The Book of Leviticus from the Gözleve Bible Murat Işık,2024-12-16 The status of Crimean Karaim an extinct eastern dialect of Karaim has long been a subject of debate among scholars Some have labeled it a ghost dialect while others argue it assimilated into Crimean Tatar over time The oldest written records of this dialect predominantly appear in Bible translations The language of the corpus in this volume specifically the Book of Leviticus from the so called G zleve Bible printed in 1841 is also identified as Crimean Karaim Past research primarily analyzed the edition based on short fragments often describing it as showing signs of Tatarization and sometimes as being created based on Western Karaim manuscripts This volume offers a comprehensive examination of the linguistic features of an understudied biblical book from this translation to address these claims providing a transcription translation and a facsimile of the original text The linguistic examinations delving into phonology morphology morphophonology syntax morphosyntax and lexicon suggest that while the translation embodies the oldest traditions of Karaim Bible translations it also reflects specific linguistic trends of its time illustrating the nature of a mixed variant of Crimean Karaim
