International Who's Who in Poetry 2004 Europa Publications,2003 Provides up to date profiles on the careers of leading and emerging poets Contemporary Australian Literature Nicholas Birns,2015-12-01 Australia has been seen as a land of both punishment and refuge Australian literature has explored these controlling alternatives and vividly rendered the landscape on which they transpire Twentieth century writers left Australia to see the world now Australia s distance no longer provides sanctuary But today the global perspective has arrived with a vengeance In Contemporary Australian Literature A World Not Yet Dead Nicholas Birns tells the story of how novelists poets and critics from Patrick White to Hannah Kent from Alexis Wright to Christos Tsiolkas responded to this condition With rancour concern and idealism modern Australian literature conveys a tragic sense of the past yet an abiding vision of the way forward Birns paints a vivid picture of a rich Australian literary voice one not lost to the churning of global markets but in fact given new life by it Contrary to the despairing of the critics Australian literary identity continues to flourish And as Birns finds it is not one thing but many In this remarkable bold and fearless book Nicholas Birns contests how literary cultures are read how they are constituted and what they stand for In examining the nature of the barriers between public and private utterance and looking outside the absurdity of the rules of genre Birns has produced a redemptive analysis that leaves hope for revivifying a world not yet dead John Kinsella The Novel and Europe Andrew Hammond,2016-10-05 This book examines the ways in which fiction has addressed the continent since the Second World War Drawing on novelists from Europe and elsewhere the volume analyzes the literary response to seven dominant concerns ideas of Europe conflict borders empire unification migration and marginalization offering a ground breaking study of how modern and contemporary writers have participated in the European debate The sixteen essays view the chosen writers not as representatives of national literatures but as participants in transcontinental discussion that has occurred across borders cultures and languages In doing so the contributors raise questions about the forms of power operating across and radiating from Europe challenging both the institutionalized divisions of the Cold War and the triumphalist narrative of continental unity currently being written in Brussels      The Language of Postcolonial Literatures Ismail S. Talib, 2002 Exploring literatures from a range of countries this book provides a comprehensive introduction to some of the central features of language in a wide variety of postcolonial texts

Global English, Transnational Flows Katherine E. School Evangel, 1905      Cultural Studies Review Chris Healy and Stephen Muecke (eds), 2009-03-01 This edition of Cultural Studies Review brings together a diverse set of essays and new writing that identify particular national tendencies notions of family epistemological worries about postmodernity's represented purpose and queries about cultural studies as it is taught and as it could be understood There is also some careful exploring of where and why we might be at home in our differences and what a felt homelessness might be To gather these varied strands beneath the heading Homefronts acknowledges as always the plurality of the environments that we call home and the battles of representation and being that make up the experiences of nation family philosophy and academic discipline that render those sites particular and so personal to us      Cultural Complexes in Australia Thomas Singer, 2023-12-29 Cultural Complexes in Australia Placing Psyche is the first in a series of books that will explore the notion of cultural complexes in a variety of settings around the world The continent of Australia is the focus of this inaugural volume in which the contributors elucidate how the unique geography and peoples of Australia interact and interpenetrate to create the particular mindscapes of the Australian psyche While the cultural complexes of Australia are explored with a keen eye to the specificity of place history context and content at the same time it becomes obvious that these cultural complexes emerge out of an archetypal background that is not just Australian but global This volume shows how cultural complex theory itself mediates between the particularity of place and the universality of archetypal patterns Poets & Writers, 1996 Antipodean Antiquities Marguerite Johnson, 2019-03-21 Leading and emerging early career scholars in Classical Reception Studies come together in this volume to explore the under represented area of the Australasian Classical Tradition They interrogate the interactions between Mediterranean Antiquity and the antipodean worlds of New Zealand and Australia through the lenses of literature film theatre and fine art Of interest to scholars across the globe who research the influence of antiquity on modern literature film theatre and fine art this volume fills a decisive gap in the literature by bringing antipodean research into the spotlight Following a contextual introduction to the field the six parts of the volume explore the latest research on subjects that range from the Lord of the Rings and Xena Warrior Princess franchises to important artists such as Sidney Nolan and local authors whose work offers opportunities for cross cultural and interdisciplinary analysis with well known Western authors and artists

Supplanting the Postmodern David Rudrum, Nicholas Stavris, 2015-09-24 For more than a decade now a steadily growing chorus of voices has announced that the postmodern literature art thought and culture of the late 20th century have come to an end At the same time as this the early years of the 21st century have seen a stream of critical formulations proclaiming a successor to postmodernism Intriguing and exciting new terms such as remodernism performatism hypermodernism automodernism renewalism altermodernism digimodernism and metamodernism have been coined proposed and debated as terms for what comes after the postmodern Supplanting the Postmodern is the first anthology to collect the key writings in these debates in one place The book is divided into two parts the first The Sense of an Ending presents a range of positions in the debate around the demise of the postmodern the second Coming to Terms with the New presents representative writings from the new isms mentioned above Each of the entries is prefaced by a brief introduction by the editors in which they outline its central ideas point out the similarities and or differences from other positions found in the anthology and suggest possible strengths and limitations to the insights presented in each piece Australian Literature Graham Huggan, 2007-09-27 The Oxford Studies in Postcolonial Literatures series offers stimulating and accessible introductions to definitive topics and key genres and regions within the rapidly diversifying field of postcolonial literary studies in English In a provocative contribution to the series Graham Huggan presents fresh readings of an outstanding sometimes deeply unsettling national literature whose writers and readers just as unmistakably belong to the wider world Australian literature is not the unique province of Australian readers and critics nor is its exclusive task to provide an internal commentary on changing national concerns Huggan's book adopts a transnational approach motivated by postcolonial interests in which contemporary ideas taken from postcolonial criticism and critical race theory are productively combined and imaginatively transformed Rejecting the fashionable view that Australia is not and never will be postcolonial Huggan argues on the contrary that Australian literature like other settler literatures requires close attention to postcolonial methods and concerns A postcolonial approach to Australian literature he suggests is more than just a case for a more inclusive nationalism it also involves a general acknowledgement of the nation's changed relationship to an increasingly globalized world As such the book helps to deprovincialize Australian literary studies Australian Literature also contributes to debates about the continuing history of racism in Australia a history in which the nation's literature has played a constitutive role as both product and producer of racial tensions and anxieties nowhere more visible than in the discourse it has produced about race both within and beyond the national context
