Representation and Reality Hilary Putnam, 1988 The author one of the first philosophers to advance the notion that the computer is an apt model for the mind takes a radical view of his own theory of functionalism in this book On Truth and the Representation of Reality Dan Neshet, 2002 In On Truth and the Representation of Reality Dan Neshet develops a new theory of truth in the framework of pragmatist theory of representation Using the pragmatist theory of perception for the basis of his epistemological explanation of our confrontation with external Reality and how it is represented Neshet shows that in our perceptual operations we quasi prove the truth of our perceptual judgments Representation and Reality Hilary Putnam, 1999 Mimesis Erich Auerbach, Edward W. Said, 2013-10-06 The classic book that has taught generations how to read Western literature More than half a century after its translation into English Erich Auerbach's Mimesis remains a masterpiece of literary criticism A brilliant display of erudition wit and wisdom his exploration of how great European writers from Homer to Virginia Woolf depict reality has taught generations how to read Western literature A German Jew who was forced out of his professorship at the University of Marburg in 1935 Auerbach left for Turkey where he taught in Istanbul There he wrote Mimesis publishing it in German after the war Displaced as he was Auerbach produced a work of great erudition that contains no footnotes basing his arguments instead on searching illuminating readings of key passages from his primary texts His aim was to show how from antiquity to modernity literature progresses toward ever more naturalistic and democratic forms of representation Ranging over works in Greek Latin Spanish French Italian German and English Auerbach uses his remarkable skills in philology and comparative literature to present an optimistic view of Western history and culture and to refute any narrow form of nationalism or chauvinism This expanded Princeton Classics edition of Mimesis includes a substantial introduction by Edward Said as well as an essay in which Auerbach responds to his critics Godel, Putnam, and Functionalism Jeff Buechner, 2007-09-21 The first systematic examination of Hilary Putnam's arguments against computational functionalism challenges each of Putnam's main arguments Representing Reality Bill Nichols, 1991 This book offers a conceptual overview of documentary filmmaking practice It addresses numerous social issues and how they are presented to the viewer by means of style rhetoric and narrative technique The volume poses questions about the relationship of the documentary tradition to power the body authority knowledge and our experience of history This study advances the pioneering work of Nichols's earlier book Ideology and the Image The rigorous discussion of modes of documentary representation the relationship between narrative and nonfiction and the representation of the body including a chapter on pornography ethnography and power give this book enormous value for the study of visual anthropology and ethnographic film The often neglected relationship between signifier and referent is the special focus of this intensive study of documentary film The concluding discussion of the representation of the body will also be of special interest to semioticians Realism and 'reality' in Film and Media Anne Jerslev, 2002 The 2002 theme of Northern Lights is dedicated

Representation as a substitute and ideology Lutendo Nendauni,2016-11-25 Essay from the year 2016 in the subject Philosophy Practical Ethics Aesthetics Culture Nature Right University of Venda language English abstract This essay seeks to critically discuss the concept of representation in media discipline as well as to examine how different media scholars view the concept of representation Representation is simply the act of imitation or the act of identification people identify themselves by means of their mimetic ability when they see themselves in others and perceive a state of mutual equality Representation of reality may refer to simile similarity and symbolization of the world when we take it as a transformation of myth The idea of representation at its simple level involves our understanding for the action of representation and how we define that act This essay details media representation of reality as outlined by key theorists and their theories in the classical age and it further explains representation as a substitute and also as ideology Classical age refers to the antique period before the birth of Jesus Christ Key philosophers during this period included people such as Plato who is the ancient Greek philosopher Aristotle who is also a Greek philosopher and he was Plato s student Saint Thomas Aquinas who is a theologian from Italy Galileo Galilei an Italian physician astronomy and philosopher and last but not least Francis Bacon who is an English philosopher and leader of scientific revolution I will critically do an in depth analysis discuss representation as outlined by this philosophers and I will also distinguish representation as a substitute and ideology

Pickering, 2002-03-11 Durkheim's sociological thought is based on the premise that the world cannot be known as a thing in itself but only through representations rough approximations of the world created either individually or collectively This set of papers by leading Durkheimians from Britain America and continental Europe is the first concentrated attempt to understand what he meant by representations how his understanding of the term was influenced by Kant and by neo Kantians like Charles Renouvier and how his use of the concept in his work developed over time By arguing that his use of representations at the core of Durkheim's sociological thought this book makes a unique contribution to Durkheimian studies which have recently been dominated by positivist and functionalist interpretations and reveals a thinker very much in tune with contemporary developments in philosophy linguistics and sociology
