Reform in the House of Commons Michael Jogerst,2021-10-21 One of the most significant changes in the British House of Commons has been the development in 1979 of a system of select committees charged with monitoring government ministries Unlike previous experiments in parliamentary reform these committees are staffed exclusively with backbench MPs who regularly review executive policies and offer recommendations Michael Jogerst reappraises the relationship between the executive and legislative branches in light of these new circumstances which are likely to affect the entire governmental structure of the United Kingdom Senate Ethics Manual United States. Congress. Senate. Select Committee on Ethics,2000 The Good Representative Suzanne Dovi,2012-06-18 In The Good Representative Suzanne Dovi argues that democratic citizens should assess their representatives by their display of three virtues they must be fair minded build critical trust and be good gatekeepers This important book provides standards for evaluating the democratic credentials of representatives Identifies the problems with and obstacles to good democratic representation Argues that democratic representation even good democratic representation is not always desirable Timely and original this book rejects the tendency to equate respect for the preferences of citizens with neutrality on the standards used in choosing their representatives Drawing the Line Alan Rosenthal,1996 Legislative bodies have rarely been held in as low esteem as they are today in part because the integrity of members and of the process is under severe challenge Legislatures have responded to criticism from the media and the public with law and regulation but they have yet to take ethics seriously enough Ethical World of British MPs Maureen Mancuso,1995 A much longer treatment than many would have thought possible of the ethical standards of members of the British Parliament Based on personal interviews with over 100 MPs finds four ethical types puritans who stake out moral territory servants who advocate for their constituency muddlers who do not care and entrepreneurs who use their position for any personal gain not explicitly prohibited Muses over whether the situation should or could be changed Canadian call number C94 900910 5 Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR
