Dilemmas of Internationalism Dr Andrew Johnstone, 2013-06-28 Dilemmas of Internationalism is a new political history of the 1940s which charts and analyses the efforts of private internationalists to define US internationalism and promote the establishment of the United Nations Internationalists hoped that the United States would shake off the fear of entangling alliances that had characterised the nation's history replacing isolationism and unilateralism with a new involved and multilateral approach to foreign affairs During and after World War II a number of private individuals and organisations were at the forefront of the fight to change the nature of US foreign policy This book focuses in particular on the most important internationalist organisation the American Association for the United Nations AAUN known as the League of Nations Association through 1944 It situates the AAUN in the vast network of private organisations promoting an internationalist foreign policy during and after World War II and analyses the connections between the AAUN and the US government and key public figures who proposed a more internationalist foreign policy One of the most innovative aspects of Dilemmas of Internationalism is its focus on state private interaction with regard to defining internationalism Most previous works on wartime internationalism neglect considerations of state private interaction or fail to significantly develop them The study also acts as a corrective to the general neglect of state private interaction during this period turning attention away from the common focus on the Cold War to the crucial phase during and immediately after World War II Beginning with the US entry into the War this study continues through the onset of the Cold War to early 1948 ending with the passing of the Marshall Plan By 1948 the path of US internationalism appeared firmly fixed by a Cold War framework but in 1941 US entry into the Second World War offered the opportunity to develop a more multilateral approach to foreign affairs and create a more just and peaceful world This book is a much needed history of the attempt to seize that opportunity Religion Index One ,2001 Index to Book Reviews in Religion ,1999 Whitaker's Books in Print ,1998 Elenchus of Biblica ,1993

Thomas,2003-10-16 This massive reference is the key to finding the most important works on missiology published from 1960 2000 Representing the research of more than 30 sub editors in mission related disciplines including history theology social aspects education evangelism spirituality and political life and includes sections on Africa the Americas Asia Europe and Oceania Complete publication details and ISBNs are given for each entry Das Schweizer Buch ,1992 Saving the Security State Inderpal Grewal,2017-10-27 In Saving the Security State Inderpal Grewal traces the changing relations between the US state and its citizens in an era she calls advanced neoliberalism Marked by the decline of US geopolitical power endless war and increasing surveillance advanced neoliberalism militarizes everyday life while producing the exceptional citizens primarily white Christian men who reinforce the security state as they claim responsibility for protecting the country from racialized others Under advanced neoliberalism Grewal shows others in the United States strive to become exceptional by participating in humanitarian projects that compensate for the security state s inability to provide for the welfare of its citizens In her analyses of microfinance programs in the global South security moms the murders at a Sikh temple in Wisconsin and the post 9 11 crackdown on Muslim charities Grewal exposes the fissures and contradictions at the heart of the US neoliberal empire and the centrality of race gender and religion to the securitized state Mapping the Media and Communication Landscape of Central Asia Elira Turdubaeva,Evangelia Papoutsaki,2023-02-16 Central Asian post independence media and communication industries professional practices education persisting and evolving values and traditions remain critically understudied with a notable scarcity of research and scholarly publications on the complex and increasingly changing communicative ecology landscape of this region Mapping the Media and Communication Landscape of Central Asia An Anthology of Emerging and Contemporary Issues addresses this gap in literature by exploring analyzing and shedding light to the field practice research and critical inquiry of media and mass communication in four countries in Central Asia Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Kazakhstan and Uzbekistan This book includes local authors as well as new and emerging researchers from this region to contextualize the issues explored and provide a supportive dialogue between different points of view The State and Religious Minorities in Sweden Linnea Lundgren,2023-10-24 This book a revised version of Lundgren s PhD thesis offers a deepened understanding of the changes in the governance of religious diversity and the complex relationship between state and religion Linnea Lundgren explores how the narrative of risk and resource came to be by looking beyond the developments in the last few decades particularly since 9 11 and analysing how the governance of religious diversity has developed over time In particular she focuses on the case of Sweden that is often regarded as one of the most secular countries in the world while simultaneously being recognised as one of the most multi religious countries in Europe due to a rise in immigration This book reveals how the state has had a central role in setting the terms and conditions that both enable and limit what religious communities can do thus shaping the function and role of religion in the public realm Through the analysis of an extensive number of government documents over a period of seventy years 1952-2022 Lundgren challenges the idea that many of the recent controversies concerning religious diversity are new She argues that many of the discussions held today regarding the accommodation of Muslims are decidedly similar to previous discussions regarding the management of Catholics and the Free Churches in the 1950s and 1960s She shows that the underlying fear has remained the same that the individual's rights can become weakened or diminished in religious communities and that religious minorities will challenge the common shared values of the society In light of this Lundgren concludes that in order to understand what is really at stake in the debate regarding religious diversity in Sweden today there is a need to look at underlying tensions that exist between the state civil society and the individual a relationship that differs considerably in the Nordic context compared to other contexts This text appeals to students and researchers working in the sociology of religion and people who work with governance of religion religion and civil society and religion and law in Europe

Towards Convergence in International Human Rights Law

Carla M. Buckley, Alice Donald, Philip Leach, 2016-10-18 We live in an era of proliferating international legal domains and institutions not least in the human rights field For some normative pluralism within human rights is inevitable and even desirable Others view it as a threat to the integrity and coherence of international human rights protection How far do human rights standards and their interpretation by different regional and international human rights systems diverge To what extent do human rights bodies borrow from or influence each other in respect of their case law practices and procedures Is global human rights protection fragmenting or heading towards greater coherence This edited collection addresses these questions through the insights of leading scholars and jurists with first hand experience of human rights adjudication and litigation
