Travel and Modernist Literature Alexandra Peat,2012-03-28 Through close readings of works from Henry James to W E B Du Bois and from Virginia Woolf to Jean Rhys this book discusses how fictional travelers negotiate and adapt various tropes of travel such as quest expatriation displacement and exile as models for their own journeys Specifically Peat considers the ethical dimensions of modernist travel from two distinct vantages The first focuses on the relationship between the secular and the sacred in modernist travel literature arguing that the recurrent narrative of secular travel is haunted by a desire for spiritual transcendence The second posits modernist travel fiction as a potentially positive example of transcultural relations consciously arguing against the received notion that travel during an imperial era is always by nature itself imperialist Throughout particular attention is paid to the transnational nature of modernism and the various global flows traced by modernist literature

Nietzsche and the Dionysian Peter Durno Murray,2018-06-19 Nietzsche and the Dionysian argues that the shuddering mania of the affect associated with Dionysus in Nietzsche s early work runs as a thread through his thought and is linked to an originary interruption of self consciousness articulated by the philosophical companion In this capacity the companion can be considered a mask of Dionysus or one who assumes the singular role of the transmitter of the most valuable affirmative affect and initiates a compulsion to respond which incorporates the otherness of the companion In the context of such engagements Nietzsche envisages Dionysian or divine madness within an optics of life through which an affirmative ethics can be thought The ethical response to the philosophical companion requires an affirmation of the plurality of life formulated in the imperatives to be true to the earth and become who you are Such an ethics compelled by the Dionysian affect grounds any future for humanity in the affirmation of the earth and life

The Birth of Sense Don Beith, 2018-04-01 In The Birth of Sense Don Beith proposes a new concept of generative passivity the idea that our organic psychological and social activities take time to develop into sense More than being a limit passivity marks out the way in which organisms persons and interbodily systems take time in order to manifest a coherent sense Beith situates his argument within contemporary debates about evolution developmental biology scientific causal explanations psychology postmodernism social constructivism and critical race theory Drawing on empirical studies and phenomenological reflections Beith argues that in nature novel meaning emerges prior to any type of constituting activity or deterministic plan The Birth of Sense is an original phenomenological investigation in the style of Maurice Merleau Ponty and it demonstrates that the French philosopher's works cohere around the notion that life is radically expressive While Merleau Ponty's early works are widely interpreted as arguing for the primacy of human consciousness Beith argues that a pivotal redefinition of passivity is already under way here and extends throughout Merleau Ponty's corpus This work introduces new concepts in contemporary philosophy to interrogate how organic development involves spontaneous expression how personhood emerges from this bodily growth and how our interpersonal human life remains rooted in and often thwarted by domains of bodily expressivity
