Joseph CARSTAIRS, 1822      German Art History and Scientific Thought Mitchell B. Frank, 2017-07-05 A fresh contribution to the ongoing debate between Kunstwissenschaft scientific study of art and Kunstgeschichte art history this essay collection explores how German speaking art historians of the late nineteenth and early twentieth century self consciously generated a field of study Prominent North American and European scholars provide new insights into how a mixing of diverse methodologies took place in order to gain a more subtle and comprehensive understanding of how art history became institutionalized and legitimized in Germany One common assumption about early art historical writing in Germany is that it depended upon a simplistic and narrowly defined formalism This book helps to correct this stereotype by demonstrating the complexity of discussion surrounding formalist concerns and by examining how German speaking art historians borrowed incorporated stole and made analogies with concepts from the sciences in formulating their methods In focusing on the work of some of the well known fathers of the discipline such as Alois Riegl and Heinrich Wölfflin as well as on lesser known figures the essays in this volume provide illuminating and sometimes surprising treatments of art history's prior and understudied interactions with a wide range of scientific orientations from psychology sociology and physiognomics to evolutionism and comparative anatomy      History Painting Reassessed David Green, Peter Seddon, 2000      Tal Stern gast. Twelve

Paintings Michael Eissenhauer, Tal Stern, 2020-12-04 Berlin's Gemäldegalerie is known for its outstanding collection of European paintings from the thirteenth to eighteenth century Each chapter in this book is dedicated to one painting from the collection In the breadth of this idiosyncratic selection painting as it discovers itself becomes a medium for the formulation of modern subjectivity Each painting in focus unfolds its own making and its artistic concerns as they reflect contemporary issues today What are the paradoxes within which art is made by women How does the primordial drive to destroy works of art affect today's art discourse Where did the modern struggle of painting against the picture begin Why does the Wild Man from early German Renaissance still haunt us And why doesn't it matter whether Jan Vermeer used an optical device for his paintings Twelve Paintings highlights the currentness of the Old Masters      History of Painting: Ancient, early

Christian and mediæval painting Alfred Woltmann, 1880      Conceptual Art and Painting Charles Harrison, 2001 In Conceptual Art and Painting a companion to his Essays on Art and Language Charles Harrison reconsiders Conceptual Art in light of renewed interest in the original movement and of the various forms of neo Conceptual art Publisher's description

History of Ancient, Early Christian, and Mediæval Painting Alfred Woltmann, Karl Woermann, 1880      History of Ancient, Early Christian, and Mediaeval Painting Alfred Friedrich Gottfried Albert Woltmann, Karl Woermann, 1894

Critical Perspectives on Contemporary Painting Jonathan P. Harris, 2003-01-01 Comprising examples of artwork and a series of essays this collection examines and assesses the current status of painting within global contemporary art It sheds light on fine art as it is understood as a facet of a global culture and society dominated by Northern European and US power and history

Aesthetic Hybridity in Mughal Painting, 1526-1658 Valerie Gonzalez, 2016-03-03 The first specialized critical aesthetic study to be published on the concept of hybridity in early Mughal painting this book investigates the workings of the diverse creative forces that led to the formation of a unique Mughal pictorial language Mughal pictoriality distinguishes itself from the Persianate models through the rationalization of the picture's conceptual structure and other visual modes of expression involving the aesthetic concept of mimesis If the stylistic and iconographic results of this transformational process have been well identified and evidenced their hermeneutic interpretation greatly suffers from the neglect of a methodologically updated investigation of the images conceptual underpinning Valerie Gonzalez addresses this lacuna by exploring the operations of cross fertilization at the level of imagistic conceptualization resulting from the multifaceted encounter between the local legacy of Indo Persianate book art the freshly imported Persian models to Mughal India after 1555 and the influx of European art at the Mughal court in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries The author's close examination of the visuality metaphysical order and aesthetic language of Mughal imagery and portraiture sheds new light on this particular aspect of its aesthetic hybridity which is usually approached monolithically as a historical phenomenon of cross cultural interaction That approach fails to consider specific parameters and features inherent to the artistic practice such as the differences between doxis and praxis conceptualization and realization intentionality and what lies beyond it By studying the distinct phases and principles of hybridization between the variegated pictorial sources at work in the Mughal creative process at the successive levels of the project intention the practice realization and the result product the author deciphers the modalities of appropriation and manipulation of the heterogeneous elements Her unique
