A Black Watch Officer:

The Black Watch Victoria Schofield, 2017-07-13 The heroic and inspiring story of the fortunes of the Black Watch whose soldiers have distinguished themselves in theatres of war across the world Formed into a regiment in 1739 and named for the dark tartan of its soldiers kilts The Black Watch has fought in almost every major conflict of nation and empire between 1745 and the present and has a reputation second to none Following on from The Highland Furies in which she traced the regiment's history to 1899 Victoria Schofield tells the story of The Black Watch in the 20th and 21st centuries She tracks its fortunes through the 2nd South African War two World Wars the troubles in N Ireland and the war in Iraq up to The Black Watch's merger with five other regiments to form the Royal Regiment of Scotland in 2006 Drawing on diaries letters and interviews Victoria Schofield weaves the many strands of the story into an epic narrative of a heroic body of officers and men In her sure hands the story of The Black Watch is no arid recitation of campaigns and battle honours but a rewarding account of the fortunes of war of a regiment that has played a distinguished role in British and world history Eyewitness Korea

James Goulty, 2018-11-30 Today the Korean War of 1950-1953 is overshadowed by later twentieth century conflicts in Vietnam and the Middle East yet at the time it was the focus of international attention It threatened to lead to a third world war and although fought on a limited scale it still involved over a million men under UN command and even more on the Communist side It left the American and British troops who took part with a range of intense recollections that often marked them for the rest of their lives and it is these experiences that James Goulty draws on in this eyewitness history of the conflict He uses official documents letters diaries regimental histories memoirs oral histories and correspondence to show what the war was like for those who took part Their accounts vividly contrast the American and British experience as seen through the eyes of individual servicemen and they throw fresh light on the relations between the UN forces on their different attitudes tactics training and equipment and on the tensions that developed between them Canada and the Korean War Andrew

Burtch, Tim Cook, 2024-05-01 Korea was the first hot war of the Cold War It was also Canada's most significant military engagement of the twentieth century following the two world wars Canada and the Korean War gathers leading scholars to explore the key themes and battles of a seminal yet understudied conflict Canada had little stake and less interest in Korea before 1950 but the risk the conflict posed to the fragile postwar order was deemed too great for the country to stand on the sidelines Alongside their allies more than 30 000 Canadian service personnel fought a determined and skilled enemy The armistice that ended the war left Korea devastated and divided and it remains a dangerous hotspot today This timely collection synthesizes Canadian and international perspectives on a conflict that shaped not only the Canadian armed forces but also the evolving Canada Korea relationship In the process Canada and the Korean War sheds light on how the war has been framed and reframed in public memory Air University Library Index to Military Periodicals, 1999 Black

In three volumes spanning centuries, Lieutenant Colonel Roman Jarymowycz recounts the story of the Black Watch Royal Highland Regiment of Canada, the oldest Highland regiment in the country. He traces its history from the roots when soldiers, settlers, and militia volunteers rallied to defend the southern borders of their adopted country against invasion from the United States. Drawing on diaries, letters, classified documents, and the regimental archive, Jarymowycz weaves the strands of a complex story into an epic narrative of a resolute collective of officers and men. Since its birth in 1862 as the 5th Battalion Volunteer Militia Rifles of Canada, thousands of citizens have served in the unit. In addition to securing Canada's borders, Black Watch soldiers have fought in the South African War, both world wars, and the Korean War. They have bolstered NATO operations and United Nations peacekeeping missions and they provided aid to the civil power during the 1997 Quebec and Eastern Ontario ice storm disaster and the COVID-19 pandemic. The Montreal-based battalion continues to serve Canada in its traditional role as a reserve infantry unit and to this day, Black Watch soldiers frequently deploy on dangerous missions abroad.

In volume 1, readers will learn of the Black Watch's origins, its first foreign enterprise, the South African War, and a detailed account of the Great War where the regiment evolved from the 5th Royal Highlanders to become the Canadian Black Watch as they were known throughout the empire. The Montreal regiment trained four battalions for overseas duty, three of which participated in the greatest battles of the First World War, an unprecedented accomplishment. This volume not only offers a critical analysis of campaigns, key actions, and tactical evolution but also includes an intimate and compelling account of the sacrifices that forged this extraordinary regiment.

In volume 2, we are offered the story of the bloody battlefields of the Second World War when the Black Watch joined Commonwealth regiments to defeat the Axis Powers. After a quick mobilization in 1939 and a long wait in England, the Black Watch experienced a baptism by fire at Dieppe Landing in Normandy. After D-Day, the regiment fought in France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Germany, its distinguished service earning numerous honours. As well as discussing these military engagements, Jarymowycz reveals the many difficulties with recruiting, training, recovering from devastating battles, communicating with higher command, and the quality and scarcity of reinforcements.

Volume 3 relates the regiment's post-Second World War story. Canada's commitments to NATO and the United Nations led to the creation of two regular battalions of the Black Watch while retaining the reserve battalion in Montreal. From 1953 to 1970, in Korea, Germany, Cyprus, and Canada, the regular battalions served with devotion and courage. The thousands of men who were based at Camp Aldershot, Nova Scotia, and the Regimental Depot in Sussex New Brunswick then moved to establish a Regular Force Home Station in the newly constructed Camp Gagetown NB These units earned a reputation second to none in efficiency training fighting ability readiness and strength This monumental history of Canada's oldest Highland regiment is at once a record of Scottish heritage a portrait of Montreal rising as an industrial giant and an examination of the emergence of a military culture from the Western Front
