The Nineteenth-Century Novel: Realisms Delia Correa Sousa de,2013-05-13 The essays in this volume trace the experimentation of nineteenth century writers in advancing new modes of realist fiction while revitalizing the inheritance of the Gothic and the Romantic Focusing on some of the most popular novels of the century Northanger Abbey Jayne Eyre Dombey and Son Middlemarch Far from the Madding Crowd and Germinal this attractive volume explores some of the recurring themes in nineteenth century fiction aspiration and vocation social class sexual politics political reform colonialism and commerce This is an ideal introduction to some of the major fictional achievements of the first industrial era and to most of the crucial themes in nineteenth century fiction

The Nineteenth-century Novel Delia da Sousa Correa,2000 This text explores the scope and variety of the great novels of the 19th century The essays in this collection trace the experimentation of 19th century writers in advancing new modes of realist fiction

Nineteenth-Century Literary Realism Katherine

Kearns,1996-01-26 A challenging rethinking of traditional theories and redefinition of the genre of realism

Psychological Realism in 19th Century Fiction Debashish Sen, 2019-12-10 This book is a study of psychological realism in select works from nineteenth century fiction namely Fathers and Sons Anna Karenina The Mill on the Floss and Jane Eyre It shows how psychoanalytic theories may be applied to illuminate various aspects of the psyches of characters in these texts The book provides evidence that theories like John Bowlby's Attachment Theory and Karen Horney's Personality Theory can go a long way in enhancing our understanding of literary characters the meaning of the text its relation to its creator and the author's psychology As such it brings forth a novel view of literary criticism and will serve to convince the reader that a critical approach devoid and dismissive of the psychological aspect is incomplete and hurts literary criticism on Legal Realisms Christine Holbo, 2019-08-01 United States historians have long regarded the U S Civil War and the whole its Reconstruction as a second American revolution Literary scholars however have yet to show how fully these years revolutionized the American imagination Emblematic of this moment was the post war search for a Great American Novel a novel fully adequate to the breadth and diversity of the United States in the era of the Fourteenth Amendment While the passage of the Reconstruction Amendments declared the ideal of equality before the law a reality persistent and increasing inequality challenged idealists and realists alike The controversy over what full representation should mean sparked debates about the value of cultural difference and aesthetic dissonance and it led to a thoroughgoing reconstruction of the meaning of realism for readers writers politics and law The dilemmas of incomplete emancipation which would damage and define American life from the late nineteenth century onwards would also force novelists to reconsider the definition and possibilities of the novel as a genre of social representation Legal Realisms examines these transformations in the face of uneven developments in the racial ethnic gender and class structure of American society Offering provocative new readings of Mark Twain Henry James William Dean Howells Helen Hunt Jackson Albion Tourg e and others Christine Holbo explores the transformation of the novel s distinctive modes of social knowledge in relation to developments in art philosophy law politics and moral theory As Legal Realisms follows the novel through the worlds of California Native American removal and the Reconstruction era South of the Mississippi valley and the urban Northeast this study shows how violence prejudice and exclusion haunted the celebratory literatures of national equality but it demonstrates as well the way novelists representation of the difficulty of achieving equality before the law helped Americans articulate the need for a more robust concept of social Empirical Knowledge in the Eighteenth-Century Novel Aaron R. Hanlon, 2022-11-17 This Element examines the eighteenth century novel s contributions to empirical knowledge Realism has been the conventional framework for treating this subject within literary studies This Element identifies the limitations of the realism framework for addressing the guestion of knowledge in the eighteenth century novel Moving beyond the familiar focus in the study of novelistic realism on problems of perception and representation this Element focuses instead on how the eighteenth century novel staged problems of inductive reasoning It argues that we should understand the novel s contributions to empirical knowledge primarily in terms of what the novel offered as training ground for methods of reasoning rather than what it offered in terms of formal innovations for representing knowledge We learn from such a shift that the eighteenth century novel was not a failed experiment in realism or in representing things as they are but a valuable system for reasoning and thought Landscapes of Realism Dirk Göttsche, Rosa Mucignat, Robert Weninger, 2021-04-15 Few literary phenomena experiment are as elusive and yet as persistent as realism While it responds to the perennial impulse to use literature to reflect on experience it also designates a specific set of literary and artistic practices that emerged in response to Western modernity Landscapes of Realism is a two volume collaborative interdisciplinary exploration of this vast territory bringing together leading edge new criticism on the realist paradigms that were first articulated in nineteenth century Europe but have since gone on globally to transform the literary landscape Tracing the manifold ways in which these paradigms are developed discussed and contested across time space cultures and media this first volume tackles in its five core essays and twenty five case studies such questions as why realism emerged when it did why and how it developed such a transformative dynamic across languages to what extent realist poetics remain central to art and popular culture after 1900 and how generally to reassess realism from a twenty first century comparative perspective Realism Pam Morris, 2004-06-02 A clear reader friendly guide to debates around realism this guide is vital reading for students of literature in particular those working on the realist novel Realism and Space in the Novel, 1795-1869 Rosa Mucignat, 2016-04-01 Posing new questions about realism and the creative power of narratives Rosa Mucignat takes a fresh look at the relationship between representation and reality As Mucignat points out worlds evoked in fiction all depend to a greater or lesser extent on the world we know from experience but they are neither parasites on nor copies of those realms Never fully aligned with the real world stories grow out of the mismatch between reality and representation those areas of the fictional space that are not located on actual maps but still form a fully structured imagined geography Mucignat offers new readings