Jacobsen, Selva J. Raj, 2008 The South Asian Christian diaspora is largely invisible in the literature about religion and migration This is the first comprehensive study of South Asian Christians living in Europe and North America presenting the main features of these diasporas their community histories and their religious practices The authors present a great variety of Christian traditions The South Asian Christian Diaspora is pluralistic both in terms of religious adherence cultural tradition and geographical areas of origin This book gives justice to this pluralism and presents a multiplicity of cultures and traditions typical of the South Asian Christian diaspora Issues such as the institutionalization of the religious traditions in new countries identity the paradox of belonging both to a minority immigrant group and a majority religion the social functions of rituals attitudes to language generational transfer and marriage and family life are all discussed

Asian Religious Responses to Darwinism C. Mackenzie Brown, 2020-12-17 This volume brings together diverse Asian religious perspectives to address critical issues in the encounter between tradition and modern western evolutionary thought Such thought encompasses the biological theories of Charles Darwin Jean Baptiste Lamarck Earnest Haeckel Thomas Huxley and later neo Darwinians as well as the more sociological evolutionary theories of thinkers such as Herbert Spencer Pyotr Kropotkin and Henri Bergson The essays in this volume cover responses from Hindu Jain Buddhist Chinese Japanese and Indo Tibetan Confucian Daoist and Muslim traditions These responses come from the decades immediately after publication of The Origin of Species up to the present with attention being paid to earlier perspectives and teachings within a tradition that have affected responses to Darwinism and western evolutionary thought in general The book focuses on three critical issues the struggle for survival and the moral implications read into it genetic variation and its seeming randomness as related to the problems of meaning and purpose and the nature of humankind and human exceptionalism Each essay deals with one or more of the three issues within the context of a specific tradition

Christians Meeting Hindus Bob Robinson, 2011-06-16 With rare exceptions serious intentional reflective and sustained interfaith encounter is a novel and recent enterprise This book looks in detail at one such encounter the intentional recent Hindu Christian dialog in India and asks why and how the practice of dialog came to replace previous attitudes of confrontation and monologue especially on the part of Christians Part I sets the encounter in its global context Part II offers a comprehensive and critical analysis of the actual encounter Part III draws on aspects of the Christian tradition as it critically examines the ways in which the dialog has been justified in Christological categories A final chapter discusses the future of the encounter Unlike many other works in the area of interfaith studies this work combines both descriptive detail of the actual encounter and critical theological analysis of the strengths and weakness of the dialog model

Indentured Muslims in the Diaspora Maurits S. Hassankhan, Goolam Vahed, Lommarsh Roopnarine, 2016-11-10 The focus of most studies on Indian indenture has been almost exclusively on Hindu religion and culture even though an estimated seventeen percent of migrants were Muslims This book thus fills an important gap in the indentured historiography both to understand that past as well as to make sense of the present when Muslim identities are undergoing rapid changes in response to both local and global realities The book includes a chapter on the experiences of Muslim indentured immigrants of Indonesian descent who settled in Suriname Please note Taylor Francis does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka

India after the 1857 Revolt M. Christhu Doss, 2022-11-23 Weaving together the varied and complex strands of anti colonial nationalism into one compact narrative Christhu Doss takes an incisive look at the deeper and wider historical process of decolonization in India In India after the 1857 Revolt Doss brings together some of the most cutting edge thoughts by challenging the cultural project of colonialism and critically examining the multi dimensional aspects of decolonization during and after the 1857 revolt He demonstrates that the deep rooted popular discontent among the Indian masses followed by the revolt generated a distinctive form of decolonization movement redemptive nationalism that challenged both the supremacy of the British Raj and the cultural imperatives of the controversial proselytizing missionary agencies Doss argues that the quests for decolonization of mind that got triggered by the revolt were further intensified by the Indocentric national education the historic Chicago discourse of Swami Vivekananda the nonviolent anti colonial struggles of Mahatma Gandhi the seditious political activism displayed by the Western Gandhian missionary satyagrahis and the de Westernization endeavours of the sandwiched Indian Christian nationalists A compelling read for historians political scientists and sociologists it is refreshingly an indispensable guide to all those who are interested in anticolonial struggles and decolonization movements worldwide

Historicizing Secular-Religious Demarcations Monika Wohlrab-Sahr, Daniel Witte, Christoph Kleine, 2024-07-01 This volume aims to revitalize the exchange between sociological differentiation theory and the sociology of religion which previously held center stage among the sociological classics It brings together contributions from different disciplines as well as various forms of regional and historical expertise which are indispensable in forming a globally oriented sociological perspective today Secularization is understood as a process of boundary demarcation that is as the enactment of semantic practical and institutional distinctions between religion and other spheres of activity and knowledge These distinctions may emerge from within the religious field itself or may be absorbed into the field having originally emerged elsewhere They may even be directly imposed upon religion by external forces The volume is therefore based on the premise that societal differentiation and secularity as a specific expression of it is a widespread structural feature that nonetheless takes on various forms depending on its historical and cultural context In order to make this diversity visible the volume adopts a global comparative perspective and examines historical distinctions and differentiations in the West and beyond By examining different forms and modes of secularity in statu nascendi the volume contributes to developing a better understanding of the diversity of secularities even of those found in the present day in terms of their historicity and their specific path dependencies With this shift in perspective this special volume initiates a global and historical turn in the theory of differentiation as well as in the study of secularity

Law and Identity in Colonial South Asia Mitra Sharafi, 2014-04-21 This book explores the legal culture of the Parsis or Zoroastrians an ethnoreligious community unusually invested in the colonial legal system of British India and Burma Rather than trying to maintain collective autonomy and integrity by avoiding interaction with the state the Parsis sank deep into the colonial legal system itself From the late eighteenth century until India s independence in 1947 they became heavy users of colonial law acting as lawyers judges litigants lobbyists and legislators They de Anglicized the law that governed them and enshrined in law their own distinctive models of the family and community by two routes frequent intra group litigation often managed by Parsi legal professionals in the areas of marriage inheritance religious trusts and libel and the creation of legislation that would become Parsi personal law Other South Asian communities also turned to law but none seem to have done so earlier or in more pronounced ways than the Parsis South Asia ,2006 The Political Economy of NGOs Jude L. Fernando,2011-07-08 This book explores the paradoxical relationship between NGOs and capitalism showing that supposedly progressive organisations often promote essentially the same policies and ideas as existing governments It examines how a diverse group of NGOs have shaped state formation in Bangladesh and Sri Lanka It argues that rather than influencing state formation for the better NGOs have been integrated into the capitalist system and their language adopted to give traditional exploitative social relations a transformative appearance This enlightening study will give pause to those who see NGOs as drivers of true social change and will encourage students of development studies to make a deeper analysis of state formation Religion and Society in Sub-Saharan Africa and Southern Asia Carole Rakodi,2019-03-18 This book analyses how religion is entangled in people s lives in Sub Saharan Africa and southern Asia It provides an introduction to the teachings practices and values promoted by the main religious traditions in these regions and an overview of the evidence on what religion means to people in terms of their beliefs and religious practices and how it influences their values attitudes and day to day relationships with others especially their families Over the course of the book Carole Rakodi explores similarities and differences between and within religious traditions and identifies some of the key factors that influence and explain the roles played by religion in people s personal lives and social relationships A separate companion volume will go on to focus on the social and political roles and relationships of religious groups and organisations This book will be of great interest to academics and students working in a range of disciplines especially sociology religious studies and development studies but also anthropology geography and area studies Shared Characters in Jain, Buddhist and Hindu Narrative Naomi Appleton,2016-11-25 Taking a comparative approach which considers characters that are shared across the narrative traditions of early Indian religions Brahmanical Hinduism Jainism and Buddhism Shared Characters in Jain Buddhist and Hindu Narrative explores key religious and social ideals as well as points of contact dialogue and contention between different worldviews The book focuses on three types of character gods heroes and kings that are of particular importance to early South Asian narrative traditions because of their relevance to the concerns of the day such as the role of deities the qualities of a true hero or good ruler and the tension between worldly responsibilities and the pursuit of liberation Characters including character roles and lineages of characters that are shared between traditions reveal both a common narrative heritage and important differences in worldview and ideology that are developed in interaction with other worldviews and ideologies of the day As such this study sheds light on an important period of Indian religious history and will be essential reading for scholars and postgraduate students working on early South Asian religious or narrative traditions Jain Buddhist and Hindu as well as being of interest
