Religious Pluralism A Metaphorical Approach:

Religious Pluralism, 2000 Religious Pluralism stems from a series of Gifford Research Fellowship lectures A stipulation of these lectures is that they be public popular addressed to the intelligent lay person not just the specialist Religious Pluralism is not written from the stance of any particular faith It addresses issues that might concern anyone who thinks about religion particularly the individual in search of or interested in choosing a faith We live in a religiously plural world one in which Buddhism Christianity Hinduism Islam Judaism Sikhism Taoism etc variously picture the nature purpose of human existence Which religious account if any should we accept on what ground Is it legitimate to construct a world view using material from several faiths Using the image of a hall of mirrors to symbolize our new multi religious consciousness Religious Pluralism A Metaphorical Approach considers how the individual might answer such challenging questions Chris Arthur received a PhD from the University of Edinburgh where he took a First Class Honours degree in Religious Studies In 1984 he was awarded the Gifford Research Fellowship at the University of St Andrews At the University of Wales he teaches courses in Buddhism Religion the Media Methodology Process and Pluralism Zhihe Wang, 2013-05-02 This book offers a uniquely process relational oriented Chinese approach to inter religious dialogue called Chinese Harmonism The key features of Chinese harmonism are peaceful co existence mutual transformation and openness to change As developed with help from Whiteheadian process thought Chinese harmonism provides a middle way between particularism and universalism showing how diversity can exist within unity Chinese harmonism is open to similarities among religions but it also emphasizes that differences among religions can be complementary rather than contradictory Thus Chinese harmonism implies an attitude of respect for others and a willingness to learn from others without reducing the other to one's own identity that is to sameness By emphasizing the possibility of complementariness a process oriented Chinese harmonism avoids a dichotomy between universalism and particularism represented respectively by John Hick and S Mark Heim and will make room for a genuine openness and do justice to the culturally and religiously other Prolegomena to Religious Pluralism P.

Byrne, 1995-08-23 This book surveys the thesis that all religions are alike in referring and relating to a single common transcendent and sacred reality It treats this thesis as one in the philosophy of religion and systematically sets out its main philosophical strengths and weaknesses The key to understanding and defending pluralism is argued to lie in a realist understanding of religion which is defined by way of an account of the reference of names for sacred transcendent reality

Religion: Empirical Studies Steven J. Sutcliffe, 2017-03-02 Treating religion as a fully social cultural historical and material field of practice this book presents a series of debates and positions on the nature and purpose of the Study of Religions or Religious Studies Offering an introductory guide to this influential and politically relevant academic field the contributors illustrate the diversity and theoretical viability of qualitative empirical methodologies in the study of religions The historical and cultural circumstances attending the emergence defence and future prospects of Religious Studies are documented drawing on theoretical material and case studies prepared within the context of the British Association for the Study of Religions BASR and making frequent reference to wider European North American and other international debates and critiques

The Philosophy of Religion Michael Palmer, 2008 One of the most notable features of the current philosophical climate is the resurgence of interest at school and university in the Philosophy of Religion With his extensive teaching experience at both these levels Dr Michael Palmer has created another invaluable aid for all students and instructors working in this area This two volume anthology is the most comprehensive compilation of major writings now available to the public while its user friendly structure makes it particularly important for students at differing levels of attainment The book includes comprehensive introductions to each topic detailed analysis of each essay biographical information about individual philosophers wide ranging bibliographies and examination questions The result is the most important aid to study in this area now on the market which will be an invaluable resource for students teachers and the general reader alike

Liberal Studies at the Centre for the Promotion of Knowledge and Language Learning Universiti Malaysia Sabah Halina Sendera Mohd. Yakin, Shaffarullah Abdul Rahman, Lai Yew Meng, Romzi Ationg, Jane Wong Kon Ling, This book presents a collection of cross discipline articles that serves to close the documentation gap in liberal arts It is anticipated that the repertoire of knowledge in this book could benefit students from both public and private institutions particularly those taking liberal art courses at the Centre for the Promotion of Knowledge and Language Learning Pusat Penataran Ilmu dan Bahasa PPIB This publication offers resources for academicians and researchers from various fields related to liberal arts Although the articles were based on scientific and academic writing with specific concepts and epistemological thoughts they also contain global and general knowledge concepts which may be appreciated and considered appropriate for public or general reading