of six foundational texts of modern Western culture Goethe s Wilhelm Meister s Apprenticeship Jane Austen s Mansfield Park Alessandro Manzoni s The Betrothed Stendahl ss The Red and the Black Charles Dickens s Great Expectations and Gustave Flaubert s Sentimental Education Using these texts as source material and supporting evidence for a new and comprehensive theory of space in fiction she examines the links between the nineteenth century novel s interest in creating substantial life like worlds and contemporary developments in science art and society Mucignat's book is an evocative analysis of the way novels marshal their technical and stylistic resources to produce imagined geographies so complex and engrossing that they intensify and even transform the reader s experience of real life places Representation and the Twentieth-century Novel Paul D. Morris.2005 The Nineteenth-Century Novel and the Pre-Cinematic Imagination Alberto Gabriele, 2024-11-14 This book fills a gap in existing scholarship on the history of the novel in relation to visual culture by discussing the visual fascination that novelists such as Nathaniel Hawthorne Herman Melville Honor de Balzac and George Eliot show for several types of pre cinematic spectacle It also identifies a so far neglected aspect of novel theory that nineteenth century authors elaborated by incorporating suggestions from pre cinematic visual spectacles By shedding light on forms of visuality that were not entertained by the dominant aesthetic modes of painting and photography The Nineteenth Century Novel and the Pre Cinematic Imagination argues that the presence of nineteenth century pre cinematic optical illusions in works of fiction redefines the notion of mimesis as animated movement and points to a continuity between pre cinema the literary imagination and the structures of knowledge production of the modern episteme The Persistence of Realism in Modernist Fiction Paul Stasi, 2022-10-06 Demonstrates the persistence of realism's characteristic concerns sympathy melodrama gender and class in the most aesthetically innovative works of modernist fiction Rendering French Realism Lawrence R. Schehr, 1997-07-01 Realist novels are usually seen as verisimilar representations of the world and even when that verisimilitude is critically examined as it has been by Marxist and feminist critics the criticism has referred to extra literary matters such as bourgeois ideology or defects in the portrayal of women This book takes as its thesis that the point defining realism is the point at which the processes of representation break down a sort of black hole of textuality a rent in the tissue The author argues that our notions of continuity of readability of representability or our ideas about unity and ideological shift or even our notions of what is hidden occulted or absent all come from the nineteenth century realist model itself Instead of assuming representability the author argues that we should look at places where the texts do not continue the representationalist model where there is a sudden falling off an abyss Instead of seeing that point as a shortcoming the author argues that it is equal to the mimetic successes of representation After an initial chapter dealing with the limits and ruptures of textuality the book considers the work of Stendhal from its early state as a precursor to the later realism to La Chartreuse de Parme which shows how the act of communication for Stendhal is always made of silences gaps and interruptions The author then reads several works of Balzac showing how he while setting up the praxes of continuity on which his oeuvre depends ruptures the works at various strategic points In a chapter entitled Romantic Interruptions works of Nerval and the younger Dumas seemingly unrelated to the realist project are shown to be marked by the ideological representational and semiotic assumptions that produced Balzac The book concludes with Flaubert looking both at how Flaubert incessantly makes things unfit and how critics even the most perspicacious postmodern ones often try to smooth over the permanent crisis of rupture that is the sign of Flaubert's writing Realism's Empire Geoffrey Baker, 2009 Nineteenth-century American Short Story A. Robert Lee, 1986-01-01 This collection addresses the key American short story writers Poe Irving Melville Hawthorne Twain Crane Bierce Chopin and James and addresses both the vision and the design of their collective achievement Konstruktion Lynne Tatlock, 1990 Indian English Novel in the Nineties Sheo Bhushan Shukla, Anu Shukla, 2002 Contributed articles Affect and Realism in Contemporary Brazilian Fiction Karl Erik Schollhammer, 2020-12-15 This book is about contemporary Brazilian fiction from the past two decades and concerned with the possibilities of literary intervention in the reality of the historical moment Thus an understanding of the actual role of literature is strategic in the definition of the contemporary and the book shows an optimism among current writers and artists with respect to the aesthetic ethical and political role of literature and art in the twentieth century In contemporary Brazilian prose two simultaneous ambitions are often reconciled The commitment to individual or social reality is a challenge that is assumed without thereby necessarily accepting and following the molds of the traditional search for national or cultural identities. This foundation is one of the constants of contemporary prose without thereby eliminating the continuous existence of a formal experimentalism that is the clearest heir of the modernist project Narrative Factuality Monika Fludernik, Marie-Laure Ryan, 2019-12-16 The study of narrative the object of the rapidly growing discipline of narratology has been traditionally concerned with the fictional narratives of literature such as novels or short stories But narrative is a transdisciplinary and transmedial concept whose manifestations encompass both the fictional and the factual In this volume which provides a companion piece to Tobias Klauk and Tilmann K ppe s Fiktionalit t Ein interdisziplin res Handbuch the use of narrative to convey true and reliable information is systematically explored across media cultures and disciplines as well as in its narratological stylistic philosophical and rhetorical dimensions At a time when the notion of truth has come under attack it is imperative to reaffirm the commitment to facts of certain types of narrative and to examine critically the foundations of this commitment But because it takes a background for a figure to emerge clearly this book will also explore nonfactual types of narratives thereby providing insights into the nature of narrative fiction that could not be reached from the narrowly literary perspective of early narratology Realism, Form, and Representation in the Edwardian Novel Charlotte Jones, 2021 Charts developments in literary realism between fin de si cle naturalism and early modernism by examining a wide range of realist novels from the Edwardian period focusing in particular on works by Joseph

Conrad May Sinclair Arnold Bennett H G Wells and Ford Madox Ford
