African Appropriations Matthias Krings, 2015-07-20 This exploration of African adaptations of global pop culture is a genuinely innovative book, unlike most others in either anthropology or African studies. American Ethnologist Why would a Hollywood film become a Nigerian video remake, a Tanzanian comic book, or a Congolese music video? Matthias Krings explores the myriad ways Africans respond to the relentless onslaught of global culture. He seeks out places where they have adapted pervasive cultural forms to their own purposes: as photo novels, comic books, songs, posters, and even scam letters. These African appropriations reveal the broad scope of cultural mediation that is characteristic of our hyperlinked age. Krings argues that there is no longer an original or faithful copy, but only endless transformations that thrive in the fertile ground of African popular culture. The text is jargon-free, a pleasure to read, remarkably well researched, and enriched by 40 illustrations. Highly recommended. Choice

To Free a Family Sydney Nathans, 2013-11-18 To Free a Family tells the remarkable story of Mary Walker, who in August 1848 fled her owner for refuge in the North and spent the next seventeen years trying to recover her son and daughter. Her freedom, like that of thousands who escaped from bondage, came at a great price: remorse at parting without a word, fear for her family's fate.

Bernard of Clairvaux Anthony N.S. Lane, 2013-01-25 This book offers a complete study of the doctrine of the cross in the writings of Saint Bernard of Clairvaux. Until now, this theologically rich topic has not received the attention it calls for. Anthony Lane analyzes and expounds the doctrine of the cross based on the nearly seven hundred references to the cross in Bernard's writings. Among the important topics the author explores are Bernard's letter against Abelard, a work of central significance for this topic; the usward aspect of Christ's work; its subjective influence on us; and the Godward aspect, the way in which the cross puts us right with God; objections to this teaching posed by Abelard and others; ways in which Bernard
