Rene Leys:

Rene Leys Victor Segalen, 1988-12-19 In this entrancing story of spiritual adventure a Westerner in Peking seeks the mystery at the heart of the Forbidden City He takes as a tutor in Chinese the young Belgian Ren Leys who claims to be in the know about strange goings on in the Imperial Palace love affairs family quarrels conspiracies that threaten the very existence of the empire But whether truth teller or trickster the elusive and ever charming Ren presents his increasingly dazzled disciple with a visionary glimpse of an essential palace built upon the most magnificent foundations Rene Leys. Victor Segalen, 1982-01 René Leys Victor Segalen, 1922 From Occupation to Revolution Yvonne Ying Hsieh, 1996

Professor Hsieh attempts to identify which aspects of the complex entity called China each writer chose to present while probing the personal and ideological reasons that gave rise to such a choice The authors writings are also examined against the backdrop of Chinese culture and history including contemporary Chinese literature The Modernist Traveler

Kimberley J. Healey, 2003-01-01 The Modernist Traveler considers figures whose writing about travel rebelled against a literary tradition of exoticism adventure stories and novelistic travelogues Instead these writers initiated a modernist strain in travel writing and a shift in the literary establishment and the culture at large Kimberley J Healey focuses on those French writers and thinkers who traveled in order to experience a displacement of both the inner self and the physical body while writing against the prevalent tradition of travel literature The modern self modern time colonial spaces and the physical body are Healey s concerns as she reads works by Victor Segalen Paul Morand Blaise Cendrars Henri Michaux Saint John Perse Guillaume Apollinaire Paul Nizan Albert Londres Andre Malraux Val ry Larbaud and Isabelle Eberhardt This book shows how in the field of French literature these texts about travel best capture the modernist experience of being alone in a world of new technologies cultural diversity and anxiety about the self Orientalism and Reverse Orientalism in Literature

Victor Segalen and the Aesthetics of Diversity Charles Forsdick, 2000-11-09 From his premature death in 1919 until the final decades of the twentieth century the French traveller author and naval doctor Victor Segalen remained relatively obscure his extensive work on exoticism largely unavailable With the appearance of the Complete Works in 1995 the dramatic scope and wide ranging implications of his reflections on diversity were at last fully apparent Segalen's understanding of the exotic is radically different from that of his colonial contemporaries His exoticism or Aesthetics of Diversity focuses on the instability of contact between different cultures and represents a unique response to the decline of diversity triggered by colonialism and Westernization Recent attention to Segalen in a variety of fields post modern sociology post colonialism literary criticism anthropology indicates his role as a precursory theorist of the exotic whose work is of increasing contemporary relevance At a moment when exoticism is rapidly emerging as a term of critical currency this study of the genesis of Segalen's aesthetics is a timely contribution to work in this area

Literature and Geography Emmanuelle Peraldo, 2016-01-14 In a period marked by the Spatial Turn time is not the main category of analysis any longer Space is It is now considered as a central metaphor and topos in literature and literary criticism has seized space as a new tool Similarly literature turns out to be an ideal field for geography This book examines the cross fertilization of geography and literature as disciplines languages and methodologies In the past two decades several methods of analysis focusing on the relationship and interconnectedness between literature and geography have flourished Literary cartography literary geography and geocriticism Westphal 2007 and Tally 2011 have their specificities but they all agree upon the omnipresence of space place and mapping at the core of analysis Other approaches like ecocriticism Buell 2001 and Garrard 2004 geopoetics White 1994 geography of literature Moretti 2000 studies of the inserted map Ljunberg 2012 and Pristnall and Cooper 2011 and narrative cartography have likewise drawn attention to space Literature and

Geography The Writing of Space Throughout History following an international conference in Lyon bringing together literary academics geographers cartographers and architects in order to discuss literature and geography as two practices of space shows that literature along with geography is perfectly valid to account for space Suggestions are offered here from all disciplines on how to take into account representations and discourses since texts including literary ones have become increasingly present in the analysis of geographers

