

MODELS OF CLINICAL TEACHING

- Teaching model- the clinical instruction and evaluation of group of students are executed by academic faculty members who were supervising the students during the clinical experience.–
- Instructors accompany groups (8-12 learners) to a clinical agency and assign them to patients.
- Relies heavily on keeping nursing students in a skills laboratory until they are proficient with skills
- More information about clinical practice should be taught in the classroom before learners go.

Americans ability to compete in world markets is eroding The productivity growth of our competitors outdistances our own The capacity of our economy to provide a high standard of living for all our people is increasingly in doubt As jobs requiring little skill are automated or go offshore and demand increases for the highly skilled the pool of educated and skilled people grows smaller and the backwater of the unemployable rises Large numbers of American children are in limbo ignorant of the past and unprepared for the future Many are dropping out not just out of school but out of productive society These are not my words They are a direct quote from the Executive Summary of the Carnegie Forum Report on Education and the Economy entitled A Nation Prepared Teachers for the 21st Century p 2 1986 This report was motivated by four purposes 1 To remind Americans yet again of the economic challenges pressing us on all sides 2 To assert the primacy of education as the foundation of economic growth equal opportunity and a shared national vision 3 To reaffirm that the teaching profession is the best hope for establishing new standards of excellence as the hallmark of American education and 4 To point out that a remarkable window of opportunity lies before us in the next decade to reform education an opportunity that may not present itself again until well into the next century Routledge International Companion to Education Miriam Ben-Peretz, Sally Brown, Bob Moon, 2004-04-28 The Routledge International Companion to Education aims to address the key issues underpinning the rethinking and restructuring of education at the beginning of the new millennium Reflective Teacher Education Linda Valli, 1992-01-01 The Role of the University in the Preparation of Teachers Robert A. The Role of the University in the Preparation of Teachers the late Robert Roth, 2005-08-04 Addresses a subject of common interest in developed countries the apparently diminishing role of universities in the education of teachers There is pressure to redesign teacher education an on going struggle between those who see the need to strengthen the knowledge base of teachers and those who favour learning on the job there is a perceived need to define precisely what teachers need to know and be able to do and at the same time there is relaxation of entry standards for students entering the profession in an attempt to relieve the chronic shortage of teachers This situation is prevalent in the USA in the UK Europe and Australia The struggle over who should control the preparation of teachers is the significant emerging issue in education and could change the whole structure of the teacher preparation The First Years of Teaching Gary A.
