Religious Dimension In The Thought Of Giambattista Vico:

The Religious Dimension in the Thought of Giambattista Vico, 1668-1744 John Milbank, 1991 The Religious Dimension in the Thought of Giambattista Vico, 1668-1744: The early metaphysics John Milbank, 1991-01 In this two volume work the author argues that the avant garde features of Giambattista Vico's thought stem directly from his engagement with theological traditions and his concern to develop a Catholic apologetic This claim is established through a thorough engagement with all Vico's texts

The Religious Dimension in the Thought of Giambattista Vico, 1668-1744: Language, law and history John Milbank, 1991 The Religious Dimension in the Thought of Giambattista Vico, 1668-1744 John Milbank, 1992

The Religious Dimension in the Thought of Giambattista Vico, 1668-1774 John Milbank, The Religious Dimension in the Thought of Giambattista Vico, 1668-1744 John Milbank, 1992 The Religious Dimension in the Thought of Giambattista Vico (1668-1744). John Milbank, 1991 Karl Barth Christiaan

Mostert, Geoff Thompson, 2001 Karl Barth A Future for Postmodern Theology What does the colon and the question mark in the title signify Does the collection colon denote relatedness or separation What is the effect of the question mark Does the interrogative question the future of Karl Barth's approach to theology make a claim for Barth as a postmodern theologian or

Between System and Poetics Thomas A.F. Kelly, 2016-04-08 This is the first book length examination of the work of an important contemporary thinker in the continental tradition William Desmond His thought is a new post modern way of articulating what he calls the between Rooted in Plato and Augustine and advancing through a confrontation with Hegel and Nietzsche Desmond rejects facile scepticism and wins through to a strikingly original and powerfully searching articulation of the human The present volume contains essays on Desmond's work both by emerging scholars and by well established thinkers It also contains a specially written essay on the practices of philosophy by Desmond himself A Companion to the Philosophy of History and Historiography Aviezer Tucker, 2011-06-28 A COMPANION TO THE PHILOSOPHY OF HISTORY AND HISTORIOGRAPHY The philosophy of historiography examines our representations and knowledge of the past the relation between evidence inference explanation and narrative Do we possess knowledge of the past Do we just have probable beliefs about the past or is historiography a piece of convincing fiction The philosophy of history is the direct philosophical examination of history whether it is necessary or contingent whether it has a direction or whether it is coincidental and if it has a direction what it is and how and why it is unfolding The fifty entries in this Companion cover the main issues in the philosophies of historiography and history including natural history and the practices of historians Written by an international and multi disciplinary group of experts these clearly written entries present a cutting edge updated picture of current research in the philosophies of historiography and history This Companion will be of interest to philosophers historians natural historians and social scientists Northrop Frye and the Poetics of Process Nella Cotrupi, 2000-12-15 Nella Cotrupi's Northrop Frye and the Poetics of Process sheds a new conceptual light on Frye successfully bringing him back into the central ring of contemporary critical thought Challenging the often dismissive view of Frye's work as closed and outdated Dr Cotrupi explores the implications of his proposition that the history of criticism may be seen as having two main approaches literature as product and literature as process In focusing on Frye's exploration of the process tradition Cotrupi sheds light on the agenda that Frye established for himself when he noted at the end of Anatomy of Criticism that the reconciliatory task of criticism was to reforge the broken link between creation and knowledge art and science myth and concept Dr Cotrupi recontextualizes Frye's thought and shows us how Frye continues to be not only relevant but central to a number of the key concerns in the contemporary critical scene Re-examining Frye's place in the history of critical thought Dr Cotrupi builds upon Frye's original vision of the process tradition and suggests further directions this exploration may take Among the current areas of critical engagement which Cotrupi examines are relativism possible world theory and postmodernism making this work of interest not only to Frye scholars but also to those interested in the debates currently rocking the world of criticism literature and culture

Postliberal Theological Method Adonis Vidu, 2007-01-01 Postliberal Theological Method is a fresh critical analysis of one of today's most influential theological movements Drawing on recent thinking in analytic philosophy particularly Donald Davidson's work on truth and meaning Vidu raises questions about the linguistic turn in the theology of Hans Frei George Lindbeck John Milbank and others