The Glamour of Strangeness Jamie James,2016-08-09 From the early days of steamship travel artists stifled by the culture of their homelands fled to islands jungles and deserts in search of new creative and emotional frontiers Their flight inspired a unique body of work that doesn't fit squarely within the Western canon yet may be some of the most original statements we have about the range and depth of the artistic imagination Focusing on six principal subjects Jamie James locates a lost national school of artists who left their homes for the unknown There is Walter Spies the devastatingly handsome German painter who remade his life in Bali Raden Saleh the Javanese painter who found fame in Europe Isabelle Eberhardt a Russian Swiss writer who roamed the Sahara dressed as an Arab man the American experimental filmmaker Maya Deren who went to Haiti and became a committed follower of voodoo From France Paul Gauguin left for Tahiti and Victor Segalen a naval doctor poet and novelist immersed himself in classical Chinese civilization in imperial Peking In The Glamour of Strangeness James evokes these extraordinary lives in portraits that bring the transcultural artist into sharp relief Drawing on his own career as a travel writer and years of archival research uncovering previously unpublished letters and journals James creates a penetrating study of the powerful connection between art and the exotic

Debating World Literature Christopher Prendergast,2020-05-05 In the continuing debates about the cultural dimensions of globalization the question of literature has been something of a poor relation This volume seeks to redress the balance It takes as its starting point Goethe's idea of Weltliteratur from which it then travels out to various parts of the globe at different historical junctures Among its many concerns are the legacies of Goethe's idea variable understandings of the term literature itself cross cultural encounters the nature of small literatures and the cultural politics of literary genres With contributions from many of the leading voices in the field Debating World Literature seeks to transcend the pieties and simplifications of polemic in a search for the complexity embodied in the linking of the two terms world and literature

Avant-garde Orientalism David LeHardy Sweet,2017-01-20 This study explores the work of Western avant garde writers who traveled to and wrote about Asia and

North Africa Though exoticist in outlook many of these writers were also anti colonialist and thus avoided some of the pitfalls of academic orientalism by assuming an aesthetics of diversity while employing strategies of provocation and reciprocity As a survey of works on travel including essays novels poems and plays the book challenges or modifies many postcolonial assumptions about Western writers on the Orient from the French Surrealists to the American Beats and even transnational authors of the new millennium Through a synthesis of avant garde postcolonial and travel literature theories Avant garde Orientalism works in the best tradition of comparative literary study to identify and analyze a distinct category of world literature Bibliothèque de la Revue de littérature comparée, 1927 Exotic Memories Chris Bongie, 1991-05-01 This book focuses on the literature of exoticism at the turn of the last century and how it foreshadows our own fin de siècle Earlier writers of exoticism had turned away from the West and its modernity rejecting the social changes caused by industrialization and displacing onto savage or primitive cultures their aspirations for political freedom By the turn of the century however European nations had reduced vast areas of the globe to colonial status this global exportation of Western cultural norms and economic systems had a critical effect on the literature of exoticism In concentrating on writers from the age of the New Imperialism 1880 1920 this book reveals an important contradiction at the heart of the exoticist impulse the very expansion that enabled European writers to go in search of exotic Others ensured the eventual disappearance of the exotic Turn of the century writers of exoticism thus give voice to a deep nostalgia both for the values supposedly lost to the West in its process of modernization and for those once exotic places in which they found with increasing disappointment not pristine innocence but merely the traces of their own culture The author concentrates on four writers Jules Verne Pierre Loti Victor Segalen and Joseph Conrad although he touches on a number of other writers and even painters like Paul Gauguin The works of these four writers foreground attitudes and assumptions useful for understanding a wide array of phenomena an examination of these works shows how nostalgia for a cultural Other was built into the intellectual configuration of modernism throws light on the early history of anthropology and helps us understand features of our own cultural formation that are becoming increasingly important in today's global village Making an explicit link between turn of the century exoticism and the present day the book concludes with a critical assessment of Pier Paolo Pasolini's neo exoticist attachment to a supposedly revolutionary Third World in his poetry and literary criticism The book's critical stance is noteworthy drawing its basic assumptions from pensiero debole the weak thought of the contemporary Italian philosopher Gianni Vattimo whose poststructuralist theories are only now becoming known in the United States Weak thought seeks to supersede outmoded metaphysical categories of thought not by replacing them with something new but by an elegaic recollective and rhetorical dwelling within those categories The author also makes creative use of narrative theory and draws on the recent new historicism reading literary texts to excellent effect against the historical events that made them possible
