Aboriginal America Jacob Abbott,2009-04-01 It is the design of this work to narrate in a clear simple and intelligible manner the leading events connected with the history of our country from the earliest periods down as nearly as practicable to the present time The work is intended to comprise in a distinct and connected narrative all that it is essential for the general reader to understand in respect to the subject of it while for those who have time for more extended studies it may serve as an introduction to other and more copious sources of information The author hopes also that the work may be found useful to the young in awakening in their minds an interest in the history of their country and a desire for further instruction in respect to it While it is doubtless true that such a subject can be really grasped only by minds in some degree mature still the author believes that many young persons especially such as are intelligent and thoughtful in disposition and character may derive both entertainment and instruction from a perusal of these pages