Truth in the Making Robert C. Miner, 2013-02-01 Is knowing a purely passive reception of something concrete outside the mind or when we know something are we creating something too Spanning more than 500 years of philosophical enquiry from the Middle Ages to the present day Robert Miner clarifies modern philosophical conceptions of knowing as making or constructing and contrasts this view with the theological understanding of knowing as a participation in divine creation This study demonstrates how creative knowledge has its roots in the theologies of Thomas Aquinas and Nicholas Cusanus It explores the multiple ways in which this idea influenced the architects of modern philosophy most notably Francis Bacon Ren Descartes and Thomas Hobbes despite their secular stance Miner contends that well in advance of Kant one of these thinkers Giambattista Vico provided a remarkably succinct formulation of the metaphysical and epistemological core of modernity in his principle verum et factum convertuntur the true and the made are convertible In Truth in the Making Robert Miner challenges the standard assumption that Kant was the first thinker to conceive of knowing as constructive activity and shows how contemporary theology can reclaim a concept of knowing that is both creative and participant in divine wisdom

Perspectives on Rhetorical Invention Janet Atwill, Janice M. Lauer, 2002 Rhetorical invention the discursive art of inquiry and discovery has great significance in the history of spoken and written communication dating back to the ancient Greeks and Romans Yet invention has received relatively little attention in recent discussions of rhetoric writing and communication This collection of essays is the first book in years to focus on current research in rhetorical invention The contributors include many well established scholars as well as new voices in the field They reflect a variety of approaches and perspectives theory history culture politics institutions pedagogy and community service Several of the essays address the relationship between invention and postmodernism some by refiguring invention others by challenging postmodernism Still other essays explore multicultural conceptions of invention the civic function of invention and rhetoric and the role of rhetorical invention in institutions and in community problem solving Taken together these essays provide a much needed forum for ongoing study of rhetorical invention within the framework of recent developments in both scholarship and the culture at large If inventional research is to continue and flourish notes Janice Lauer in her foreword it must remain sensitive to shifts in epistemology ethics and politics The essays in this volume undertake this effort The Editors Janet M Atwill is associate professor of English at the University of Tennessee The author of Rhetoric Reclaimed Aristotle and the Liberal Arts Tradition and coauthor of Four Worlds of Writing Inquiry and Action in Context and Writing A College Handbook she has published articles in Rhetoric Review Encyclopedia of Rhetoric and the Journal of Advanced Composition Janice M Lauer is Reece McGee Distinguished Professor of English at Purdue University where she founded directed and teaches in the graduate program in Rhetoric and Composition She is coauthor of Four Worlds of Writing and Composition Research Empirical Designs and has published numerous articles on rhetoric and composition Contributors Frederick J Antczak Janet M Atwill Julia Deems Richard Leo Enos Theresa Enos Linda Flower Debra Hawhee Janice M Lauer Donald Lazere Yameng Liu Arabella Lyon Louise Wetherbee Phelps Jay Satterfield Haixia Wang Mark T Williams

Culture in a Post-Secular Context Alan Thomson, 2014-11-27 Is culture a theologically neutral concept The contemporary experts on culture anthropologists and sociologists argue that it is Theologians and missiologists would seem to agree given the extent of their reliance on anthropological and sociological definitions of culture Yet this appears a strange reliance given that presumed neutrality in the sciences is a consistently challenged assumption It is stranger still given that so much theological energy has been expended on understanding and defining the human person in specifically theological as opposed to anthropological terms when culture is in some sense the expression of this personhood in corporate and material forms This book argues that culture is not and has never been a theologically neutral concept rather it always expresses some theological posture and is therefore a term that naturally invites theological investigation Going about this task is difficult however in the face of a long term reliance on the social sciences that seems to have starved the contemporary theological community of resources for defining culture However rich subterranean veins for such a task do exist within the recent tradition most notably in the writings of John Milbank Karl Barth and Kwame Bediako

