filmmaker and political commentator The Greatest Evil is War Chris Hedges, 2022-09-20 An unflinching indictment of the horror and obscenity of war by one of our finest war correspondents Drawn from experience and interviews by Pulitzer prize winner Chris Hedges this book looks at the hidden costs of war what it does to individuals families communities and nations In fifteen short chapters Chris Hedges astonishes us with his clear and cogent argument against war not on philosophical grounds or through moral arguments but in an irrefutable stream of personal encounters with the victims of war from veterans and parents to gravely wounded American serviceman who served in the Iraq War to survivors of the Holocaust to soldiers in the Falklands War among others Hedges reported from Sarajevo and was in the Balkans to witness the collapse of the Soviet Union In 2002 he published War Is a Force that Gives Us Meaning which the Los Angeles Times described as the best kind of war journalism bitterly poetic and ruthlessly philosophical and the New York Times called a brilliant thoughtful timely and unsettling book In the twenty years since Hedges has not wanted to write another book on the subject of war until now with the outbreak of war in Ukraine It is important again to be reminded who are the victors of the spoils of war and of other unerring truths not only in this war but in all modern wars where civilians are always the main victims and the tools and methods of war are capable of so much destruction it boggles the mind This book is an unflinching indictment of the horror and obscenity of war by one of our finest war correspondents Energy and US Foreign Policy gripping book considers the history techniques and goals of child targeted consumer campaigns and examines children s changing perceptions of what commodities they need to be valued and value themselves In this critique of America s consumption based society author Jennifer Hill chronicles the impact of consumer culture on children from the evolution of childhood play to a child s self perception as a consumer to the consequences of this generation s repeated media exposure to violence Hill proposes that corporations eager to tap into a multibillion dollar market use the power of advertising and the media to mold children s thoughts and behaviors The book features vignettes with teenagers explaining in their own words

how advertising determines their needs wants and self esteem An in depth analysis of this research reveals the influence of media on a young person s desire to conform shows how broadcasted depictions of beauty distort the identities of children and teens and uncovers corporate agendas for manipulating behavior in the younger generation The work concludes with the position that corporations are shaping children to be efficient consumers but in return are harming their developing young minds and physical well being

The Rhetoric of the New Political Documentary Thomas W Benson,Brian J Snee,2008-05-23 The Rhetoric of the New Political Documentary explores the most visible and volatile element in the 2004 presidential campaign the partisan documentary film This collection of original critical essays by leading scholars and critics including Shawn J and Trevor Parry Giles Jennifer L Borda and Martin J Medhurst analyzes a selection of political documentaries that appeared during the 2004 election season The editors examine the new political documentary with the tools of rhetorical criticism combining close textual analysis with a consideration of the historical context and the production and reception of the films The essays address the distinctive rhetoric of the new political documentary with the films typically having been shot with relatively low budgets in video and using interviews and stock footage rather than observation of uncontrolled behavior The quality was often good enough and interest was sufficiently intense that the films were shown in theaters and on television which provided legitimacy and visibility before they were released soon afterwards on DVD and VHS and marketed on the Internet

The volume reviews such films as Michael Moore's Fahrenheit 9/11, two refutations of Moore's film Fahrenheit 9/11 and Celsius 41.11, Unprecedented: The 2000 Presidential Election, and George W. Bush Faith in the White House, films that experimented with a variety of angles and rhetorics from a mix of comic disparagement and earnest confrontation to various emulations of traditional news and documentary voices. The Rhetoric of the New Political Documentary represents the continued transformation of American political discourse in a partisan and contentious time and showcases the independent voices and the political power brokers that struggled to find new ways to debate the status quo and employ surrogate independents to create a counterrhetoric.

The Self-destruction of the West Damien François, 2007. Voilà dix mille ans plus de dix mille ans que la civilisation occidentale s'est installée et voilà dix mille ans qu'elle viole le sens même de la nature, la vie. En s'appropriant sans concession ce qui l'entourait, l'homme de l'Ouest a vu son horizon ployer sous la charge de la destruction qu'il lui avait lui-même réalisée. Sommes-nous des lycanthropes ou des vampires? Ces monstres si terrifiants qui sortent de notre imagination sont-ils en réalité la copie de notre comportement de vastateur? Prétendons-nous pomper sans remords les énergies qui nous entourent? Jusqu'où ira-t-on?

Academic Diary Les Back, 2016-03-25. Sharp and witty observations of academic life that range from the local to the global, from PowerPoint to the halls of power. Is a university education still relevant? What are the forces that threaten it? Should academics ever be allowed near Twitter? In Academic Diary, Les Back has chronicled three decades of his academic career, turning his sharp and often satirical eye to the everyday aspects of life on campus and the larger forces that are reshaping it. Presented as a collection of entries from a single academic year, the diary moves from the local to the global, from PowerPoint to the halls of power. With entries like Ivory Towers and The Library Angel, these smart, humorous, and sometimes absurd campus tales not only demystify the opaque rituals of scholarship but also offer a personal perspective on the far-reaching issues of university life. Commenting on topics that range from the impact of commercialization and fee increases to measurement and auditing research, the diary offers a critical analysis of higher education today. At the same time, it is a passionate argument for the life of the mind, the importance of collaborative thinking, and the reasons that scholarship and writing are still vital for making sense of our troubled and divided world.

Will They Ever Trust Us Again? Michael Moore, 2005-07-07. Will They Ever Trust Us Again? brings together hundreds of never-before-published letters that Mike has been sent from GIs serving in Iraq and Afghanistan, from troops in US bases, from their mothers, wives, and friends back home, from veterans who've fought around the globe, to show the reality beneath the political spin and TV propaganda. Their politics may vary from the Bushwhacked to the patriotic, but they all feel let down and lied to by government; they know the human cost of waging wars for the rich, and now they've had enough. Explosive, angry, moving, and funny, this book shows who's really winning the battle for hearts and minds on the front line.

I Sing the Body Politic Peter Swirski, 2009-09-01. A critical investigation of the dead ends, dead metaphors, dead bodies, and other historical constants of American politics.

people who played key roles in Michael Moore's life from the nuns at his boyhood Catholic school to Ralph Nader and other employers not to mention a seven foot chicken For the first time this definitive biography traces the untold story of the 30 years of struggles and failures that led to the overnight success of this quintessential late bloomer Modernism and Mourning Patricia Rae, 2007 The essays in Modernism and Mourning examine the work of mourning in modernist literature or more precisely its propensity for resisting this work Drawing from recent developments in the theory and cultural history of mourning its contributors explore the various ways in which modernist writers repudiate Freud's famous injunction to mourners to work through their grief endorsing instead a resistant or melancholic mourning that shapes both their themes and their radical experiments with form The emerging picture of the pervasive influence of melancholic mourning in modernist literature casts new light on longstanding critical arguments especially those about the politics of modernism It also makes clear the pertinence of this literature to the present day in which the catastrophic losses of 9 11 of retaliatory war of racially motivated genocide of the AIDS epidemic have made the work of mourning a subject of widespread interest and debate Patricia Rae is Head of the Department of English at Queen's University The Vast Left Wing Conspiracy Byron York, 2006 Provides a provocative look at how liberal media money and minds have united to take control of American politics working together on an unprecedented scale under the leadership of Hillary Clinton Michael Moore George Soros and others to transform American culture Reprint 25 000 first printing