John Hick's Pluralist Philosophy of World Religions Paul Rhodes Eddy, 2020-08-26 This title was first published in 2002 One of the most fascinating and controversial interpretations of religious diversity is religious pluralism According to John Hick's model of religious pluralism all the world's great religions are equally valid ways of understanding and responding to the ultimate spiritual reality This book offers an exposition of and critical response to John Hick's model Introducing the various interpretations of religious diversity being discussed today this book presents constructive suggestions as to how things could be further developed to offer a more accurate less confusing presentation of the various options in theology of religions The standard threefold typology of responses to religious diversity exclusivism inclusivism and pluralism are explained and defended Hick's pluralist interpretation of religious diversity is traced culminating in a critical assessment of Hick's pluralistic model and an up to date summary of a variety of critiques directed toward Hick's proposal Paul Rhodes Eddy concludes that Hick's present model is ultimately unsuccessful in retaining both of his long cherished goals a robust religious realism and a consistent religious pluralism whilst overcoming the most difficult problem for the pluralist the fact that the world's religions understand the divine in often contradictory ways      Motherhood as Metaphor Jeannine Hill Fletcher,2013-08 This volume takes women s voices and experiences as the primary data for thinking about interfaith encounter in the modern world It places original work on women in mission the secular women s movement and women in interreligious dialogue in conversation with theological anthropology feminist theory and theology      An Anthropological Approach to Theology Heather Meacock,2000 Heather Meacock in An Anthropological Approach to Theology has compiled an argument based upon the pluralist beliefs of Professor John Hick for the revision of traditional Christianity Hick s pluralist understanding of the theology of religions is influenced by the philosophy of Kant and his theories about society s moral awareness Meacock methodically explicates Hick s views while refuting his critics She claims that some Christian doctrines such as the Incarnation lose meaning when interpreted literally and that Christianity itself must begin to change its self perception to that of one among many world religions This book will interest students of religion philosophy as well as anthropologists interested in religion      Philosophy of Religion in Islam Rahim Acar,M. Cüneyt Kaya,2025-02-13 This is the first anthology to represent the contributions and perspectives of medieval Islamic scholars on philosophy of religion Assembling and translating 63 key texts including many never before published in English it captures the variety and influence of Islamic thought on how we think about the existence of God the problem of evil and the relationship between faith and reason Focusing on the classical period of medieval Islamic thought up until the end of the 13th century this one of a kind reader is organized thematically around five parts and covers Conceptions of faith and reason The possibility of miracles as the sign of divine support Arguments for the God s existence Strategies for understanding religious texts The nature of salvation Each Part has its own specialized introduction relating medieval Islamic discussions on that problem to the contemporary discussions in philosophy of religion Each reading is accompanied by an overview that provides context and background to the argument Broad and rich there is a wealth of translated writing here Granting access to such valuable primary sources this reader offers us deeper insight into the debates discussions and arguments of Islam thinkers on universal questions in philosophy      The Globalization of Communications Chris Arthur,1998 The process of globalization has been accelerated by rapid developments in communication technology Behind the political and economic issues raised by the globalization of communication lie important ethical and religious questions such as for example the effect of our constant exposure through the media to the reality of human suffering far away and the effects on religions and religious people of how the media portray faith      Christian Approaches to Other Faiths Paul Hedges,Alan Race,2009 A reader designed to work on courses concerned with World Religions Interfaith Dialogue and Interfaith Encounter      Democracy and Human Rights in Multicultural Societies Matthias Koenig,Paul F. Creation and Religious Pluralism David Cheetham,2020-08-21 In the well worn debates about religious pluralism and the theology of religions there have been many different rubrics used to account for comprehend or engage with the religious other This book is chiefly a work of Christian theology and seeks to bring the doctrine of creation and the theology of religions into dialogue and in so doing it comes at things from a different direction than other works It contains an extensive exploration of the doctrine of creation and asks how it might intervene distinctively in these discourses to produce a new conceptual and practical topography It will consider inter religious engagement from the perspective of the doctrine of creatio ex nihilo that forms the dominant view in the Jewish Christian and Islamic traditions The book pays close consideration to anthropology i e creaturehood the quotidian and wisdom the idea of sabbath human action and work and vivifying the immanent through a consideration of some representative phenomenologists The book will develop these ideas in a more practical direction by considering sacraments and rituals in the public sphere as well as attempting to describe the kind of creational politics that might bring traditions into dialogue Whilst these themes challenge more conventional ways of considering relations between religions such themes because they are different from concerns commonly found in the literature can also be profitably engaged with across the spectrum of opinion i e exclusivist or pluralist etc Thus whilst the position adopted in this work is creatio ex nihilo part of the motivation is to review the ways in which this focus helps to broaden rather than limit the discussion