Vico's "New Science" Donald Phillip Verene, 2016-02-11 Giambattista Vico 1668 1744 is best remembered for his major work the New Science Scienza nuova in which he sets forth the principles of humanity and gives an account of the stages common to the development of all societies in their historical life Controversial at the time of its publication in 1725 the New Science has come to be seen as the most ambitious attempt before Comte at a comprehensive science of human society and the most profound analysis of the philosophy of history prior to Hegel Despite the fundamental importance of the New Science there has been no philosophical commentary of the text in any language until now Written by the noted Vico scholar Donald Phillip Verene this commentary can be read as an introduction to Vico's thought or it can be employed as a guide to the comprehension of specific sections of the New Science Following the structure of the text scrupulously Verene offers a clear and direct discussion of the contents of each division of the New Science with close attention to the sources of Vico's thought in Greek philosophy and in Roman jurisprudence He also highlights the grounding of the New Science in Vico's other works and the opposition of Vico's views to those of the seventeenth century natural law theorists The addition of an extensive glossary of Vico's Italian terminology makes this an ideal companion to Vico's masterpiece ideal for both beginners and specialists Vico's New Science of the Intersubjective World Vittorio Hösle, 2016-11-15 Among the classics of the history of philosophy the Scienza nuova New Science by Giambattista Vico 1668-1744 was largely neglected and generally misunderstood during the author's lifetime From the nineteenth century onwards Vico's views found a wider audience and today his influence is widespread in the humanities and social sciences The New Science is often taught in courses at colleges and universities both in philosophy and Italian departments and in general humanities courses Despite the excellent English translations of this enigmatic book and numerous studies in English of Vico many sections of the work remain challenging to the modern reader Vico's New Science of the Intersubjective World offers both an in depth analysis of all the important ideas of the book and an evaluation of their contribution to our present understanding of the social world In the first chapter Vittorio Hösle examines Vico's life sources and writings The second and third chapters discuss the concerns and problems of the Scienza nuova The fourth chapter traces the broader history of Vico's reception Hösle facilitates the understanding of many passages in the work as well as the overarching structure of its claims which are often dispersed over many sections Hösle reformulates Vico's vision in such a way that it is not only of historical interest but may inspire ongoing debates about the nature of the humanities and social sciences as well as many other issues on which Vico sheds light from the relation of poetry and poetics to the development of law This book will prepare students and scholars for a precise study of the Scienza nuova equipping them with the necessary categories and context and familiarizing them with the most important problems in the critical debate on Vico's philosophy

Aquinas and Radical Orthodoxy Paul DeHart, 2012-05-23 Aquinas and Radical Orthodoxy investigates the encounter of the most vibrant and controversial trend in recent theology with the greatest Christian thinker of the Middle Ages The book describes Radical Orthodoxy's orientation and highlights those anti secular strategies and intellectual influences that have shaped its appeal to Aquinas It surveys the emergence of the particular picture of Aquinas especially associated with the leaders of Radical Orthodoxy John Milbank and his student Catherine Pickstock along with the scholarly disputes which prompted and followed that development The book then undertakes a detailed investigation of the pivotal publications on Aquinas of those two authors laying out their difficult theories in clear language carefully examining the texts of Aquinas to which they appeal and challenging their interpretations on a number of fundamental points Topics covered include analogical language and knowledge of God the role of metaphysics within theology the relation of cognition to the divine archetypes of things the possibility of human apprehension of God's essence the nature of substance and speculation on the Trinity The conclusion reflects on those elements suppressed by the Radical Orthodox reading of Aquinas their constructive philosophical and theological possibilities and the challenges they present to the Radical Orthodox project

Truth and Politics Peter Samuel Kucer, 2014-08-01 One of the perennial questions in political theology is how the concept of truth is defined and how such is grounded theologically The answer to this determines to a great degree theological engagement with and appropriations of political systems and theological accounts of political and social order Truth and Politics tackles this crucial question through an analysis and comparison of the thought of two of the most important contemporary Catholic and Protestant theologians Joseph Ratzinger Benedict XVI and John Milbank

Vico's Uncanny Humanism Sandra Rudnick Luft, 2003 Sandra Luft in her ambitious postmodernist reading of Vico's profoundly influential New Science asserts the strangeness of texts that struggle to understand human existence outside the assumptions of traditional humanism One of her central arguments is that Vico as a thinker moved toward such an alien understanding Despite his warning against the tyranny of familiar conceits his work is commonly read within the traditional philosophic assumptions of the West assumptions that she shows cannot contain nor explain the work's novelty The book includes extensive comparisons of Vico with Nietzsche Heidegger and Derrida Luft does not regard Vico as a precursor of the postmodern which she sees as a recurring perspective in the West one critical of the assumptions underlying traditional humanist conceptions of human nature and knowledge Luft finds anachronistic not the question of Vico's affinity to postmodern ideas but rather his identification with traditional humanism and modernism by modern scholars Luft's reading brings to the fore radical existential issues in New Science its concern with origins with the power of language and social practices and with its critique of human subjectivity That perspective makes Vico interesting and important for a wide circle of contemporary readers
