N.Y., Holt, Rinehart and Winston Gene Adam Brucker,      From Near and Far Tyler Stovall, 2022-12 From Near and Far relates the history of modern France from the French Revolution to the present Noted historian Tyler Stovall considers how the history of France

interacts with both the broader history of the world and the local histories of French communities examining the impacts of Karl Marx Ho Chi Minh Paul Gauguin and Josephine Baker alongside the rise of haute couture and the contemporary role of hip hop From Near and Far focuses on the interactions between France and three other parts of the world Europe the United States and the French colonial empire Taking this transnational approach to the history of modern France Stovall shows how the theme of universalism so central to modern French culture has manifested itself in different ways over the last few centuries Moreover it emphasizes the importance of narrative to French history that historians tell the story of a nation and a people by bringing together a multitude of stories and tales that often go well beyond its boundaries In telling these stories From Near and Far gives the reader a vision of France both global and local at the same time Living on the Edge in

Leonardo's Florence Gene Brucker, 2005-03-14 These essays on Renaissance Florence are a tonic to read as we watch one of the great historians of the period take hold of major questions with never less than a keen intelligence and a masterly imagination Lauro Martines author of April Blood Florence and the Plot against the Medici 2003 and Strong Words Writing and Social Strain in the Italian Renaissance 2001 These thoughtful essays illuminate the precarious quality of life during the Italian Renaissance They remind us of the social and personal struggles that gave birth to the period's impressive achievements William J Connell Professor of History and La Motta Chair in Italian Studies Seton Hall University editor of Society and Individual in Renaissance Florence Vico, Hegel and the Making of Modern Italy Alessandro De Arcangelis, 2025-06-26 Embracing a transnational approach to 19th century Italian intellectual history this book examines the encounter and amalgamation of local and foreign philosophical traditions chiefly represented by the thought of Giambattista Vico and Georg Wilhelm Friedrich Hegel showcasing their contribution to shaping a historical mindset that guided and legitimised Italians experiences of political change Taking a revisionist stance the author challenges the prevailing view that Italian thinkers passively adopted foreign ideas Instead they engaged critically with them questioning their conceptual foundations and applicability to Italy's political landscape Vico Hegel and the Making of Modern Italy reveals that Italian intellectuals sought cultural and political renewal at both local and European levels not through assimilation but through steadfast allegiance to a local strand of political thought inspired by Vico's humanist historicism The book ultimately explores how philosophical thought empowered Italian intellectuals to navigate the uncertainties drama and energy of the Risorgimento underscoring the enduring significance of philosophical knowledge in shaping Italy's political trajectory

Florence in the Early Modern World Nicholas Scott Baker, Brian J. Maxson, 2019-06-20 Florence in the Early Modern World offers new perspectives on this important city by exploring the broader global context of the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries within which the experience of Florence remains unique By exploring the city's relationship to its close and distant neighbours this collection of interdisciplinary essays reveals the transnational history of Florence The chapters orient the lenses of the most recent historiographical turns perfected in studies on Venice Rome Bologna Naples and elsewhere towards

Florence New techniques such as digital mapping alongside new comparisons of architectural theory and merchants in Eurasia provide the latest perspectives about Florence's cultural and political importance before during and after the Renaissance From Florentine merchants in Egypt and India through actual and idealized military ambitions in the sixteenth century Mediterranean to Tuscan humanists in late medieval England the contributors to this interdisciplinary volume reveal the connections Florence held to early modern cities across the globe This book steers away from the historical narrative of an insular Renaissance Europe and instead identifies the significance of other global influences By using Florence as a case study to trace these connections this volume of essays provides essential reading for students and scholars of early modern cities and the Renaissance

Itineraries and Languages of Madness in the Early Modern World Mariana Labarca, 2021-07-05 Drawing on a wide range of sources including interdiction procedures records of criminal justice documentation from mental hospitals and medical literature this book provides a comprehensive study of the spaces in which madness was recorded in Tuscany during the eighteenth century It proposes the notion of itineraries of madness which intended as an heuristic device enables us to examine records of madness across the different spaces where it was disclosed casting light on the connections between how madness was understood and experienced the language employed to describe it and public and private responses devised to cope with it Placing the emotional experience of the Tuscan families at the core of its analysis this book stresses the central role of families in the shaping of new understandings of madness and how lay notions interacted with legal and medical knowledge It argues that perceptions of madness in the eighteenth century were closely connected to new cultural concerns regarding family relationships and family roles which resulted in a shift in the meanings of and attitudes to mental disturbances years between 1400 and 1700 represented a discrete cohesive and important period in Jewish history. Given the significant demographic shifts that began just before and ended just after this period, remarkable changes occurred in the history and experiences of Jews around the world. This volume begins with a broad context of Jewish experiences under medieval Christianity and Islam. It then turns to the early modern period, first providing an overview of Jewish demography and settlement. Next, the nature and structure of Jewish community and social structures in the early modern period are explored. In the final two chapters, this book presents a broad overview of Jewish religious and cultural life and Jewish relations with non-Jews throughout the early modern period.

Publisher: Liberty, Irreverence, and the Place of Women in Early Modern Italian Culture: Essays in Honour of Letizia Panizza Stephen Clucas, Simone Testa, 2025-01-08

This book brings together essays from a range of disciplines within Early Modern Italian Studies which focus on research areas pioneered by the prestigious Italianist Letizia Panizza. The essays cover numerous themes mirroring Panizza's broad scholarly interests and refusal of artificial disciplinary separations. Contributions come from the fields of women's history, cultural history, intellectual history, political philosophy, and art history. They span from Giordano Bruno and the Renaissance interest in the lives of classical philosophers to the poetry of women in the Italian academies, representations of women in Ludovico Ariosto's Orlando Furioso and the poetry of Piero de' Medici. The volume ends with essays on religious parody, libertinism, and controversial political writings. This book presents original new work by leading scholars in the intellectual, cultural, and literary history of early modern Italy and is aimed at scholars of intellectual history, history of philosophy, literary history, women's studies, and Italian history.

The Modern World, from Charlemagne to the Present Time Willis Mason West, 1915

The Venetian Discovery of America Elizabeth Horodowich, 2018-09-06

Few Renaissance Venetians saw the New World with their own eyes. As the print capital of early modern Europe, however, Venice developed a unique relationship to the Americas. Venetian editors, mapmakers, translators, writers, and cosmographers represented the New World at times as a place that the city's mariners had discovered before the Spanish, a world linked to Marco Polo's China, or another version of Venice, especially in the case of Tenochtitlan. Elizabeth Horodowich explores these various and distinctive modes of imagining the New World, including Venetian rhetorics of firstness, similitude, othering, comparison, and simultaneity generated through forms of textual and visual pastiche that linked the wider world to the Venetian lagoon. These wide-ranging stances allowed Venetians to argue for their different but equivalent participation in the Age of Encounters. Whereas historians have traditionally focused on the Spanish conquest and colonization of the New World and the Dutch and English mapping of it, they have ignored the wide circulation of Venetian Americana. Horodowich demonstrates how, with their printed texts and maps, Venetian newsmongers embraced a fertile tension between the distant and the close. In doing so, they played a crucial yet heretofore unrecognized role in the invention of America.

Plague in the Early Modern World Dean Phillip Bell, 2019-01-08
