Religious Conversion and Personal Identity Virgil Bailey Gillespie, 1979 Religious Conversion and Personal Identity Wilfrid James Jolicoeur, 1991 Religious Conversion and Identity Massimo Leone, 2004-06-01

The way in which people change and represent their spiritual evolution is often determined by recurrent language structures. Through the analysis of ancient and modern stories and their words and images, this book describes the nature of conversion through explorations of the encounter with the religious message, the discomfort of spiritual uncertainty, the loss of personal and social identity, the anxiety of destabilization, the reconstitution of the self, and the discovery of a new language of the soul.

Identity Crises and Indigenous Religious Traditions Elijah Obinna, 2017-02-10. This book highlights the complex identity crises among many Christians as they negotiate their new identities, religious ideas, and convictions as both Christians and members of Nigerian African societies of indigenous religious traditions and identities. Through an interdisciplinary interpretation of religious practices and educational issues in teaching and ritual training, the author provides tools to help analyse empirical cases. These include the negotiation processes among Christians with focus on the Presbyterian Church of Nigeria (PCN) and members of the Ogo society within the Amasiri Afikpo North Local Government Area, Ebonyi state in South-eastern Nigeria. Identifying the power dynamic, identity role, and influence of indigenous religions on Christians and the Ogo society, this book reveals the limited interactions between many Christians and members of the Ogo society. Questions explored include what makes the Ogo society an integral part of the socio-religious life of Amasiri and what powers and identity does it confer on the initiates? How is the PCN within Amasiri responding to the Ogo society through its religious practices such as baptism, confirmation, local auxiliary ministries, and organisational structure? And how does the understanding and application of conversion within the PCN impact on its members' response to the Ogo society? Demonstrating how complex religious identities and practices of Nigerian African Christians can balance mission-influenced Christianity with indigenous religious traditions and identities, this book recognises the importance of appropriating the powers of indigenous cultures, ingenuity, and creativity in the construction and preservation of community identities. As such, it will be of keen interest to scholars of Christian theology, indigenous religious practice, and African lived religion.

Complex Identities in a Shifting World Pamela Couture, Robert Mager, Pamela McCarroll, Natalie Wigg-Stevenson, 2015. Clear and well-defined identities are hard to sustain in a rapidly shifting world. Peoples' goods and cultures are on the move. The internet and other technologies increase the amount, the speed, and the intensity of cultural exchanges. Individuals, organizations, and nations develop complex identities out of many traditions, different ideals, various ways of life, and many models of organization. Religious traditions both collide and interact with spiritual journeys crossing religious boundaries. In this book, more than 20 contributors from different backgrounds and academic disciplines offer an array of practical theological perspectives to help understand these complex identities and negotiate this shifting world. Daniel Defoe and the Representation of Personal Identity Christopher Borsing, 2016-08-25 The concept of a personal identity was a contentious issue in the early eighteenth century John Locke's philosophical discussion of personal identity in An Essay Concerning Human Understanding fostered a public debate upon the status of an immortal Christian soul This book argues that Defoe like many of this age had religious difficulties with Locke's empiricist analysis of human identity In particular it examines how Defoe explores competitive individualism as a social threat while also demonstrating the literary and psychological fiction of any concept of a separated lone identity This foreshadows Michel Foucault's assertion that the idea of man is a recent invention a figure not yet two centuries old a new wrinkle in our knowledge The monograph s engagement with Defoe s destabilization of any definition or image of personal identity across a wide range of genres including satire political propaganda history conduct literature travel narrative spiritual autobiography piracy and history economic and scientific literature rogue biography scandalous and secret history dystopian documentary science fiction and apparition narrative is an important and original contribution to the literary and cultural understanding of the early eighteenth century as it interrogates and challenges modern presumptions of individual identity Conversion To Islam Ali Kose,2012-11-12 First Published in 1996 Religious conversion is an immensely complex phenomenon The term comprises such diverse experiences as increased devotion within the same religious structure a shift from no religious commitment to a devout religious life or a change from one religion to another This study focuses on the conversion experiences of 70 native British converts to Islam It addresses the following questions why do people become Muslims what are the backgrounds of the converts what are the patterns of conversion to Islam and how far are existing conversion theories applicable to the group under study The full range of social and psychological forces at work in the conversion experience are examined with reference to the converts whose whole life history childhood adolescent experiences and the conversion process itself were examined in detail Chapter 1 deals with the history and present situation of both life long Muslims and converts living in Britain Chapter 2 focuses on childhood and adolescent experiences reviewing the psychological and sociological theories of conversion and attempts to find out how far these theories are applicable to the converts to Islam Chapter 3 examines the backgrounds of the converts regarding religion It then analyzes the immediate antecedents of the conversion as well as the conversion process focussing on version motifs A conversion process model is also developed in this chapter Chapter 4 looks at the post conversion period to find out what changes the converts underwent It also examines the relationship between converts their parents and society at large Chapter 5 reveals the findings on conversion through Sufism Comparisons between conversion through Sufism and through new religious movements in the West are also made This study should be an important addition to the study of religious conversion as conversion to Islam either from outside or within Islam is widely neglected in the literature An Ethos of Blackness Vivaldi

Rastafari's theology exploring its reinterpretation of biblical scriptures and its foundations in the rejection of Christianity's Eurocentrism and racism. However, he insists before Rastafari can fulfill its promise of liberation for people of African descent, it must confront its failure to include women and redress sexism. Through rigorous and sensitive reflections on Rastafari culture and cosmology, this book offers deeply original insights into the Black theological imagination. Faith, Scepticism and Personal Identity Terence Penelhum, 1994 The Maturing Church Ermias G. Mamo, 2017-12-31 For a church to be considered mature, an integrated approach between contextualization, discipleship, and mission is required. Globally, the church is facing multiple challenges both from within and from without. Despite the challenges, however, churches in the Majority World continue to grow rapidly. But is this growth in numbers accompanied by spiritual depth? And is this growth built upon biblical and theological foundations so that the church can play its transforming role in the world? In this book, Dr. Ermias Mamo makes the case for an integrated approach, guiding the reader through the topics of discipleship, mission, and contextualization, for which he uses his home country of Ethiopia as a working example. Dr. Mamo closes with strategies for effective contextualized discipleship and the impact such an approach will have on the future of the church. This is a resource that will benefit all who wish to be part of a church that seeks to shape its theological learning, institutional structure, and core values around their identity in Christ and God-given mission.
