Renegade Love:

Love's Sacrifice John Ford, 2002 A T Moore's thorough commentary on Love's Sacrifice is designed to be of use to all kinds of readers from students of Early Modern drama to specialists in the field. The notes provide full explanations of obscure words and phrases and offer analyses of many aspects of staging and interpretation. The text for this edition is based on a fresh study of the quarto of 1633, the only authoritative early text. In his introduction to the play, Moore reappraises the evidence for the play's date of composition. He also looks at the circumstances of the play's genesis, presenting detailed discussions of both the theater where Love's Sacrifice was first performed and the acting company for which it was written. Arguing that Ford's adaptation of his source materials is the key to interpreting this remarkably allusive play, Moore provides a wealth of new information about Ford's sources. The introduction also includes a survey of critical responses, an overview of the play's stage history, and a bibliography of relevant secondary material. This new volume in the Revels Plays series is the most detailed and comprehensive edition of Love's Sacrifice ever published and the first modern spelling edition of Ford's tragedy in more than a century. The play's textual history is discussed in an appendix. A second appendix examines possible links between Love's Sacrifice and the real-life story of the murdered Italian prince and musician Carlo Gesualdo. Cancer and Young Adult Literature Stephen M. Zimmerly, 2024-12-20 This collection specifically and solely focuses on Young Adult literature texts where cancer plays a prominent role, including widely read texts like John Green's The Fault in Our Stars, Nicholas Sparks' A Walk to Remember, and Jesse Andrews' Me and Earl and the Dying Girl. The chapters present a variety of arguments, each developing a novel investigation into how these stories explore the effects cancer has on a person, a family, or on a relationship. As scientific studies continue to develop new understandings of the biology behind cancer and new sociological studies continue to uncover how a cancer diagnosis impacts the fabric of our culture, these collected essays continue to investigate how authors have woven cancer into the stories we write for young people. A number of distinct avenues are taken here, arguing for new approaches in crafting narrative, deeper appreciation for family support networks, or their absence, and what literary criticism can uncover when applied to cancer narratives. A Renegade's Guide to God David Foster, 2012-02-01 Dynamic speaker and author Foster leads Christians to an untamed, unpredictable relationship with the ultimate renegade of all time, Jesus. Courtly Love Undressed E. Jane Burns, 2014-07-09 Clothing was used in the Middle Ages to mark religious, military, and chivalric orders; lepers and prostitutes. The ostentatious display of luxury dress more specifically served as a means of self-definition for members of the ruling elite and the courtly lovers among them. In Courtly Love Undressed, E. Jane Burns unfolds the rich display of costly garments worn by amorous partners in literary texts and other cultural documents in the French High Middle Ages. Burns reads through clothes in lyric romance and didactic literary works, vernacular sermons, and sumptuary laws to show how courtly attire is used to negotiate desire, sexuality, and symbolic space, as well as social class. Reading through clothes reveals that the expression of female desire so often effaced in courtly lyric and romance can be registered in the poetic deployment of fabric and adornment and that gender is often configured along a sartorial continuum rather than in terms of naturally derived categories of woman and man The symbolic identification of the court itself as a hybrid crossing place between Europe and the East also emerges through Burns's reading of literary allusions to the trade travel and pilgrimage that brought luxury cloth to France
